Judge Thomas H. Crawford of La-Grande, Oregon.

Who has consented to the desire of his many friends all over the state of Oregon to become a candidate as delegate at large to the Democratic National Convention. Judge Crawford has served with honor upon the circuit bench of the judicial district where he resides and has always been a strong representative of the Democratic party in Eastern Oregon. At the last election he consented that his name be used as a candidate for the Supreme Bench and the judge polled a vote far ahead of his ticket. Judge Crawford is widely known over the state of Oregon as an able lawyer and jurist. His many friends are desirous of complimenting an active political career by electing him to this position. Judge Crawford and J. K. Weatherford of this city were students at the Oregon Agricultural College together and have been lifelong friends.

Her Folks Struck New York in 1635 Stayed on the Job.

Matthews, of this city and Windham, Miss Schermerhorn is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Egmont Schermerhorn, and the granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Amos Cotting. GERMAN CLOCKS SET AHEAD.

Everything Then Will Be an Hour Earlier, an Inharmonious Arrangement.

(By United Press)

Washington, May 1.—Whether the example of the German government, which set all clocks in the Empire ahead one hour today, could be followed in this country to good advantage, is doubted.

It seems impossible that there can be harmony in time relations between nations, when, as in the case of Germany, one after today will be measured by a new standard.

It is announced by the Bundesrath that the advancing of time one hour in Germany will result in a vast saving of money, not to speak of the health benefits that will accrue to the workers, who will go to bed an hour earlier each night and get up an hour earlier than usual.

According to economists in this city, the action of the Bundesrath was primarily taken to conserve the nation's resources, two of which are lighting and fuel and both of which are admittedly growing more scarce.

After May 1, under the new time standard, the nation will be just one hour ahead of the world. While workers of other European nations and the United States are spending the hour between five and six, snoozing, those of Germany will be hard at work. At the close of their working day the Germans will have an extra hour for recreation.

Partizan Statements—

The democrat has received from the secretary of state a copy of the statements of the Republican candidates for office in Oregon, authorized by chapter 207 of the laws of 1913, a fool law and a useless expense. Only a few tumbled into it.

A Genuine Case—

A Eugene lawyer took a small case contingent on the winning of the case, the fee to be $35. The jury disagreed. He claimed he had won the case and sued for the fee and recovered it. He was for the defendant.

METHODISTS AT SARATOGA.

Assignments of Bishops a Matter That Is Exciting a Good Deal of Interest.

(By United Press)

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., May 2.—Just where the bishops will be assigned for the next four years is a subject of keen interest at the quadrennial session of the Methodist General Conference here today.

Interest centers about who will be sent to Washington as successor to Bishop Cranston. Washington and

New York are the most desired locations.

It is believed the Washington "plum" will go either to Bishop Luther B. Wilson of New York, or Bishop William Fraser McDowell of Chicago. Bishop Wilson, however, may be returned to New York, where he has accomplished so much for Methodism, and Bishop McDowell may go to Washington. Dr. McDowell is vice-chancellor of the Methodist University at the capital, and he is a close friend of Bishop Cranston.

If Bishop Wilson is not returned to New York, the next incumbent likely will be Bishop McDowell or Bishop Frank J. McConnell, now resident in Denver. Dr. McConnell was consecrated only four years ago. Until then he was pastor of New York Avenue church, Brooklyn.

THE PIXIES, AN OPERETTA.

Presented by the Children of the Albany Public Schools Tonight at the Globe.

Synopsis, Act I.—Daybreak in Fairyland. Queen and fairies asleep in the woods. Goblins enter and steal "Sunshine," one of the fairies. Fairies awake. A page announces the landing of the "Pixie Band." Fairies flee from the Goblins. They in turn flee from the Pixies. The Pixies promise to fight for the Fairies and try to rescue "Little Sunshine." Amazons enlist with the Pixies. Act closes with the chorus "Victory Will Crown Us."

Act II.—The Night Smithy of the Goblins interrupted by a "wandering minstrel." Eight archer cadets join their band. Battle between the Pixies and the Goblins. Not satisfactory to either side. Each side is reinforced. Goblins by the Fairies and Pixies by some travelers from the East. When things are at their darkest the queen gives the prince a new plan. It is to place three golden guineas near the cave of the Goblins and while they are quarreling over them the Pixies are to surprise and capture them. Success. Return of little "Sunshine." Promenade of all the characters. Miss Patton, director.

Miss Hockensmith, Pianist. Admission 10c and 15 cents.

Billie Burke is Happy in Motion Picture Work.

"Pantomime is so tremendously important to the art of acting that I would not take anything for the opportunity that Mr. Ince has given me," says the star of "Peggy," who will be seen at the Rolfe next Monday.

When it is understood that Miss Burke was no easy capture the foregoing is significant. She resisted all the enthusiastic lures of Thomas H. Ince. He caught her when she was touring in California, specially staged an interview at his studios, contrived every while he could imagine to affect the decision of the young woman he desired to star in pictures. But she was adamant even when an unheard of salary was mentioned. When her tour was ended, however, and she had dismissed her company for the summer, memories of that spring day at Inceville began to haunt Miss Burke. She exercised her woman's prerogative, and changed her mind.

And now she is preaching the learning to be had only in the pictures just as if she had discovered a new gospel.
