SATURDAY NIGHT THOUGHTS.

Our blood tingles as we review the doings of the week down in Mexico. In short we are hot under the collar. Of all things in the world treachery is about the worst. The most contemptible cur in the world could not have been lower than the Mexicans who took advantage of the small company of American scouts at Carrizal and mowed them down with the heartlessness of the devil.

Jumping across the Atlantic may relieve us for a moment. That is among foreigners. They continue to tear each other to pieces. The slaughter is as fierce as ever. Each side, though, knows what's coming and where to look for trouble and they get it, and lots of it. The past week has seen the advantage on the side of the Allies, or perhaps, more specifically, on the side of the Russians, for they have been doing the advancing. This may not keep up long, though, for the Germans have rushed many soldiers from the west to the east. One would think this would be a time for the western Allies to take the aggressive; but the British continue to doze.

When referring to the British the Canadians are not included. Observers declare that no soldiers in Europe have done more valiant work, and that if English soldiers had shown the pep of the Canadians there would have been fast work. These are simply observations from a neutral standpoint, by one who simply observes.

Some politics, though nothing very exciting. Politics to some extent are a game to fool the people. The people, though, have gradually learned this fact, and more and more they see through the gauze, and to them yellow is yellow.

An Albany man recently in the east says he was struck with a comparison of saloon towns and dry towns. The former universally have not that clean look of the dry place, lacking the striking cleanliness and appearance of prosperity.

The pioneers this week have been having their day—in an annual convention. They deserve a good time. Fast are they going from off the earth. In Linn county alone during the past year twenty-eight prominent pioneers passed to the other side of the great divide.

A round-up has drawn because of the fast and furious feature of the show, one full of interest. Many like to see feats of dangerous and expert horsemanship.

How common have become automobile accidents, nearly every day close by something happening. This week has seen several. Most of them occur because of the driver's attention being distracted to something else.

MISFITS

Fast Times Politically. News reached Stayton this morning that E. D. Alexander had been appointed postmaster for this city. The Mail wishes to congratulate Mr. Alexander on the appointment, and the quick work of the state, county and precinct committeemen.

No Shrink to Schrank. While A. W. Schrank is a new man to Aumsville, he is a veritable hummer when it comes to going after business. Moreover he believes in spreading printers ink and this is the third week he has been carrying almost a half page ad in the Mail—Stayton Mail.

Billy Hearst is said to be wearing an extensive grin these days.

The Philomath round-up has proven the hit of the season.

It has also been full of bumps for the participants.

Wilson is undoubtedly one of the three or four ablest presidents the country has had, a man with judgment, backed by a strong will power, and yet yellow papers call him spineless, the way they used to Lincoln.

The country needs more vertebrates like that of the president.

It takes courage to do right, with yellow hounds yelping at one's feet.

Those Plebians.

Wanted to Rent—By quiet, unobtrusive couple, plebians, three connecting rooms (preferably down stairs), furnished housekeeping, except bedding and linen, private or convenient bath, near an owl car line, man works night. Not ambitious socially, not interested in reasons for taking roomers, prominent relatives, illustrious ancestors, or neighbors' affairs.—Adv. in the Memphis (Tenn.) Commercial-Tribune.

A woman declared that a girl working for her was so bad she could hardly think of a thing to say when she wrote a recommendation for her.

By the way recommendations and petitions are mighty slippery affairs, often signed simply as an accommodation.
