APPRECIATE WILSON.

Journal—"The masses of the American people are in favor of peace and strong in their alignment against war. They are grateful to the president for keeping us out of war and will uphold him in the coming election."

Such is the opinion of Frederick Vining Fisher, lecturer, author, and traveler. Mr. Fisher was head of the bureau of lectures at the Panama-Pacific exposition and has spoken in nearly every state in the Union.

"Every place I have lectured there has been universal applause for President Wilson, especially on his peace policy. It has been so marked that Republicans hearing my talks have said that there was no doubt about the president's re-election. The applause was especially noticeable in the east, one instance being at the New York Press club."

"I have the same experience nearly every place I talk. When I mention the name of Allen Benson, people do not know him. When I speak of Roosevelt the audience laughs. Hughes' name causes a silence, but when I mention Wilson, the assemblage breaks into a tremendous applause."

Speaking of Hughes, Mr. Fisher remarked:

"Mr. Hughes is a fraternity brother of mine and I have known him for years. But he is hardly the man for the presidency. He is the same type of man as Taft—a standpater. He is not a progressive in any sense of the word and that is the sort of man we need in the presidential chair now."

"The sentiment of the country is for peace and democracy. The people are against the rule of the few, as in the case of Europe. And it is the government of the few that causes wars."

Asked if he were a Democrat, Mr. Fisher replied:

"No, I am from a strong Republican family and am a Republican myself. But I vote for the man and the principles, not for the party. That is the reason I am for Wilson. His preparedness plan is sane. We should not prepare for war, but for peace. And Mr. Wilson is endeavoring to keep the peace."

A TOWN'S ENEMIES.

In every town there are men who do the place more harm than good. They are the ones referred to when some one says: "This town needs several good funerals." The following from the Medford Tribune covers the subject well:

- 1. Those who oppose improvements. 2. Those who knock strangers and who knock the town to strangers. 3. Those who show hospitality to no one. 4. Those who hate to see others succeed. 5. Those who distrust public-spirited men. 6. Those who oppose every movement which does not originate with themselves. 7. Those who enjoy the benefits that come from the work of public-spirited, broad-minded men, but who give nothing but criticism in return.

Do you belong? Why not reform? It is a splendid thing to be a part of a wide-awake city. It is a splendid thing to know that your strength is finitely multiplied by the strength of other men who love their towns as you do. It is a splendid thing to feel that the wholesome blood of a community can be united in common purposes and that by frankly looking one another in the face and taking counsel with one another prejudices will drop away, handsome undertakings will arise, a universal spirit of service will be engendered and that with this increasing sense of community of purpose will come a vast enhanced individual power of achievement; for we will be lifted by the whole mass of which we constitute a part.

MISFITS

A Corvallis paper says there was but one singer at the Chautauqua there entitled to a license to sing.

A great many singers ought to have their voices packed in ice for awhile.

And some ought to be involved in an injunction suit.

Some good singers at the Albany Chautauqua, though, girls with sweet, pleasing voices.

But here and elsewhere local singers generally think they could do better.

There has been only one Jenny Lind.

A lecturer said that some men will give $10 for a hat and only 10c for an idea.

There are 460 men in the penitentiaries of the country to three women, according to a speaker. This probably accounts for the fact that most of the attendants of churches are women.

After hearing several Chautauqua speakers we have come to the conclusion that Albany is a little the best place in the world, and that the man who would knock Albany would be a fit subject for an electric chair.

By the way, that would be a good place for most professional knockers.

Albany really is a superior place, with great advantages.

Just now with two fine new institutions, loganberry juice factory and the furniture factory, Albany people ought to spread themselves until they look like a Los Angeles booster, and talk only in optimisms.

Corvallis Played.

G.T.—Zubelin flayed the city of Corvallis for its high school, its lighting system, its dual telephone system, its railroad tracks in the streets, its dilapidated wooden buildings up town, its over-hanging trees, its weeds and potatoes in the parkings, its wasteful method of sewage disposal, and its county jail.

Another One.

Mr. Editor: If I were czar of Corvallis, I should make of it a city, instead of an assemblage of small farms. I would prohibit the planting of potatoes and other vegetables in the streets and parkings. I should relegate cows, pigs and chickens to the ranches where they belong.
