Harp Soloist Carries Valuable Instrument.

Elizabeth de Barrie Gill, harpist entertainer, is one of the Chautauqua's most unique offerings, imitatively presented, as she does, a splendid vocal and instrumental concert, delightfully interspersed and combined with delectable character stories and impersonations.

Mrs. Gill is wonderfully proficient on the harp, and the $1,000 gold instrument which she plays is a masterpiece of workmanship, of a vibrant lyric depth and tone resonance of surpassing power and sweetness. Mrs.

Gill has a rich contralto voice and, singing to her own accompaniment on the harp, affords an ideal combination.
She features English, Irish, Scotch and negro folk songs, which the crooning murmur of the instrument proves most effective.

In a generous repertoire of harp solos especially pleasing on the great lyre, such as the old plantation melodies and "The Miserere" from "Il Trovatore," Mrs. Gill's rendition of "The Rosary" is a distinct accomplishment. In this number she demonstrates the supreme rank of the harp as a musical instrument when played by an artist.

TRAVELERS' TALES.

Some That Were Discredited and Vindicated Long Afterward.

Travelers' tales have often been accused of being mere flights of imagination, and in the past stay at home people have sometimes erred in treating travelers' tales with scorn. There was, for instance, the description by James Bruce in 1770 of the barbarous Abyssinian custom of eating raw meat cut from the living animal, which was ridiculed by everybody. Yet Bruce was proved right. When Paul du Chailu explored equatorial Africa in 1891 and described the wonderful gorillas and also the nation of dwarfs there he was discredited none too politely by the British Royal Geographical society. Yet subsequent explorers amply vindicated his veracity.

In the matter of discredited travelers' tales vindicated long afterward it will never be possible to beat the classic instance in Herodotus. He tells how King Neco of Egypt commissioned certain Phoenician mariners to cirumnavigate Africa if they could.
They did it, starting from the Red sea and returning by the straits of Gibratar after very many months. And they reported, says Herodotus, that in rounding the southern end of Africa they had the sun on their right hand.
"I, for my part," he says, "do not believe this, but perhaps others may."

In modern times that detail is precisely what proves that the Phoenicians did achieve the wonderful voyage. Such an "improbable" fact could never have been invented in an age which was not familiar with the equator.

D. A. R. ATTENTION!

To Members of Linn Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution: When the nation calls out our men for her protection, then is come our time to serve. The coast artillery of Oregon has its quota of Albany men, who, when called, must go, and would better go prepared for whatever conditions may be in store for them. That this preparation may be made at once, the members of Linn chapter are asked to meet with the regent at 540 West Seventh Street Saturday afternoon, July 1, at 3 o'clock, when conditions of importance to all of us will be discussed.

MRS. L. E. TRACEY,
Regent.

FOR RENT—For the summer, a furnished modern 6-room bungalow.

ORIENTAL CUNNING.

How a Willy Princeling Rewarded His Pompous Minister.

The princeling of an oriental country had sent to his minister in a far, rich country the decoration of the national Order of the Golden Goat. It was a cheap trinket, plentifully adorned with imitation jewels. But the minister, being a vain man and prosperous, had the false stones replaced by real ones and wore his order thereafter with proper pride.

Then after some years the princeling came a visiting to the far country. Naturally the minister came to pay his respects. Almost at once the eyes of the princeling fell upon the order with the real stones, and he sat as one fascinated, prolonging the interview with idle questions and paying no attention to the answers. He was resolving a problem—for the princeling was leaner than usual just then. At last he saw his way clear to make a coup.

"It is time," he said to the minister, "that your valuable services to your country should receive additional recognition from your country's prince. I hereby (he reached into a pocket somewhere about his plump person) advance you from the second to the first class of the Order of the Golden Goat." With these words he pinned upon the minister's swelling chest the new decoration.

Of course it was necessary to remove the old decoration first. This, with its collection of real stones, he dropped carelessly into one of the royal pockets.—New York Post.
