PHILOMATH WELL EQUIPPED FOR COMING ROUND-UP

Over $12,000 Has Been Expended in Getting Ready For This Years Show.

A trip to Philomath yesterday revealed some very interesting facts about the coming horse show and round up which takes place June 22, 23 to 24. While this is but the third show staged at this place it gives promise of being one of the best in the west.

The show was started last May when a few of the local people at Philomath, under the leadership of R. P. McClelland, put on a small round up in connection with the horse sale and stock fair. The event made such an impression that many requests were made for another show in the fall, and in September a regular round up was staged.

Encouraged with their success the people of Philomath formed a stock company and capitalized at $5000, electing officers and getting ready for business. This year they are equipped as well as any round up or wild west show any place in the west. Over $5000 will have been expended upon the grounds and equipment. A grand stand is about completed that is 200 feet long and 10 tiers of seats high, with a row of boxes in the front. Over 600 feet bleachers 14 seats high are almost completed. Seating accommodations for over 10,000 people has been provided. Corrals, horse barns, and other buildings have also been provided within the high board fence enclosure.

R. P. McClelland and another cowboy have just returned from a trip through eastern Oregon, Southern Idaho and Nevada where they picked up the best bucking and wild horses that could be found. Twenty-eight head of these are now on the grounds. A car load of Mexican, long horned cattle left Portland that was purchased in Mexico by an agent sent down for that purpose. There will be no want for the proper kind of material to work with. Over 200 cowboys and cow girls have been entered.

Knights to Initiate—

Work in the second rank will be put on by the Knights of Pythias tonight. Full attendance desired.
