SATURDAY NIGHT THOUGHTS.

This has been a week full of excitement for the United States. Just on the ragged edge of war with Mexico, there has been much concern over the matter. The week-end sees a silver lining to it. Nevertheless, there is a strong sentiment that a big readjustment of affairs in Mexico is necessary and that eventually the United States will have to look after it.

The masses do not want war with Mexico or any other country. They are solidly against war. But if war is necessary then they are for pushing things with the vim of a star football player.

The European war is in statu quo, if you know what that is. If there is any advantage it will take a genius to figure it out with reliability. Just now a great game is being played to make it tropical for the enemy of the other side, wherever possible, so as to draw strength to meet the offensive.

Albany has a new industry, a loganberry juice factory. In view of the demand for a refreshing drink to take the place of intoxicating liquors, this factory is something to be commended and supported.

Another early prospect is the re-starting of the furniture factory, an industry that will do much to attract attention to the city, and be at least a stepping-stone in the city's upward progress.

Albany cheese is now on the market. There is nothing better that comes here, hence there can be no excuse not to use it.

By the way, whatever is made in Albany, give it a hearty support, particularly where it fills the bill, and measures up to competitors.

MISFITS

Certainly the president is showing a generalship that commands the respect of the reasonable people.

The jingo sheets are greatly disturbed about the U. S. losing its reputation as the most powerful country in the world.

It is not material what the greasers of Mexico think about us.

As much as the reprobates deserve a whipping, this country does well to use its best endeavors to keep its hands off Mexico as a nation.

Real greatness consists not in going to war; but in keeping out of it if possible with honor.

David Star Jordan, the pacificist, will be remembered after the Billy hearsts have been forgotten.

Great is Pat McArthur. He discovered that Hughes' vote in the primaries was twice as much as Wilson's vote in the primaries, something of absolutely no significance. The Democratic primary vote was merely a nominal affair.

Wonder if Pat has noticed that in every straw vote taken in Oregon, Wilson has had more than Hughes. That has a real significance to it.

The masses are for Wilson, and will not be jingled or jingled down.

His Uncle Samuel.

(As seen by a Polk county man, Rev. G. H. Bennett.) Uncle Sam is tall and trim. His eye is keen and bright. Sir: His arms are long, his legs are thin, He's ready for a fight, Sir.

Chorus— Yankee Doodle load your gun, Yankee Doodle Dandy. Put the foeman on the run, Yankee Doodle Dandy.

His family numbers forty-eight. The handsomest of all, Sir: His land is fair and rivers great, His mountains mighty tall, Sir.

(Chorus.) He minds his business in the world, His doctrine is Monroe, Sir. Old Glory now he has unfurled, But don't tread on his toe, Sir.

(Chorus.) Preparedness is his daily theme, His Constitution's strong, Sir: To help all people is his dream, He'll free the earth 'fore long, Sir.
