HIGH PRICES.

If you have an idea that prices are high in the U. S., try Buenos Ayres, Argentina, where one gets the genuine article in highness.

A cake of toilet soap retailing at 25c in the United States costs $1.71 there. This is typical of Argentine prices generally. They are perfectly terrific, stupefying, incredible.

Drugs cost three to four times what they cost in north America, ordinary tooth brushes 80 cents each, everyday gloves $7 a pair.

A 4-room, steam heated flat in a good, but not aristocratic part of the city, cannot be had for less than $16 a month. A similar flat, minus the heat, may be had for $52.80. There are four or five months there during which heat must be had; and Cardiff coal, practically the only kind on the market, costs from $2.16 to $2.94; sometimes a bit more.

In the remote suburbs tiny boxes of houses may be rented for $32.50 a month, without heat, light and everything else except four walls. These quarters are too far away from the business center to be considered by a man whose business hours are at all exacting.

Expensive heating and lighting must also be considered. Transportation is cheap. If he can spare the time he can travel twice daily for $4.40 a month.

Meat is not high, as Argentina is a meat country. The very fanciest cuts of beefsteak may be had at 25 cents a pound. Ribs and rump steak cost 17 1-2 cents a pound, mutton 13, veal 30 1-2 cents and pork 22 cents.

Other items of household expense will be about like this: Butter 44, bread 5 1-2, coffee 44, tea 39 1-2, granulated sugar 11, chicken 35 cents a pound.

Milk costs 8 cents a quart. Eggs are 48 cents a dozen. Potatoes cost 35c for 22 pounds. Oranges are 66 cents a dozen, bananas 22 cents a dozen and apples 6 cents each.

A suit which would cost $25 in New York or Chicago or San Francisco, costs $45 in Buenos Ayres. A pair of $5 or $6 American shoes cost $15. A $3 American hat costs between $6 and $7. An ordinary suit of winter underclothing costs $10, United States money.

The man who buys his wife a not over-fashionable walking suit must pay $50 for it. If she is not too particular, he can get her a bonnet for $20.

If he wants to keep up with the news, each paper costs him 4 cents. The price of a 15 cent American magazine is 26 cents.

The beer costs 13 cents per glass. A waiter must bring each glass to a small table and every time he expects a tip of 4 cents. Whiskey, including the tip is 22 cents a glass.

There is practically no such thing as a cigar for less than 8 cents and these are practically unsmokable. Havana cigars cost from 44 cents up.

The man who falls ill will have to pay an ordinary family doctor $5 a visit. If his teeth hurt him, it will cost $5 an hour to have repairs made, unless he goes to an expensive dentist in which case there is practically no maximum limit.

People who like to keep clean must pay their washerwoman approximately the same price as are charged by the high-priced New York laundries.

Roughly speaking, it costs about twice as much to live in Buenos Ayres as it costs to live in Chicago.

MATTHEW HALE FOR WILSON

Declaring that real Progressives will support Woodrow Wilson, Matthew Hale, acting chairman of the Progressive National Committee, has issued a statement in which he gives his reasons for not being "delivered" to the Republican party. "I shall do all I can to help reelect President Wilson," he says, and following are his reasons: "He has actually put into effect more progressive legislation than any president we have ever had. I need only cite the federal law, the direct election of United States senators, the Rural Credits Act and the Federal Employment Bureau. His persistent advocacy of the National Child Labor Law, shows that he is as eager as ever to continue this legislative record. He has shown great sympathy for the whole progressive movement, and he has shown an ability to secure the cooperation of his party in putting his progressive ideas into actual legislation.

"Mr. Hughes, on the other hand, does not impress one as being in real sympathy with the underlying economic ideals of the Progressive party. His speeches when they deal with these questions sound like ordinary Republican stump speeches, patting the laborers on the back with vague phrases and congratulating the employers for their "welfare work." They do not sound like the speeches of a man who has really studied these very vital subjects."

MISFITS

A sample of modern politics is the claim for political effect that the war has made the present prosperity of the country; but the party that makes this claim is not willing to admit that it is the war that makes high prices.

As a matter of fact the war has called for only a small per centage of the increase in business; but it is known emphatically that the war is the result of the greatly increased price of things.

There is a big misfit in the item about the old man back east who took his first auto ride this week, though 90 years of age, and was killed the first time and the last.

On every auto there should be the words Safety First.

Most auto accidents could be avoided by ordinary care.

This is such a hurrying age that men haven't even time to be careful.

Misfits acknowledges an invitation to the marriage of Eugene Lane and Miss Coos tomorrow at Marshfield; but where's the money for the wedding present.

And then we'd have to wear that ancient wedding tie and strangers wouldn't understand.

All that can be done is to send our blessings upon the fine young couple and wish them an immense family.

Linn county can have just as good roads as Marion county up in the foothills, and should have them.

It stirs one up to get out into other places and see how fine things look.

A New York barber strike is something new. The Militia should be sent for.

Tall Timothy Geer, once Gov. is again taking a hand in politics. If Hughes will keep up his travels, the Oregonian will continue its attacks and Geer will jump into the ring.

there will not be any question about Wilson's re-election.

Completely across the front page of the Coos Bay Times are the words: "It may be that the world owes every man a living; but it is hard for some of them to prove it."

The Verdun battle is now six months old, aged enough to be ashamed of itself for the trouble it has caused in the world.

Let it be remarked right at the beginning of the deer season that the man who mistakes another man for a deer himself deserves some kind of punishment.
