CITY NEWS

The Newly Weds—

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hawkins, of Salem, were in the city yesterday for a Sunday visit at the home of their parents.

Left for Philadelphia—

Prof. McConaughy, of Philadelphia, after a residence in and around Albany, left for home this afternoon, with a number of stops on the way. Yesterday he spent most of the day at Meadowview, near Junction, with G. W. Rohrbaugh and others. He greatly endeared himself into the hearts of those with whom he came in contact while here.

Hallowe'en Window—

That's some hallowe'en window down at the Art Craft. If that doesn't give one the fever nothing can. By the way there is no day in the year that brings more real fun than hallowe'en when properly celebrated, as it is by most people nowadays.

Returned to Portland—

Mrs. Will Crofton and son, of Portland, returned home yesterday, after a visit at the home of Mrs. Crofton's father Hez Burkhart.

Went to Portland—

Mrs. Jessie Wallace went to Portland yesterday afternoon.

At Salem—

Prof. Scott of the Maple school, spent Saturday down on the farm of his folks near Salem, helping in the harvesting of some of the late things on the place.

Married at Butte—

Miss Luella Allen, a former well known typewrist of this city, was recently married in Butte, Bon., where she had been residing with her sister and mother. Mr. and Mrs. Shelvik, it is said, will return to Albany to reside.

From Portland—

Mrs. O. H. Luck, of Portland, has returned home after a week's visit at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. McCoy.

Of Central Point—

Mrs. R. A. Pierce, of Central Point, was in the city on a visit. She is a sister of Mrs. P. A. Goodwin.

Salem People Here—

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Bernardi, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bernardi, and Mr. and Mrs. George Hurley, of Salem, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. M. Ludwig, uncle and aunt of Mrs. George Hurley.

Attended Funeral—

A number of Albany relatives and friends of the late Mrs. J. T. Phillips attended the funeral held in Corvallis yesterday afternoon. These included Mr. Elizabeth Milhollen and daughter, Mrs. Hofflake, Mr. and Mrs. George Forgey and daughters, Mrs. A. L. Ramsey and Mrs. James Newman, Mrs. Hudson and her brother, Ammy Cameron. From other parts of Linn county came Mr. and Mrs. Henry Milhollen and Mrs. Warren Hamlin. Others present for the funeral were Mrs. Knuf, Mr. and Mrs. Rowe

PURITY

20 Players—150 Dancing Girls—Barefooted and Barelegged—Draped in Flowing Veils—A Score or More of Miss Munson's Most Celebrated Poses in the Nude, All Staged Amid the Grandeur of Nature and the Glorious Handiwork of Man.

What Men of Authority Say:

She has a wonderful figure, with natural grace and ability for posing. While the wonderful natural scenes in which Miss Munson has been photographed for "Purity" have given her beauty an ideal setting.—Augustus Lukenan, Sculptor.

There is nothing in Miss Munson's poses in the nude that should wound the sensibilities of the most Puritanical person. From an artistic standpoint "Purity" is perhaps the most beautiful screen production I have ever seen.—Albert Jaegers, Sculptor.

Miss Munson's work, particularly in the scenes in which she appears in the nude, is of exceptional quality. None but prudes could find anything suggestive in the picture. I consider "Purity" the most unusual screen production I have ever seen.—Adolph Weinman.

In Corvallis—

Miss Mary Stevens, of Albany, is in Corvallis to remain over the weekend as the guest of Mrs. A. V. Swarthout, who is a guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. McBee.—Gazette-Times.

Unbreakable Dolls—

Mrs. Hattie Mansfield Bartholomew, of Portland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Ross, of this city, recently discovered a preparation for making unbreakable dolls, and has herself manufactured them of such splendid and artistic finish and naturalness as to create a demand for them, and the Meir-Frank Co., of Portland, are anxious to take all she can make. Three of them, Two Indians and Geo. Washington, are at the home of her sister, Mrs. Mack Monteith, making Maxine about the happiest girl in the country: The dolls sell for $5 to $10 apiece.

Big Red Apples.

I offer for sale the apples in my big apple orchard situated one mile east from Albany adjoining Duncan's Albany Floral Gardens. To close out the big red Baldwins, Jonathans and other good eating and cooking varieties, I will sell this week only at the orchard your pick of the apples at the following cash prices; you bring your autos and vehicles and sacks or boxes and pick yourself, the apples from the trees at twenty-five cents a bushel or two bushel sack for fifty cents; and A 1 windfalls at two boxes or one sack for twenty-five cents. Every family should lay in ten or more bushels for winter use of these splendid red apples. Come early and get your pick. GEO. W. WRIGHT, 623tf

CARTOONIST MARRIED.

The Man With a Wonderful Pencil Takes Unto Himself a Wife.

New York, Oct. 19.—When L. Goldberg, the New York Evening Mail

cartoonist whose income is said to be $100,000 a year, turned out his cyster cartoon, "It's All Wrong, Irma, It's All Wrong," his friends wondered who Irma might be. Goldberg was married here yesterday to Miss Irma Seeman, daughter of Siegel W. Seeman, a wholesale grocer.

Goldberg saw Miss Seeman for the first time at a restaurant with her parents about a year ago. It was several months later that he met her. Goldberg is a quiet young man, who does not use the expression: "I'm the guy," "I never thought of that," "It's All Wrong," "Father was right," except in his cartoons. Goldberg is a native of San Francisco. He came to New York in 1907.
