JEWELERS HEAR

I. E. Staples, of Portland, of the "Optical End of the Jewelry Business." Mr. Staples is an interesting talker and lived up his talk with his natural wit. Col. John L. Shepherd, of New York, representing the Keystone Watch Case Co., who is an old favorite with the jewelers, gave a general talk to the Oregon jewelers. He is on the road most of the time and imparts valuable information wherever he goes. Years ago Mr. Shepherd was in the newspaper business, and was a welcome caller at the Democrat office.

Following the speaking the committees made their reports, unfinished business was disposed of, officers for the new year were elected, a meeting place decided upon, and after another round table discussion, a practice that results in much mutual benefit to the individual retailers, the business sessions of the ninth annual convention were at an end.

Tonight in the Hotel Albany the local jewelers will entertain the visiting members of the trade at an elaborate banquet. I. E. Staples, of Portland, is toast master. An interesting program of speeches and entertainment has been arranged, and the annual of the jewelry craft will come to an end in the merry whirls of a dance.

Among the jewelers attending the convention are Syd Weinsbank, San Francisco; Col. John L. Shepherd, New York; G. A. Brock, Los Angeles; W. O. Duwall, Portland; Wm.

ANTI CAMPAIGN BILL IS FULL OF GINGER

Blind Senator Has Bill Before Congress That Is Stirring Things Up.

(By United Press)

Washington, July 25.—A corrupt practices bill introduced by Senator Owen of Oklahoma placing rigid restrictions on money spending by candidates for office has run the house gauntlet successfully, and with the administration's solid support, is waiting today to be pushed in the senate so as to be effective for this year's presidential and congressional election.

"You can't buy a cigar for an old-time constituent under that bill," asserted an indignant house member as the measure was about to pass there. Its friends declare it makes slush funds, jack-pots, and expenditures out of the reach of the ordinary man, impossible.

Under penalty of a fine up to $10,000, imprisonment of not less than a year, and—in the case of a candidate for office illegally elected under its provisions—disqualification for his office.

The bill forbids candidates to promise offices in return for support; expenditures other than costs of meetings, literature, and other specified items, corporations or their officers to contribute to a campaign fund; imposing money into a congressional district to affect the congressional election; newspapers to run "puffs" without labelling them "paid ads"; withdrawal of ads or patronage from a newspaper because of a political stand.

A president may not have more than $50,000 spent to obtain his nomination; a vice-president is limited to $25,000. A senator may spend $5,000 for nomination or election; a congressman, $2,500.

In addition, the national committees may spend $400,000 for their presidential tickets; and the national congressional committees the same amount, National officers are criminally liable if more is spent.

Pipe Hits Head—

Francis Arnold, who is improving his property on Tenth street by digging a cellar under his house and putting in a lateral sewer, had an accident this morning that was not quite so funny to him as it was to Deputy Sheriff Ralph Thom, who was working with him. Arnold was working in the ditch and was stooping over to lay a sewer pipe when another pipe on the top of the loose earth at the side of the trench started to roll and struck him on the head. Arnold thought the whole house had hit him for a few minutes and was stretched out on the grass to recover. Today he is wearing a halo of a bump on the back of his head that hardly permits his hat to fit comfortably.

No money over $50 may be spent by any individual for a candidate, acting for himself alone.

When individuals organize into clubs, they must register with the clerk of the house of representatives, keep a public account of all funds received and paid out and twice before and once after election file these expense accounts at Washington.

The total any man may spend, whether as an individual or as a club member, or both, is $5,000.

The fine and imprisonment clauses are not discretionary with the court. Anyone found guilty must be imprisoned one year. Convicted candidates too must lose the places to which they were illegally elected.

Witnesses who testify for the state are granted full immunity, except for perjury committed on the stand.

Each and every person who handles, receives, or pays out money illegally under this act, is individually criminally responsible.

CHARLES CHAPLIN BREAKS HIS OWN LAUGH RECORD

"The Floorwalker" is the first of the Mutual Chaplin comedies scheduled to be shown here at the Globe theatre, Wednesday and Thursday.

In "The Floorwalker" the million dollar comedian has worked in some of the most ludicrous stunts he has ever performed for the camera. His antics on the escalator, or moving stairway, are exceedingly novel and screamingly funny.

For these particular scenes, depicting the interior of a modern department store, an escalator, an exact replica of one used in one of New York's largest stores, was constructed. It is operated by electricity. The stunts pulled on this escalator by Chaplin furnish more laughs than there are feet of film.

There will also be shown on the same bill Mae Murray, a new Paramount star, in "To Have and to Hold," Mary Johnson's story of the Virginia colonies.

Ten Gas Victims.

(By United Press)

It is estimated that 23 were killed when the waterworks tunnel gas exploded. Electrical machinery ignited the gas. The explosion was not discovered until this afternoon. After ten corpses had been removed the rescuers estimated that 13 remained.

Cleveland, Ten corpses were taken from the Cleveland waterworks tunnel, below Lake Erie, where the rushing gas overcame fifteen laborers and eight rescuers last night. Twelve were taken out alive.
