"THE FORTUNE HUNTER" MAKES MORE REPUTATION

While the size of the audiences which attended the performances of "The Fortune Hunter" at the Globe Theatre Thursday and Friday could have been much better, the play was an excellent effort for a home talent affair, and reflected great credit upon the people who took part in the cast. Mr. James W. Mott has fixed his reputation as a high-class director in this city, and should he ever return here to stage another production the public will have a guarantee of the excellent quality of the performance.

Mr. Mott leaves today for Eugene, where next week he will stage "Arizona" for the senior class of the University of Oregon. His next production will be the comedy drama, "The Dictator," which will be put on in Salem.

The Albany cast of "The Fortune Hunter" will go to Lebanon Monday.

May 15, and the people of that city will be given a theatrical treat far superior to the average road show which infests the smaller towns.

As was the case the night before, Ed. Bailey got the big hand for his splendid portrayal of the part of the sheriff. The leads, Mr. Mott, Clarence W. Tebault, Ralph Thom, Rolla Rals-
