PROGRESSIVES FOR WILSON.

On the letter-head of Richards & Richards, attorneys, of Portland, Ore., went the following, dated July 8th: "Dear President Wilson:—I trust that you will pardon me for these few lines. Four years ago I was a delegate to the Republican National Convention at Chicago from the state of Washington and went out and became a Progressive; and as we had no leader we accepted the leadership of one Theodore Roosevelt, who has since proven to have been unworthy to have led such a magnificent host. I later ran for congress as a Progressive but was defeated in the black belt of Washington where the big timber barons flourish. "I was rather glad when you were elected for I deemed you the best man for the place and wanted more to beat the old republican gang than anything else

"Now what do we see? This same old gang behind Hughes for president. And what will the Progressives do? Why about nine-tenths will vote for you, Mr. Wilson. I predict that you will carry nearly every state in the Union just as you did before and that you will win by a clear majority of over a million votes, for the people are with you. "For various reasons my people—that is my immediate family who have been about a third Republican, a third Progressive and third Democrat—are all registered in Oregon as Republicans, and every one of them without exception will vote for Woodrow Wilson for president. And I find among the common people a tendency in the same direction. There is an awful surprise awaiting the old line politicians of the Republican party. I am well acquainted with the drift of affairs on this coast, and will say that you will carry the three Pacific Coast states, California, Oregon and Washington, without a doubt. You may think I am a bit enthused but, Mr. President, you will be surprised this fall when you hear from this coast.

We do not vote for you expecting any private gain, but vote for you because we deem you the one safe and honest man in this republic for whom we have a chance to vote, and that you will do your best for the welfare of us all and of our country.

BRYAN AND WILSON.

Mr. Bryan will begin a speaking tour in behalf of President Wilson about September 15. Having been quite emphatic in speaking against the president when he resigned from the cabinet some time back, the silver tongued orator will now know just what it is like to be on both sides of the fence.—Eugene Register.

All of which is untrue, except the coming speeches. Mr. Bryan did not speak against the president after he resigned. On the contrary he spoke in high terms of the president and his accomplishments. In his paper not a word can be found against Wilson. They differed only in the matter of preparedness and methods for retaining peace for our country.

MRS. HUGHES' INTERVIEW.

A lady reporter for one of the republican papers there interviewed Mrs. Hughes, or tried to, and made her report, leaving out the real facts in the report, but which she told privately as follows: "She was the hardest woman to get to say anything that I ever talked to. Every time I asked her what she thought about anything she said: 'I think just as my husband does.' After I'd been with her a couple of hours she got off her guard, however, and began talking about woman suffrage. "After traveling through the western states," she said, "where woman suffrage seems to be such a success,

I am beginning to change my mind about it." "Oh," I exclaimed, "then you really have not been in favor of it?" "Mrs. Hughes nearly fell out of the automobile. 'Oh, what have I said,' she cried. 'I'm afraid I've said something I shouldn't. You mustn't quote me—I really haven't thought about votes for women at all.' "And that was the way it was all the time—she either wouldn't say anything at all, or when she did say something she said I mustn't quote her."

MISFITS

A letter came to the post office at Corvallis addressed 1w7-15-16 to 9-7-16, Corvallis, Or., and it reached the right place. The figures were at the bottom of an advertisement in the G. T. showing how long it was to run, and the answer was to the advertisement.

Ge. it transpires that S. Benson, for whom there was a big celebration sometime ago honoring him as Oregon's first citizen, wasn't a citizen at all, he having been naturalized since.

It will be somewhat of a whiskers affair when J. Ham Lewis comes out this way in the tracks of Hughes.

A tremendous effort has been made to stave the big strike off until after the wedding at Marshfield today.

Mrs. Hughes says that she thinks just as her husband does. Oh, dear me!

Privately she has been against woman suffrage, said to be like her husband heretofore until he wanted votes.

U. S. Senator Ollie James wears a $150 Panama hat, a present. About one hundred times our financial size.

Again the papers are running a former satanic majesty on the Democrat for U. S. senator.

As to Picnics.

I never saw a picnic spread. That did not have among the eats some peanut butter on the bread. And many plates of pickled beets. —Youngstown Telegram.

And as for picnic spreads I know of many jaunty little trips. Where all they had was just a row of boxes of potato chips. —Birmingham Age-Herald.

I never to a picnic went—

And this is true, I hope to die— At which a summer-painted gent But sat down in soft custard pie. —Houston Post.

I never to a picnic hied. Dolled up in ice-cream pance. But that when they notified They'd notified the ance. —Washington Post.

I never in a picnic shared. But what the cakes and custard pies And other sweet things they'd prepared Lured all the world's supply of flies. —Detroit Free Press.

The thing that gives a picnic rating. Placing it high in the minds of kids Is the spirit of watchful waiting. Which absolutely nothing forbids.
