Von Buelow Has Heretofore
Been Connected With Peace
Movement in Europe.

(By United Press)
London, May 24.—Von Buelow, a former German chancellor, has become ambassador at Washington, an Exchange Telegraph stated this afternoon on good authority. It is reported the German diplomatic corps will be rearranged. Other sources failed to corroborate this, although Ambassador Von Bernstorff's recall is repeatedly rumored. If the report is true it is taken to mean that Germany expects to move early for peace. Von Buelow has been connected with the peace move, especially in Switzerland recently. A year ago he tried to prevent Italy joining the allies. Von Buelow is considered the foremost European diplomat.

REGISTRATION BOOKS ARE AGAIN OPEN FOR BELATED

Registration is again on. Those who failed to get their names on file with the county clerk before April 19 will again have an opportunity to do so until 30 days before the general election in November. The books are now open and the remaining eligible, unregistered voters should attend to getting their names on the permanent rolls. Once registered always registered under the present law. In the case of men and married women a registration now will last as long as they keep their same residence or do not move outside of their present precinct. With unmarried women their cards are good until they change their names or move to some other precinct.

While the final date for registration is yet far off the matter should receive immediate attention before it is forgotten, for the registration in Linn county is still over 3,000 shy of what it should be.

SEVEN PEOPLE ON BILL WITH SEVEN REELS PICTURES

Seven people in vaudeville stunts is the added attraction at the Globe Theatre tonight and Thursday. The Imperial Musical Comedy Co. comes to the Globe from a successful week's run in Salem, where they received considerable praise for their clever performances. They present a short skit and individual members of the company present singing, dancing and talking stunts in duos, trios and quartets. Four pretty girls and three clever men make up the company.

SAVAGE BATTLE IS NOW RAGING

Germans Making Desperate
Effort to Drive French From Deadman's Hill.

EVERY ASSAULT DE- FEATED FRENCH REPORT

In Two Days a Loss of Ten
Thousand Has Occurred Around Verdun.

(By United Press)
Paris, May 24.—Germans penetrated the village of Cumieres, nine miles north of Verdun after a series of terrific onslaughts, it is officially admitted. The Teutons also took a trench west of Cumieres and gained footholds in a few sections of trench east of Douaumont. At other points most violent attacks were defeated. Several assaults in champagne were repulsed.

The most savage battle in the world's history is raging today. Eighty thousand Germans were sent crashing into French positions on Deadman's hill. Two brigades were repeatedly rushed to Douaumont. Every assault was a failure. All the French trenches were subjected to a steady artillery fire. Behind clouds of dust the gray German lines swept toward the French. Machine guns sprayed the ranks. Still waves of spiked helmets swarmed the western edges of Douaumont. No sooner was one assault defeated than another started. The loss at Douaumont during the two days' fighting is estimated at 10,000 killed.

Berlin, May 24.—British troops attacked the German lines near Givenchy, Hullcock, and Blairville, it is officially announced. Southwest of Givenchy the British penetrated the German trenches, but immediately were slaughtered. Other attacks were repulsed.

MERCHANT OF VENICE BY H. S. STUDENTS WAS GOOD

Seniors of the high school made good in their presentation of the Merchant of Venice up-to-date, last night at the Globe, to a large audience. According to the modern version of the story Antonio borrowed a pony of Shylock, so that his chum Bassanio could pass his examination and get the fair Portia, the penalty being a pound of flesh next the brain. When the test came, a learned doctor with an X-ray discovered that Antonio had no brains and therefore the bond was declared forfeited. Shylock and Portia, the star parts of the play were well taken by Lyndon Myers as Shylock, the crafty old lender, and Miss Margaret Gibson as Portia, Shakespeare's best woman character. Fred Aldrich was a fine Antonio, well supported by his friend Gratiano, Francis Howard. One of the best parts was Lancelot Gobbo by Darrill Austin. No part was better sustained than that of Nerissa, by Miss Amy Perfect. Dale Willis had a fine make-up for Miss Thredde, the teacher, and did the part remarkably well. Robert Boettcher was on the job as the professor, Richard Thacker made a good duke, Blanch Ragan as Portia's maid did the part nicely without overdoing it. Flo Filer as Gobbo's mother, though appearing only for a minute, showed genius as an Irish woman. Earl Scott pitched a good game as Tubal. Then there were football players and the whole class of senior girls and silk sweaters as rooters. Five scenes were given promptly, and the audience left greatly pleased with the evening's enjoyment.

SKELTON OF LOST MAN FOUND AFTER 16 YEARS

Identified By Watch and Other Things Found With the Skeleton.

After almost sixteen years the remains of W. Buckum, of Harrisburg, who disappeared while hunting, have been found in the mountains three miles above Mabel, identified by things found with the skeleton, back in a secluded spot. Being in Lane county the skeleton, a silver watch, $2 in money, a few cartridges, remains of a purse and a pocket knife, found, were taken by Sheriff Parker to Eugene.

Buckum and C. L. Morris, the postmaster at Harrisburg for many years, were hunting deer in the mountains when they became separated. Buckum was never seen afterwards. He had wandered further into the hills and had undoubtedly met with an accident, either causing his death instantly or injuring him so that he could not get out. A long search was made for him. Among those in the party was Geo. Vandran, of the Vandran hotel, then living near Harrisburg, who helped hunt for three weeks. He had intended to go on this trip, but had been unable to get away then.

Thus the mystery of many years is uncovered.

OREGON OUTDOORS.

The Southern Pacific Issues a Booklet That Is a Good One for Sending Away.

The latest booklet issued by the Southern Pacific is their annual "Oregon Outdoors." It is printed in three colors on a very expensive grade of enamel paper. The cover shows two actual photographic scenes in colors, one a fisherman and the other bathing. The outside color plate is of Portland "the Rose City." The illustrations, which include over one hundred, are tastefully arranged in combinations of three with a light yellow border making a very handsome effect.

The Columbia River Highway, Willamette Valley, The Loop Trip, The State Capital, Tillamook County Beaches, Newport, Coos Bay Country, Mount Jefferson Country, McKenzie River and Three Sisters, Oregon Mineral Springs, Ashland Mineral Springs, Oregon's famous Spa, The Umpqua Valley, The Marble Halls of Oregon, The Rogue River Valley, Crater Lake National Park and the Klamath Country.

Portland and vicinity is very thoroughly described. The Rose Festival is shown to be Portland's great annual event. The Columbia River Highway occupies a very prominent position and a lengthy article is devoted to it.

Every loyal Oregonian is urged to secure a copy of this book and send it to a friend in the East. Copies can be secured from any Southern Pacific Agent or by addressing Mr. John M. Scott, General Passenger Agent, Portland, Oregon.

Hon. W. P. Elmore, Democratic nominee for the office of legislative representative, came over from Brownsville this morning.

FRANK KEENAN AND FATTY ARBUCKLE STAR

Once in a lustrum or a decade comes a play fashioned according to the classic model of great characters, straightforward unity of plot, terrific emotional power, truth to life and art. Such, say many who have seen it in New York, Chicago and Philadelphia, is Thomas H. Ince's new civil war play "The Coward," starring Frank Keenan. It will be seen in the Triangle program at the Rolfe tonight and Thursday. And it has undoubtedly excited greater interest than any other recent offering whether in the film or the regular stage world.

Like all the Keystone comedies, which are under the sign of the Triangle, "Fickle Fatty's Fall" will appear at the Rolfe theatre.
