THE U. S.

Dr. Frank Crane, a prominent magazine writer, has recently written the following:

I am an American. I belong to the United States of America, and am proud of it, because my country is great and strong, and its ideals are just and humane.

I love my country because it stands for liberty and against all forms of slavery, tyranny, and unjust privilege.

I love my country because it is a democracy, where the people govern themselves, and there is no hereditary class to rule them.

I love my country because the feeling of the people is against all classes, and what classes we have are constantly mingling and breaking up.

I love my country because it never wishes to conquer any other country, nor to annex any territory that does not belong to it without the consent of the people who live in such territory.

I love my country because the only use it has for an army and navy is to defend itself from unjust attack and to protect its citizens.

I love my country because it is founded on the principles of federation and not of empire.

I love my country because it is ready to join with the other nations of the world in a World Federation, and thus do away with war forever, whenever the other nations are willing.

I love my country because it has always been foremost in settling international disputes by arbitration.

I love my country because it asks nothing for itself it would not ask for all humanity.

I love my country because it is the land of opportunity; the way to success is open to every person, no matter what his birth or circumstances.

I love my country because the oppressed of other countries are welcome here, and have all rights and privileges of native citizens if they obey our laws.

I love my country because every child in it can get an education free in its public schools, and more is spent on training children than in any other country.

I love my country because women are respected and honored.

I love my country because the workers are constantly striving to improve their condition, wages are higher here than anywhere else in the world, and men, women, and children have more to eat and are better clothed.

I love my country because it is considered here honorable to work, and those people who do no useful labor are looked upon with disfavor. I love my country because life is protected, order is maintained, and property is secure.

I love my country because if any one is dissatisfied with things as they are he can change them, if he can induce enough people to agree with him.

I love my country because we have free speech and a free press.

I love my country because it interferes with no person's religion.

I love my country because its people are industrious, energetic, independent, friendly, and have a sense of humor.

I love my country because it gives me full opportunity to live my own life, and I wish so to live that I shall be of service to my country.

I love my country because its heroes are such characters as George Washington and Abraham Lincoln, who loved to serve and not to rule.

I will serve my country in any way I can. I will strive to be a good citizen, and will not do anything nor take part in anything that may wrong the public. I wish to live for my country.

IF NEED BE, I WILL DIE FOR MY COUNTRY.

MODERN FAKERY. The Roosevelt demonstration was a sample of modern fakery. It was not a voluntary burst of enthusiasm; just an organized effort to make a big show of enthusiasm for the purpose of a stampede. It was therefore merely a matter of physical endurance for the Roosevelt followers to cause a noise for an hour and a half. It could easily have been done longer. Any body of men through organization could make a demonstration that would last five hours or more, shifting the applause; but it would be fakery. This is so, not because for Roosevelt, but because it was not a spontaneous act; but an organized one, as evidenced by circumstances.

MISFITS England doesn't seem to be able to have many spies in Germany. The wireless is a great institution for conveying news. Speculation is the order these days. How did it happen. Strawberries are getting down to the canning price. An inmate of Sing Sing prison has written a poem that is attracting a good deal of attention. It tells about a conference of the fish of the sea, the shark, strake, pilot fish, and others, who endeavored to find out whose beak had run into a vessel sinking it. Following was the result: The Shark had just begun to weep, when shadows crept o'erhead. And down there came a submarine to nestle 'midst the dead: A snaky thing so fearsome built; its fang was dripping red. The Cuttle-fish, the Adder-snake, the blind Sea-serpents white, The Squirtling-squid, the Killer-whale, they all recoiled in fright, For deep within the Submarine they heard a voice recite: 'I am the thing, Ya-Ya—Ya-Ya! the captain of the Pit; The slinking, sneaking Submarine, whose picric fang has slit At two mile range, this fast mail boat; so dring to me: Porisit!'

The tiny little Pilot-fish, he made a crown of green, Placed it no the periscope to cap his snakeship lean; And king of all the viper tribe they crowned the Submarine. Don't Lose Your Smile. I've thought at times, "Oh, what's the use The hand of fate is sure"; I've felt the stings of long abuse And know the word endure. Say, folks, I know just how you feel When all your plans go wrong; The punch at times has made me reel And almost miss the gong.

But listen, folks, to what I say; Your life and mine's the same; If you'll do your part every day We'll win, though hard the game. Now, follow me: It's just like this; It's free and without guile; It moves the world and cannot miss. It's this, just keep your smile. — F. Gray in Ex.
