OAKVILLE NOTES AND PERSONAL OF INTEREST

Mrs. Schalhorn and daughter and Miss Josephine Smith, of Grants Pass, are visiting with relatives here.

Mr. Bell's band of sheep were run to their pasture early one morning last week and three of them were chewed up by a neighbor's dogs. Two have died of their wounds and the third is not out of danger. The life of a sheep-killing dog should not be longer than it takes a good marksman to pull the trigger. A good marksman's gun is always loaded and the law is in his favor. Don't tell a neighbor that his dog kills sheep; it will offend him. Kill the dog first.

Mrs. Bell went to Toledo last Saturday. Toledo is the county seat of Lincoln county, where Judge Miller has his seat of judgment. The judge was once pedagogue and band leader of Oakville. He was also a member of "O. L. C." We miss his presence and wish him success.

The prune prospect is good. Mr. Wicks has used two cords of vine maple poles to prop up his over loaded prune trees. He is also putting up a new dryer on account of his prospect also a new house.

Many peach orchards are loaded and the earlier varieties will ripen in July. The nice rains will help the gardens and pasture; also the milk cows. The roads are all full of gravel between here and Corvallis and perhaps some of the older citizens will not see

TWO GOOD TRIANGLE PLAYS AT THE ROLFE

How a woman of strong personality met and recognized her soul mate and lifted him from degradation only to lose him is told in "The Winged Idol," coming to the Rolfe theatre tonight. Katharine Kaelred, who appears in the Triangle-Ince play, "The Winged Idol," has been repeatedly characterized as the most accomplished "vampire actress" of the American stage. She makes her entree in motion pictures under the direction of Thomas H. Ince in the role of a Russian seeress in this forceful drama, written by C. Gardner Sullivan.

"Crooked to the End," a Triangle-Keystone comedy of railroading, shows Fred Mace and his associates in some laughable and exciting episodes.

Changed. "That new maid of ours is a wonder. When she came to us two months ago she couldn't understand a word we said to her."

"And now?" "And now she won't." — St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Both. "I want a glass suitable for studying the stars." "Yes, sir. Astronomical or theatrical?" — New York Times.

good roads again, but the men of tender years may be able to run their autos on good roads. Why not? LITTLE ROSE BUD.

Putting it mildly. "Would you call Uncle Peter a stingy man?"

"Well, no. I'd merely say that he had all his generous impulses under perfect control." — Boston Transcript.

Comparisons. "My butler left me without any warning." "You got off easy. Mine left me without any spoons." — Baltimore American.

Fruity. Wigg—That girl is sure a peach. Wagg—Did you ever see her twin sister? They're a pair. — Philadelphia Record.
