SATURDAY NIGHT THOUGHTS

While the European war is the biggest event in the history of the world now in progress there are other things attracting attention for the war has become almost a monotony in the minds of the people, tired of so much slaughter, without apparent results.

Overshadowing the war on this side is also the doings of a lone submarine, that sneaked across the ocean from Germany and before any one knew it was here destroyed six vessels belonging to foreign countries. It was certainly a feat on par with the trip of the Deutschland, one that is bound to make people admire the resources of the men at the back of it. Perhaps it came pretty close to stepping on our toes, because it frightened our people. Its presence off the coast of the U. S., has caused all manner of conjectures. Some declared there was a whole flotilla of them. Others said there is a naval base along the coast. Both are undoubtedly entirely wrong. There is no base here, and there is only one of the subs along the coast, and one is enough. Two would frighten the lives out of some people. In the meantime, this particular sub is spotted and the outcome will be a new arrangement, making it impossible for foreign submarines to cavort around the waters of the U. S. menacing our commercial interests.

Politics, yes, and this is the premier month, the last before election, with something about all the time. Speeches everywhere bombard the ears of the people, and they certainly have been educated this year. While there is no trouble to know how to vote, there often is in the adjustment of the conscience, which frequently gets warped until it looks as if it had slept in a steam bath.

This Saturday night sees this Misfit man more confident than ever that Mr. Wilson will be reelected. He can't see anything else in the big straw votes that fully nine times out of ten are on the side of Mr. Wilson. Besides it is in the air.

In Albany there has been a harvest festival and round-up, a combination that, aided by splendid weather, is hard to beat as a drawing card. Albany's harvest show has been a good one speaking for our industries and the taste and talent of our people. The round-up displaying the genius of the men who have lived on the range is one of great interest, possessing a dash of great interest, offering a form of entertainment, intensely interesting to the average everyday kind of an individual.

MISFITS

The women's millionaire special yelling for Hughes in this woman's suffrage state makes a live picture.

Our Round-Up has beaten 'em all but Pendleton, and we're not certain about Pendleton's being better.

Like the hangers-on at a circus those following the Round-Up furnish the roughness mostly.

This town is evidently a Round-Up hub.

All over the country people are rounding-up for Wilson.

Rube Marquard said he was as sure of Wilson's election as of Brooklyn's winning the championship. He made a mistake in adding the latter. The first part continues good.

Nine straws out of ten show for Wilson.

Mr. Hughes continues to just criticize. Now, really, what would he do?

He would probably do about the way he registered and voted for six years!

They have been yelling prosperity in the east for some time. Now it is striking Oregon. Here's a good one from the Amity Standard:

Never before has this country seemed as prosperous as it is at the present time. The warehouses in this section are running over with grain and hay. The prices offered are unprecedented and our people are happy. Larger transactions are beginning to be made which is evidence of better times. Just what is causing the change is a question upon which there is a difference of opinion. Some hold that the war is responsible for the whole thing, while others put forth arguments that the war has nothing to do with it. Be that whatever it may, we are enjoying prosperity and among those with whom prosperity should ever start—the producers. The most of this property will be used for permanent improvements of the farms of this country and its good will be felt for years to come.

Poor Reason.

Pendleton E. O.: From a narrow-minded quarter there is some criticism of Pendleton as a location for the eastern Oregon normal on the ground that this is a "cow town" because it stages the Round-Up. It is a line of campaigning that should bring every loyal Pendletonian to the defence of the city and the support of the normal measure. The fact the Round-Up is held here does not detract in the slightest from the value of this place as a normal school site.

This Is the Range You've Been Wanting

Many housewives in this community have long been looking for a more modern and convenient range. At last we've found just what you've been wanting—the Leonard Hi-Oven Range—made in fourteen different styles. Every range has a convenient elevated oven—no more stooping—and there are many other convenient and special features. We have been appointed exclusive agents for this remarkable line.

Leonard Hi-Oven Ranges

(Burn Coal or Wood—May be equipped for Gas)

ARE A PROVEN SUCCESS—SATISFACTION GUARANTEED
Though new in this locality, Leonard Hi-Oven Ranges are not a new and untried line.

In other localities where Leonard Hi-Oven Ranges are sold they are creating a great sensation, as every range gives splendid satisfaction. Made in 14 styles, and a style to suit you.

YOUR INSPECTION INVITED

We want every housewife, whether needing a new range or not, to come in and inspect our line of Leonard Hi-Oven Ranges. See them in demonstration at Central building, 1st door to left.
