SALESDAY SHOULD BE MADE MORE OF AN EVENT

Editor Democrat: It would be hard to determine just how much of the average farmer's capital is tied up in articles and stock which, so far as the present owner is concerned, belongs to the DISCARD.

Few householders, but who often find themselves in possession of some articles or animal for which they have no further use. While a neighbor or someone might be scouting the country for just that chance of supplying his need.

Less than two years ago the Commercial club of Albany began the practice of having monthly trade day sales. The sale is held on the last Saturday of each month. Its object is to give opportunity for people who have one or a number of articles or animals for sale to come in contact with buyers.

Traders day sales rapidly established a reputation valuable alike to buyer and seller. If its value to the community can be determined by the patronage which people of all classes gave it it qualifies as a most valuable community asset.

This sale is designed primarily for a stock sale. The offerings comprise County trips at reasonable rates. City Auto Transfer. a17f ing service. Theme: The Work of Our Church. Study III. To my Junior congregation: Poison Labels. 11:45 S. S. Orchestra and classes for all. 7:00 Young People's Meeting. 8:00 Evening service. Theme: The Far Thought. "Come Thou with us and we will do thee good."

Grace Presbyterian—Robert Joseph Diven, minister. 10 a. m. Bible school. 11 a. m. Morning sermon. The Presbyterian general assembly now in session and what the Presbyterians church stands for. 5 p. m. Senior Endeavor; 7 p. m. Senior Endeavor; 8 p. m. evening lecture. The public cordially invited to all the services.

Church of Christ (Christian church)—M. Howard Fagan, minister. Services on Sunday as usual. 10:30 a. m. Lord's supper and sermon. "Paul, the Debtor." Anthem, "Come Unto Me." by Williams. 11:30 a. m. Bible school. J. F. Watson, superintendent. The Junior Endeavor meets from 10:30 to 11:30 in the basement. 8:00 p. m. evening service. Good rousing song service. Sermon, "Three Vital Questions." Anthem, "I Will Lift Up Mine Eyes." by Myers. D. L. Morgan, minister of the Christian church at Palouse, Wash., will occupy the pulpit both morning and evening. He is a forceful speaker and a successful pastor. Hear him the usual as well as the miscellaneous articles of everyday home and trade use.

Getting so many people together as it does, it affords an unusual opportunity for the mutual exchange of property.

The fact that enterprising individuals who would otherwise employ auctioneers are adopting the idea of patronizing these sales with most satisfactory results, proves its practicality to the community.

Merchants have grasped this opportunity to advertise their goods and scarcely a window but what is well set out with tempting bargains for Sales Day.

At our next sale unusual opportunities will be offered as large consignments of extra goods, stock, of all descriptions, are being entered. At this sale five (5) head of registered Jersey cows first class in every respect will be offered for sale. This will be an opportunity to secure registered stock, all fresh and good milkers at a reasonable figure. We anticipate a large attendance and great sales.

A public speaker of great distinction will address the stock men at one o'clock sharp.

OLD TIME EGG HOAX.

A Joke That Did Not Result Just as the Perpetrator Expected.

Away back in the days when Miller was preaching the near end of the world there were two men living in Lawrenceville, neighbors, who may be named Brown and Jones, who were like unto Jonathan and David. Jones was a chicken fancier. Both, like most people in that day, discussed Millerism.

One Saturday night Brown, who had read somewhere that if a pointed stick were dipped in oil anything written with it on an egg, and with the egg held to the fire, would remain indelible.

Brown wrote on an egg, "The world will come to an end on Oct. 20, 1844," the day Miller had stated, and placed the egg in one of Jones' nests, expecting Jones would come to him as soon as he found it and after a good laugh he would tell how it was done.

But Jones, as soon as he could get his clothes on, rushed to the home of Rev. Richard Lee. The news spread like wildfire, and persons coming to town to church carried it, and all Sunday there was a throng calling on Jones to see the egg. Brown viewed the crowd with a much troubled mind, and at last he went to Jones and told the story. Never after that did Jones speak to Brown. Letter to Pittsburgh Gazette-Times
