FORDS TAKE ANOTHER DROP IN PRICE TODAY

Popular Car of the People Will Sell at $80 Less Than Before Aug. 1.

Henry Ford has decided that he is making too much on his cars and so, beginning today, he clips off $80 from the price of every car sold. Today the prices will be as follows, f. o. b. Detroit: Chassis, $325; roadster, $345; touring car, $360. This will make the prices in Albany about as follows: Runabout, $398.25; touring car, $413.25. These prices will remain until August 1, 1917. At least, they will be no lower, and the company does not guarantee that they will be no higher.

The inroads being made on Ford sales by other makes of cars selling at between $500 and $700, with some equipment, was probably the cause of the drop. However, in spite of the fact that many cars of other makes have been sold, there has been no let up in the demand for the sturdy, if not beautiful, little vehicle. W. W. Crawford, agent for Linn County, states that he has sold well over 200 cars this season past, over 80 of which were sold from the local office, the balance being sold through sub-agents throughout Linn and Benton counties. The last purchases of Fords were made by J. E. Arnett, of Tangent, and Ed. Nitzle, of Sheard.

With the big drop-off in price Mr. Crawford expects to boost the next 12 months' sales to over 300 cars for this district.

soil, get the help of the transportation companies in getting a big saw mill located here, take care of the enterprises here and go after more. Many good suggestions are contained in the letter.

J. H. Ralston addressed the question box on the matter of having a committee appointed to visit the city and make suggestions for the lessening of fire dangers. He pointed out that by the proper procedure Portland had been saved over $600,000 in fire losses.

Farmer Smith Talks.
"Farmer" Smith, agricultural expert of the O. W. R. & N. Co., addressed the club in an informal manner and took a few good shots at the business men and farmers of this, as well as other sections of the country. He talked getting together between the merchant and farmer and discussed the misunderstandings of each. He stated that there are all kinds of men in every community—progressive, successful, optimistic men who will make a success any place, while at the same time there are the opposite kind who are always growling and never get any place. He said he has been in the business 40 years and he hears the same stories now that he did then.

SHOWS EVERYWHERE.

War Does Not Stop Griffith's Production in European Nation's Now at War.

In spite of the world's greatest and most far reaching war, a great American spectacular and, incidentally, argument for peace, has invaded the cohorts of Europe and promises to stay.

The Birth of a Nation opened a two years' run at the famous Covent Garden in London, on July 5th, 1915, and August 1st, commenced at the Grand Opera House in Paris, the world's most magnificent opera house, also at the La Scala in Milan, Italy, historic among the noted opera houses of the earth.

It is also announced that other celebrated European capitals are soon to be invaded by the big production—Vienna and Berlin among them.

Just what sentiment those countries will show in our reconstruction period and its terrors (which may be very like their own soon) the workings of the Ku Klux Klan, etc., will be interesting to note. They are pretty well read upon the Civil War over there; and on Lincoln, Grant and Lee almost as well as we are, but whether the sentiments of the immense story will find the same response there is another question.

Of course the Birth of a Nation is purely American—but its lessons are as broad as humanity itself. The wonderful realism of war, however, and the amazement of it all, will take the place of local color with them and
