Mrs. J. H. Robnett and Mrs. W. B. Chance, were joint hostesses for a library tea on Thursday afternoon. The rooms were artistically decorated with autumn leaves and pumpkins, fancy work being the diversion of the afternoon. Little Mildred Glann, a small girl of seven years, rendered two piano solos, showing remarkable talent in one so young. Elizabeth Chance followed with two well rendered solos. Miss Lois Yates sang two beautiful solos, Mrs. Canfield presiding at the piano. Delicious refreshments were served at a late hour, after which a straw vote was taken, resulting as follows: Hughes 14, Wilson 8, Hanley one. The following ladies enjoyed the social offering with the hostesses, were Mesdames Oliver, Doughton, Hudkins, Dunn, McKey, Stover, Holman, McDermott, Walter Eastburn, W. E. Eastburn, Mrs. Frank Brown (Salem), Glan (Toledo, Ohio), Butler, Fry, Yates, Wilkins, McCoy, Phillips, Hammer, Canfield, Burton, Smith, Van Tassel, Springer, and Miss Lois Yates.

On Wednesday in the dining room of the high school the Misses Janet Dawson, Ruth Livingston, Maud Rolfe and Ilda Houston served a dainty breakfast. This begins a series of breakfasts and luncheons which the Domestic Science girls will give this term of school. Table decorations of roses were used, with the pretty color scheme of pink and green. On Tuesday another breakfast was given with the Misses Ethel Hussard, Ruth McDaniel, Aletha Cummings and Laverne Hofflich as hostesses. Decorations for this breakfast were of Hallowe'en suggestiveness.

Miss Marion Anderson was hostess on Monday evening to a number of young ladies who met to spend the evening at bridge.

On Friday evening of last week a new club was formed, meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Dooley. The club was named Double Eight and contains sixteen members. Cards formed the diversion of the evening, and Mrs. R. C. Waller received honors for highest score among the ladies and Mr. Townsend for high score of the men.

The members of the covered dish club spent a pleasant evening on Tuesday of this week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. French. Among the invited guests were Mr. and Mrs. Williams of Portland, and Mrs. Byron Taylor of Corvallis.

The social activities of Albany high school began Friday night when the old students gave a reception to the new students. Autumn leaves and decorations characteristic of the Hallowe'en season filled the assembly room of the high school, with a cheery atmosphere. An interesting program was given, a unique feature of which were several comic stunts. Refreshments were served after several contests and games had been played.

On Wednesday evening the Lodge hall of the Knights of Pythias was the scene of a dancing party. A good crowd was in attendance.

A coming event of much interest is the dance which will be given next Tuesday evening by the Holiday Dancing Club.

The members of the Jolly Twelve club, which name has been recently changed to O. D. O., met this week at the home of Mrs. Claud Vunk. Fancy work took up the afternoon's time and later dainty refreshments were served. Hallowe'en decorations were used in the rooms. A lively guessing contest was enjoyed during the afternoon, the first prize for which was awarded to Mrs. L. O. Coates and Mrs. Coffman receiving consolation prize, Mrs. Hoffman of Prineville was the invited guest.

Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Huntley entertained Monday evening with a birthday dinner for their daughter Mary, the occasion being her nineteenth birthday. Games and music formed the diversions of the evening after which a three course supper was served. The guests for this occasion were Miss Olive Millhollen, Miss Gladys McCauley, Miss Gertie Bridges, Mrs. Helen Bridges, Mrs. Walter Fuller, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Huntley, Miss Lena Fuller, Miss Lucile Huntley, Mr. Edward Armstrong, Mr. Olin Nebergall. Decorations were of autumn leaves and chrysanthemums. Mrs. O. Huntley left for Crabtree weeks.

The Missionary Society of the First Presbyterian church met in the church parlors on Wednesday afternoon of this week. A program was given containing a paper on "Eve" which was read by Mrs. G. E. Sanders. "The Presbyterian church and the 'Phillipino'" by Mrs. John Shaw, and Home Mission Items by Mrs. H. S. Logan.

A Library tea of this week was the one of Wednesday for which Mrs. Garrett was hostess. The guests spending the afternoon in fancy work at her home were Mesdames Hudkins, Smith, McDermott, Sanders, Turner, Rutter, Walker, Crawford, Van Tassel, Dunn, Palmer, Morgan, and the Misses Hudkins, Patterson, Gordon, Wheeler.

Miss Helen Hulbert returned to Albany this week after an extended visit through the east.

As a delightful hostess of Monday afternoon Mrs. Fish entertained with a Bridge party. Red was the color scheme of her decorations. The invitation list included the Mesdames W. V. Merrill, Guy Lewelling, D. W. Merrill, Earl Fisher, Willard Marks, Kenton Merrill, Jesse Martin, Veal, Worrell, Pirtle, Junkin, Watson, Eagles, Summers, Okey, Brandberry, Kelly, Leiminger, A. Austin, Riggs, Arnold, Ward, Pate, Walworth, who spent the afternoon at bridge and Mrs. Gipe, Mrs. C. H. Wieder, Mrs. H. M. Palmer and Mrs. G. T. Hockensmith worked in a buttonhole contest. Mrs. Lewelling received prize for the highest score at cards and Mrs. Gipe won the prize for making the best button holes. Misses Lee Fortmiller, Carolyn Wright and Beatrice Sanders assisted Mrs. Fish with serving.

Another delightful affair for which Mrs. L. H. Fish was hostess was the bridge party on Thursday afternoon. The rooms were prettily decorated. The Misses Louise Wieder, and Mae Tillman assisted Mrs. Fish with serving. The guests for this occasion were the Mesdames Bowersox, Tweedale, Haight, Weatherford, Burgegraf, Montgomery, O. D. Austin, Ballack, Sanders, Pugh, Monson, Bandy, Pinkerton (Corvallis), Coates, Watson, Junkin, Hopkins, French, C. H. Wieder, Swann, Barker, W. A. Barrett, J. J. Barrett, Bilyeu, Wayne Stewart, Wm. Pfeiffer, Stark, Rudd, White, Anderson, Hawkins, Pollock, Playing bridge and the Mesdames Green, Wright, Hodges, E. L. Wieder, Gipe, Brown, of Spokane made buttonholes during the afternoon, Mrs. Green receiving the prize for the best buttonholes.

The Entre Nous club was elaborately entertained this week on Tuesday by Mrs. O. D. Austin. A large number of guests were invited for the afternoon. They were the Mesdames W. A. Barrett, Charles Monson, W. C. Tweedale, Earl Fisher, F. C. Pate, A. W. Bowersox, Charles Wieder, Edward Pugh, J. J. Barrett, Francis Arnold, M. Montgomery, Walter Worrell, H. W. Barker, G. E. Sanders, R. A. B. Veal, Alton Coates, John Simpson, Cecil Cathey, L. E. Watson, Grant Pirtle. A dainty collation was served by the hostess assisted by Miss Marcel Austin in the dining room.

Miss Kate Barrett and Mr. Ed. Barrett were hosts on Wednesday evening to the Lafolet club. "500" was the diversion of the evening. Besides the members present several invited guests came in to enjoy the evening. They were Messrs. and Mesdames M. Montgomery, Ed. Pugh, W. F. Pfeiffer, E. C. Brandberry, W. A. Barrett, A. W. Bowersox, Thos. Hopkins. A dainty lunch completed the evening.

On Thursday evening at the home of the president, Mrs. John Carnegie, the members of the New Idea Club entertained at a jolly Hallowe'en party. Arriving guests were greeted at the gate and on the porch by huge grinning jack o' lanterns, and at the doors by silent ghosts. The rooms were appropriately decorated with corn, pumpkins, and black and yellow emblems of the occasion. Shouts of laughter came from the bay-window where Mrs. S. A. Lasselle in characteristic garb, and stirring the contents of a flaming kettle, foretold the future, proving her success in that capacity. Music and games were the entertainment features. During the evening Miss Nina Bending presided at the cider well. Seasonable refreshments were dispensed by the Misses Eva Carnegie, Marguerite Moulton, and Hazel Peebler. The guests departed at a late hour. Club members with their families present were Mrs. Harvey Dunn, Mrs. Scott Ward, Mrs. C. M. Kendall, Mrs. E. L. Peebler, Mrs. R. B. Tower, Mrs. Dick Landon, Mrs. John Carnegie, Mrs. Darwin Carnegie, Mrs. E. J. Knapp, Mrs. J. W. Paley, Mrs. G. B. Peebler, Mrs. Alex Gilberg, and Mrs. S. A. Lasselle. Invited guests were Marguerite Moulton, Mr. Arnold Hodes (Victoria, B. C.), Eugene and Anna Dumond.

Several Albany girls will attend dances Saturday night at the Fraternity houses in Corvallis. Among the girls visiting there will be Miss Marion Anderson, Miss Corintha Hart, Miss Naomi Duncan, Miss Nellie Snyder, Miss Katherine Livenigood, Miss Winnifred Patterson, and Miss Beatrice Sanders.

The True Blue class of girls in the Baptist Sunday school, gave a masquerade party Friday night at the home of one of their members, Eudora McAlpin. Hallowe'en ideas predominated and the guests were conducted from room to room by ghostly figures. A jolly good time was enjoyed until a late hour, when, after refreshments and a last lingering game or so, the guests departed.

The Philathea class of the Baptist School met at the home of Mrs. Joanna Irvine Beard Friday night. The evening was spent in serving, amid much chatter and laughter. Some one suggested that a straw vote be taken and Wilson enthusiasts were much elated at the result—10 to 5 in favor of Wilson. The house was very beautifully decorated in vine maple and the dining table was suggestive of Hallowe'en, with "spooky" place cards and orange and black favors. Those participating in this very delightful evening were: Misses Cassie Thompson, Irene Gilchrist, Purdy, Blanche, Genevieve and Nelle Ragan, Mary Irvine, Berenice Hackleman, Melvin Baltimore, Lloyd Gilchrist, Fred Filkins, and Miss McCourt; an invited guest.

Mrs. William Panck will be a charming hostess tonight when she, with Mr. Panck, will preside over a pretty dinner party. The color scheme of orange and black with the Hallowe'en idea was carried throughout the decorations. Autumn leaves were used in profusion. An elaborate dinner was served with places laid for Messrs. and Mesdames O. D. Austin, R. A. B. Veal, R. Walworth, Dr. G. E. Riggs, Walton Worrell, F. C. Pate, F. R. Willis, M. McAlpin, Hoevet and Mr. and Mrs. Ramsden of Portland. Mrs. Ramsden is a sister of Mrs. Panck. After dinner the evening was enjoyably passed with "500."

A very cleverly arranged and unique affair was the one o'clock luncheon given Friday by Mrs. A. S. Hart entertaining those who so willingly gave their time and work in helping with the carload of paper which was gathered for the Ladies' Missionary society of the First Presbyterian church. Appropriate decorations for the luncheon were all of paper. In the center of the table a toy train carried a car load of paper and the paper scheme was carried throughout the luncheon, with paper plates, napkins and other things. Clever place cards marked places for Mrs. Thomas Hopkins, Mrs. Dunn, Mrs. F. Pfeiffer, Mrs. Geselbracht and Miss Virginia Gordon. Mrs. Hart presided over a very elaborate luncheon.

Miss Marion Coffey is in the city visiting with Miss Anne Dawson. Both are popular young ladies from U. of O.

Mrs. Fred G. Vengelen of Portland, formerly living in Albany for a number of years is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Holman. Mrs. Vengelen has many friends in this city who will be glad to hear of her visit.

Mrs. F. E. Beauchamp delightfully entertained for the Kensington club with a Hallowe'en party Friday afternoon. Jack o' lanterns and other decorations, suggestive of Hallowe'en were used in the rooms. During the afternoon games and contests composed the diversions. Mrs. Sam Worrell and Mrs. Jack Minton received prizes. Mrs. E. B. Small assisted the hostess for the afternoon. Wilma Beauchamp and Elizabeth Bennett dressed as little witches served dainty refreshments. The members present were the Mesdames Lau, Orin Anderson, D. F. Jones, LeRoy Parker, C. E. Clifford, Jack Minton, O. D. Byers. The invited guests included the Mesdames Berry, E. B. Small, Chas. Carter, Sam Worrell.

Mrs. S. E. Watson will be hostess for the epicurean covered dish club this evening. Her house decorations are prettily arranged, autumn leaves gave the atmosphere of fall to the living rooms and roses artistically decked the dining room. Besides the club members to enjoy the elaborate feed tonight, Mrs. Bowerman, of Seattle will be present.

The yearly thank offering of the missionary society of the United Presbyterian church was an event of great success, on Wednesday evening of this week. At seven o'clock a delicious "feed" was enjoyed. Mrs. J. C. Irvine was toastmistress with a delightful program following. The service proved to be a most impressive one and about 60 women were present. The church was beautifully decorated with white and green for the dainty color scheme. The tables were laid in the form of a big white cross and very prettily decked. The sum of $128 was taken in that evening, but as all were not present for the occasion the sum will be increased by their offering.

The Neos Nymphs club members and husbands gave a surprise party honoring Mr. C. B. Essex. The party was on last Saturday night and was given to thank him for the use of his car in the parade during the Round-Up.

Miss Endora McAlpin entertained a number of her friends Friday evening with a charming Hallowe'en party. At the door the guests were received by a ghost who told them to follow the rope, this led them up stairs where another ghost removed their coats and a third ghost told them to register. The guests came masked and enjoyed an unusually merry evening. The guests were: Nellie Roberts, Irene Gilchrist, Elizabeth Young, Jewel Jones, Jane Gilbert, Vernita De Vane, Muriel Nickerson, Vivian Earl, Clara Starmer, Marciel Thomas, La-

Demand Facts About the Range You Buy

If a salesman tells you, "This range is a fuel saver and a perfect baker," and stops there, he casts a reflection on your intelligence.

If these things are true of any range, there's a reason for it—a reason you can see and understand. You have a right to know it too.

We make strong claims for MONARCH Ranges, but for every claim we have a plain, easy-to-see explanation.

The principle underlying the reason for most of its good points is its Malleable Construction. Its castings are of a kind of iron so tough that they can be riveted instead of bolted like grey iron ranges. Riveted seams stay tight forever, while the putty used to tighten bolted ranges lasts but a short time—and tightness is the first essential to good work and fuel economy.

Come in and let us show you the other features that give you everything you want most in a range.

Made Cabinet or Leg Base—with Reservoir, water front or without either. With No. 8 or 9 tops and ovens 15, 17, 19 or 21 inches wide.

We sell them at Standard Prices and Liberal Terms.
