DR. F. V. FISHER TODAY'S SPEAKER

Great Peace Advocate Speaks on Blood and America Before World.

HUNGARIAN ORCHESTRA A FINE OFFERING

Saturday Will Be a Fine Day With the Hawaiians in Couple of Concerts.

One of the best addresses of the assembly was that of Mrs. Harriet Gunn Robinson, on Successes Where You Are, one rising above the great successes of every day life that count for much in the world, speaking for individual preparedness.

A mandolin has eight strings in four sets, covering G D A E. On these letters she strung her line of thought about the success of life, giving beautiful illustrations, some in her own active life, lived for others. The first two strings are God and Grandeur, the next Dream and Deeds; the third Appreciation and Art, the last Effort and Enthusiasm.

But one needs to hear a speaker like Mrs. Robinson with her pleasing personality and ease of expression. Witekles Royal Hungarian orchestra, with Mme. Fay Morvilliu (Mrs. Huntington, of Portland) was the drawing musical event of the week, a fine offering that was immensely appreciated both afternoon and evening, the audiences being the largest of the week. Both the orchestra and Mme. Morvilliu did good. Mme. Morvilliu has a rich voice, and sings with splendid expression and feeling.

The domestic science department has been quite popular with a fine attendance and much interest. Miss Thordarson has proven a very efficient demonstrator and her talks have been to the point and very helpful.

Yesterday a demonstration in meat cutting by D. E. Nebergall and assistant, Mr. Michelson, was especially interesting and instructive. Few know that beef dresses only approximately 50 per cent, some less than that, lambs 40 to 45 per cent, hogs 72 per cent, though in some places near the latter more because allowed to live longer.

Miss Harmon's junior has been good, the big thing of the class being the fine King Arthur pageant tomorrow afternoon.

The Bible class under Dr. Bell about doubled under the change of time. The bishop has reached into the hearts of many in his presentation of social problems, covering the needs of today, seeking a higher plane of living, with more service for our fellowmen, for life now, with inspiration for the future.

Undoubtedly about the biggest speaking event of the lecture course are the addresses of Dr. Frederick Vining Fisher this afternoon and tonight, in Blood and America Before the World. Everywhere he has made people stand up and take notice.

Another big musical drawing card is going to be the Hawaiians tomorrow afternoon and evening. They are great, and a speaker worth while is Frederick A. Halton, Saturday night, in an illustrated lecture on the Isles of Peace.

FIRE BURNS EAST END SHACK LAST NIGHT

Fire discovered in an old house on Sixth street between Hill and Main, about 11:30 last night brought the fire department hurrying to the scene, and although it was only a two-room structure the blaze was put out before the building was destroyed. The fire was in an old, unoccupied house in which hoboes have been spending the night. Hoboes undoubtedly started the blaze, for there was plenty of straw and other material there for that purpose.

SETTLEMENT OF TROUBLES TO BE LEFT TO COMMISSION

Villa Said to Have Demanded Surrender of City of Chihuahua.

(By United Press)
Washington, July 14.—Secretary Lansing submitted to President Wilson and cabinet Carranza's suggestion for the appointment of a commission of three from each nation to settle the Mexican problem. It became known that President Wilson heartily approves the plan. He expected to formally approve them this afternoon before leaving for a week-end trip in the Mayflower.

El Paso, July 14.—Villa has demanded the surrender of Chihuahua City, it is authoritatively reported. General Bell declared that he was reliably informed that Trevino had defected from the Carranza government. It is reported that Villa informed Trevino that if Chihuahua was not surrendered, the entire Villa army will attack it. Trevino revoked orders detaining the shipments of supplies the Americans' expedition.

JUSTICE JOHN H. CLARK

(By United Press)
Washington, July 14.—The president nominated Judge John H. Clark, of Cleveland, Ohio, associate justice, succeeding Justice Hughes. The nomination was sent to the senate today.

CITY NEWS

Farm Name Registered.
C. E. and Hulda J. Rich, of Crawfordville, have registered with Secretary of State Olcott the name of Garden Home Poultry Farm for their place in the eastern part of this county.

Admitted to Probate.
Judge D. B. McKnight today issued letters admitting to probate the will of the late George B. Needles, deceased, and George J. Wilhelm, of Harrisburg, was appointed administrator cum testamento annexo.

Harris Estate in Probate.
M. W. Smead, of Sweet Home, has been appointed administrator of the estate of S. M. Harris, who died July 8. The only heirs of the $1500 estate are Edward W. Harris and Calvin D. Harris.

Some City.
According to different Chautauqua speakers Albany is the finest city anywhere, has the neatest streets, the prettiest lawns, the handsomest women, the best-looking men, its band has no superior and its Chautauqua grounds and pavilion are on the apex. There is one mill that will never stop grinding—the taffy factory.

Crops Look Fine.
A trip out in the country in Ex-Sheriff Smith's Buick leaves no doubt about this. The recent rains did a great thing for wheat and crops generally, and just now the prospect is golden. Prices are in keeping with looks.

Cruelty to Animals.
A woman residing in the first ward complains of a case of cruelty to animals of an aggravating manner. She says a man there last evening whipped his horse in a brutal manner, causing general indignation among those who saw it.

Sold Another Dodge.
W. H. McMahon, of Halsey, yesterday evening bought the first car out of a new carload of Dodges, the second carload unloaded lately by the Ralston Motor Company.

Mrs. Murdock and Daughter.
Mrs. Victor Murdock and her charming little daughter went to Salem last evening for a short stay, after a visit with Mrs. Murdock's cousins, Misses Alice and Kate Allen, of this city. Mrs. Murdock is a very bright woman, of pleasing personality, and has made many friends in her short stay here. They will return to Albany and later join Mr. Murdock, Corvallis Jitney Dance.

The Woman's Club, of Corvallis, is going to give a jitney dance, which has become so popular this summer, on the street in front of the postoffice in Corvallis Saturday evening. There are ten committees at work in Corvallis, each pledged to secure at least $100, and it is one of these committees which is staging the dance. Gertrude Nolan and some friends were here yesterday scattering hand bills and advertising the event. No doubt a good crowd will drive over from here.

COUNCIL TURNS DOWN BONDING PROPOSITION

Special Meeting of Council Last Evening Failed to Consider Offers of Agents.

Without explaining their action or giving any reason the city council last evening unanimously voted to indefinitely postpone the proposition of taking up the $87,710 of outstanding warrants with 5 per cent bonds and the two bond buyers were sent back to their firms this morning sadder but wiser men.

At the meeting of the council Wednesday evening, C. S. Kelly and B. C. Haines, representing Portland firms, offered to pay the costs of a special election to put the proposition of bonding the city before the people. The matter was up at the last election but was defeated largely because, instead of providing for but the one case, the amendment made it possible for the council to issue bonds at will. The principle of the matter of taking up warrants drawing 6 per cent interest and replacing them with 5 per cent bonds and placing the city's credit on a solid and desirable basis, was not disputed. There has been considerable talk since the proposition was defeated, of taking it up again, and it will no doubt be presented to the people at the December election at the latest.

But Messrs. Kelly and Haines, who are anxious to buy Albany bonds while the bond market is good, urged the council to place the matter before the people at once while the market is sure. They also pointed out the saving that the six months time would save in the difference in interest. The council would not vote Wednesday evening, but made the subject a special order for the following evening, when the two bidders were to submit sealed proposals as to what they would do. When the council was called to order last evening the buyers were present and ready with their offers, but a motion was made and carried that the matter be indefinitely postponed. In spite of the efforts of the two men, who had remained over a day, to get a hearing, the members were resolute in their intention not to have anything to do with the matter and the bids were not even opened.

MATAWAN, N. J. HAS A BIG SHARK FIGHT IN PROGRESS

Have a Creek With Three Sharks Penned in With Posse After Them.

(By United Press)
Matawan, July 14.—The terribly mangled body of Lester Stillwater, a victim of the man-eating shark was recovered in Matawan Creek today. Hunting sharks continues. Everybody is fishing, and hunting with all sorts of weapons. The mouth of the creek is completely netted now. It is believed that when the tide ebbs this afternoon the water will be shallow enough to locate three sharks seen since the attack.

WOODROW WILSON AND PROGRESSIVES

Upon Receiving Endorsement By Bull Moose the President Bids For Support.

WANTS TO DESERVE SUPPORT OF ALL PROGRESSIVES

Declares That the Democratic Party Represents Most Progressive Power.

(By United Press)
Washington, July 14.—Expressing the belief that his party "represents a larger part of Progressive power and thought than any other," the president today made a formal bid for the Progressive vote, in writing J. H. Parker, of Philadelphia, a Progressive who has pledged his support. The president said, "I have no jealousy of independent organization intended to keep independent voters reminded of the opposition, and am fully informed as to parties and conditions under which votes are solicited. I sincerely desire, and have tried to deserve the support of all progressive, forward-looking men. I believe recent experience has confirmed the fact that the Democratic party represents a larger part of the Progressive power, and can be made an instrument for leadership in the direction which all who love justice and progress wish them. For that reason I am proud to be the nominee and have the opportunity to lead it."

A Fiendish Act

Lima, Ohio, July 14.—Four were painfully injured when an unknown man fired a charge of buckshot into a group of passengers on the observation car platform of an eastbound Broadway Limited on the Pennsylvania railroad.

Enthusiasm at Chautauqua

Last days will eclipse all previous efforts. The auditorium should be filled tonight, Saturday and Sunday. Championing the cause of Peace, Frederick Vining Fisher, the eminent lecturer will expound the Program for Peace and Universal Brotherhood at 8 p. m. in his wonderful derisive stereopticon lecture, America Before the World. Every student of history should hear this eminent lecturer, author and traveler. The last of the series of ball games this evening will be full of thrills and excitement.

POLICE ARREST ANOTHER THIEF AND ONE MISSING

Sacks Stolen at Tangent Cause Arrest of Salem Boy This Morning.

A young man giving his name as P. Crossan, of 1810 North Commercial street, Salem, is under arrest and the officers are looking all over this part of the country for another man wanted for stealing 200 grain sacks from the farm of Z. G. Hayes, of Tangent, last night. Early this morning Mr. Hayes came to the office of City Recorder L. G. Lewelling and notified the police that his sacks had been stolen during the night. Chief Catlin got busy at once and called on every junk and second-hand store in town, and finally located the goods by calling up M. Senders & Company, and got there in time to arrest the man with the goods. The sacks were being counted at the time.

Young Crossan told the following as his version of the story: A few days ago he met a strange man in Salem and sold him a horse, only a part payment being made on it. Yesterday Crossan says he drove up to a place near the north end of the Steel bridge and camped and there met the stranger again. When he asked for the balance due on his horse the man gave him one dollar and said he had some sacks to sell in the morning (Friday) and would have the money then. This morning the stranger was painting his wagon and told the boy that if he would use his wagon and one of his horses they would take the sacks to town and sell them. So they crossed the river and drove up to the Senders warehouse. While the sacks were being counted the older man said he would go to a store for some groceries and return soon. Catlin made the arrest of Crossan while he was gone.

The officers are in doubt about this story. It is thought that this is another "mysterious older stranger" case that is being worked so often of late, and that the two are working together. The stranger evidently stayed out of sight, waiting for the boy to get the money and then planned to meet him some place on the road, taking no chances with himself. He is described as being about 40, rather heavy set and wearing a gray shirt and no coat. Sheriff Bodine and Chief Catlin scoured all the roads in autos this morning, but found no trace of him. His horse and wagon were taken possession of and brought to town.

WOMAN CAUGHT IN MACHINERY BADLY INJURED YESTERDAY

Mrs. Monroe Ward Gets Foot Mashed, Leg Broken and Other Injuries in Launch.

Mrs. Monroe Ward was badly cut and bruised, one foot mashed and a leg broken when her skirt caught in the drive shaft of a launch yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Ward was riding in the launch when her skirt got tangled in the shaft, which runs the propeller, turning over at the rate of 1000 revolutions per minute. The clothing was wound up in the shaft and pulled off her body. Her foot was drawn in and mashed and the leg broken. Her ribs were also mashed in a little. Dr. B. R. Wallace, who is attending her, reports that she is recovering nicely from the painful wounds.

RED TAPE HOLDS UP SHIPMENT OF RIFLES

An example of government red tape is told in the following incident: Last week Captain F. C. Stellmacher received notice that the rifles for the Citizens' and Spanish War Veterans' Rifle club were ready for shipment from the arsenal at Benicia, California. Yesterday he received another letter saying that the shipment was being held up because of the absence of a one-cent internal revenue stamp on the shipping receipt. Until this stamp is received the arms will not be shipped. Needless to say the stamp was sent immediately, but the delay of a week or ten days is chafing the members of the club, who are anxious to get to work on the range.

J. J. HOYDER FORMER O. E. AGENT RECEIVES PROMOTION

Is Made San Francisco Agent For the Great Northern and Pacific Steamship Co.

Astorian, July 12.—J. J. Hoydar, who has been agent for the Spokane, Portland and Seattle railway company here during the past fourteen months, has been promoted to agent for the Great Northern Steamship company, at San Francisco. He will leave with his family for the Golden Gate metropolis on the steamship Northern Pacific tomorrow afternoon and will assume his new duties on Saturday.

Mr. Hoydar was the first agent at the new Hill terminal docks here, having been appointed to that position soon after the docks were opened and the steamships Great Northern and Northern Pacific placed in regular service between the Columbia river and San Francisco, in March, 1915. Later he was transferred to the agency of the Spokane, Portland and Seattle railway company here. He has also been agent for the Oregon Electric railway company at Albany, and for Hill lines in other parts of the northwest. During his residence in Astoria Mr. Hoydar, and his wife, and two daughters, have made many warm friends, and it is with regret that it is learned they are to leave for California. Mr. Hoydar, who has been associated with the Hill lines for some years, is one of the most capable employees of that system of railways and steamships.

CITY NEWS

On Another Farm.
In its account of the death of Mrs. Hamilton by the mower accident, the Democrat stated that it occurred on the farm of James McBride, killed by a like accident a year ago. This was a mistake. The accident occurred on the farm of Miss Laura McBride, of this city.

Wool Sold.
The Scio wool pool sold last Saturday afternoon for 34 1/2 cents per pound, M. Senders & Company, of Albany, being the buyers. This is considered a good price in view of the fact that several of the valley pools failed to find a buyer. Delivery was made to West Scio yesterday.—Tribune.

Two Resignations.
Two prominent Oregon Power men have resigned: A. Norman, vice-president, who has been at Eugene three years, who will return to Chicago, and James A. Green, also a vice-president in the Idaho and Montana district.

Oiled Roads.
Benton county has several fine oiled roads leading to Corvallis, and the result is travel to that city. Linn county is asleep along this line, and needs to keep pace with its neighbors in such improvements.

Hat Salesman Here.
William Grundig, well known hat salesman, is in the city placing late fall orders for his firm. Mr. Grundig is popular with his customers and is one of the best men on the road in his line. For many years he was connected with M. Sichel & Co., in Portland, and made many friends among the valley shoppers in Portland.

To Recover Money.
A suit to recover money was filed in the circuit court today by L. R. Cheadle vs. H. W. Borchers. The suit is to collect on two notes for $150 and $200.

Wants Executors Removed.
Alleging that Hayward H. Riddell, a Portland attorney, and W. Boyd Hamilton, executors of the will in the estate of Caroline Hamilton, deceased, have not performed their duties, J. E. Hamilton yesterday filed a petition in the probate court asking that these men be removed and petitioners appointed. Caroline Hamilton died in 1914. The will was admitted to probate March 5, 1914, but since that time nothing has been done, no accounting made or inventory filed. The estate comprises some 320 acres of land.

Proposed Swimming Pool.
A movement is said to be on foot for a bathing pool on Eighth street, from Calapooia to Vine, declared to be a fine place for one, city official says the city has a right to do it, and that any effort by injunction to stop it would be futile. Certainly a swimming pool is badly needed here, and the city's own property should offer an ideal location, provided regulations are made for the proper safeguarding of the rights of people in the vicinity.

BRITISH MAKE GREATEST GAIN

Along Four Mile Front They Advance More Than Mile Near Albert.

SECOND SYSTEM IS ATTACKED AND BROKEN

Two Villages Captured Where the Biggest Reinforcements Were Centered.

(By United Press)
London, July 14.—British troops broke the German line along a four-mile front at dawn today with a smashing blow, sweeping the British into villages at Longueval and Basent-in-legrand, and clearing Trones Woods. The advance was more than a mile. The gain is the greatest since the opening of the great assault thirteen days ago. Early bulletins indicated that one of the greatest battles of the allied offensive is being waged northeast of Albert. Gen. Haig reported "we attacked the enemy's second system of defense, and broke their positions along a four-mile front, capturing strongly defended localities. Heavy fighting continues."

Special dispatches from headquarters announced the capture of villages a blow struck at the very sector where the Germans assembled their heaviest reinforcements. The British advance is in the direction of Bapaume, the immediate objective. Dispatches from headquarters this afternoon reported that the British are continuing their advance and have captured the village of Bazentin Le Petit. The village Ovillers is mostly in the hands of British, with furious fighting in the outskirts. Many prisoners have been taken, including a German regimental commander.

Bazentinpetit, a mile north of Bazentingrand, whose capture was unofficially reported this morning. It is less than a mile from Martinpuch Height, toward which the British are advancing. This marks the point of greatest British advance toward Bapaume. The British repulsed several counter attacks.

GALLOWAY HOLDS TARNS REGISTRATION ACT VALID

The attention of the circuit court this morning was occupied by the case of W. P. Elmore, administrator of the estate of H. B. Moyer against the Stephens-Russell Company. The arguments were finished and the case taken under advisement. In the case of John Finley vs. Finley and W. J. Morrison, Judge Galloway rendered a decision in favor of the plaintiff. The case was brought by John Finley to quiet title to lands. The defendants claimed title under the unconstitutionality of the Tarns registration act. Plaintiff admitted defective administration in the title, claiming that the defect was removed by his act. Judge Galloway upheld this contention. He stated that it was a question to be settled by the supreme court and no costs were assessed to either party. The case will be appealed.

The case of J. M. Hawkins vs. S. K. Barnes was coming on for trial at press time. This is a case to account for property, plaintiff having leased a farm to defendant.

THINGS AGAIN IN A TURMOIL IN IRELAND

(By United Press)
Cork, July 14.—Several hundred rioters had parades in the streets this morning boosing and hissing the English soldiers, smashing the windows of recruiting offices. They had previously inscribed on gates and pillars of the tar works the words "up with republic." The soldiers finally dispersed the rioters. Shots were fired outside the residence of the chief recruiting officers, but nobody was killed.

Weather Report.
Yesterday's temperature ranged between 74 and 47 degrees. The river fell to 3.4 feet.

"America Before the World"

Frederick Vining Fisher, who lectures at Chautauqua this evening at 8:15 on the above title. Don't fail to hear this great lecturer.
