MAYOR CURL VETOS BILL

by adding to the future levies, thus making our taxes higher than they are now. I also wish to call your attention to the fact that you have already appropriated more money from the general fund than your last annual budget estimate arranged for. Fourth. If it is to be determined that it is necessary to have a city hall, the structure as remodeled would in no sense answer a legitimate purpose. If we are to have a hall, we should have an up-to-date building of suitable material. It seems to me that in case of necessity undeniable, it would be far better to sell one of the two pieces of down-town property, use the proceeds arising therefrom, together with the money you propose to put into this old building and erect an up-to-date building of substantial material. Enough or practically enough money could be raised in this way—the very best building possible would be our and we could still have the Central school grounds for park purposes.

Fifth. There is a fifth and in my judgment, a far greater reason than any of the others set forth though decisive and unanswerable they appear to me, why the so-called improvement should not be attempted. It is this. Every city, wheresoever located, should have a public assembly ground or in other words, a park. The grounds under consideration in this bill are ideally located for such purpose. Trees are now growing thereon and nature has assisted in arranging this public necessity. Any attempt to save anything out of the old hulk that stands on the grounds will finally and eternally defeat and deprive the people of the city of a haven of rest. It would be a public calamity—an injury of incalculable and everlasting enormity. These grounds were purchased not for the purpose of building a city hall but for park purposes.

There is sufficient material in the old building to erect suitable rest rooms, an elegant band stand and otherwise improve the grounds with but little if any cost to the city.

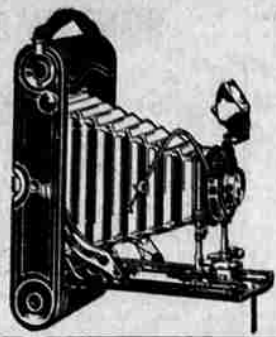

I have lived here so long and have become so attached to the people of this vicinity, that a matter which is of vital importance as the probable loss forever of such a beautiful park ground comes to me as a personal injury. I positively feel that inward pang of pain when I contemplate such a possibility, and I am still hoping that that eternal destiny which shapes the affairs of men may guide you in the course which is for the best interest of our citizens. Have you considered the joys and pleasures of the little children, the sick, the maimed, the decrepit and the poor that would be spoiled by your action? There is more comfort in putting joy and sunlight into the lives of helpless souls than there is in placing the city offices, the fire engines, the city teams, the city jail and all the city's belongings in any one place.

I regret the necessity of expressing views so emphatically different from yours, but while entertaining the belief that I do, I cannot remain silent and thereby allow a great public wrong to be done. If you succeed in accomplishing your expressed purpose, the condemnation of future generations shall not rest upon me.

Respectfully submitted,

L. M. CURL,
Mayor.

PORTLAND WEEKLY STOCK MARKET REPORT

Cattle—Receipts very heavy altho not as heavy as last Monday, about 1100 head being on the market. Quality in the main was anything but choice. Good steers were steady with best selling at $8.25. Californias brot $8 on down for rather inferior offerings except for well finished cattle the market was slow.

Hogs—Nearly 4000 hogs saw a higher market today. Tops were again at $8.25 with bulk going a good nickel to a dime higher than last week's close. Market closing strong.

Sheep—There was a very sizeable run of sheep today—nearly 3000 head. The market was not strong. Lambs sold steady but other sheep were weak. Lambs are quoted $9 to $9.25 for best quality.
