PORTLAND WEEKLY STOCK MARKET REPORT

Cattle—Monday's cattle market opened with another large number of 1600 head. There was a large offering of inferior quality, steers and cows in the run, although there were a number of loads of good quality stuff here. There were a few loads of prime steers sold at $7.25 with other loads from $6.25 to $7.00. Inferior quality steers rather slow demand, although prices held steady on this class of stuff. A few prime heifers brought $6 and a few cows $5.75 the bulk of prime cows sold at $5.50 to $5.60 with inferior grades as high as $3. Bulls were in good demand at slightly higher prices, although there were no real fat bulls in the trade the best brought $4.25. Prime light calves sold 50 cents higher bringing $8.00, although a few were sold from $6.50 to $7. Trading in the stockers and feeders division was limited to a few loads, prices ranging from $3 to $5.75.

Hogs—A moderate run of hogs was here Monday. Prices were 10 to 15 cents higher over last weeks close. Tops sold at $9.75, bulk going at $9.60 to $9.70.

Sheep—Sheep market is firm, with unchanged prices. Some fairly good yearlings here Monday that were taken at $7.40. Dressed was good although there was hardly enough offered to start tickers. A bunch of fair lambs brought $8.30. Outside of this only a few other sales were made. Prime sheep of all grades remain in demand at higher prices.
