YEARS GREATEST GAME AT EUGENE TOMORROW

U. of O. and U. of W. Will Battle for Championship of N. W.

Eugene, Nov. 3.—All citizens of Oregon, whether alumni of the State University or not, are invited to Homecoming Day Saturday, the feature of which will be the great struggle between the University of Oregon and the University of Washington for football supremacy. This game may determine the championship of the Pacific coast Intercollegiate Conference. Tonight an old time rally in Villard hall will be followed by the freshmen bonfire. Carloads of material have been hauled in for the bonfire, which the class of 1920 says is the largest and most inflammable on record. Coach Bezdek is ready for the game, and Johnny Parsons is to play.

Lost His Wife—

Judge Galloway, in his talk last night before the Moose lodge, said that the rapid city life, the kind they live in Chicago, might be all right for some people, but for himself, he preferred the quiet of the Willamette valley. When in Chicago while taking a little joy ride on the Elevated, he was packed in so tight with a few other thousand human beings that he could hardly breathe, and in the excitement of trying to get off, in the grand rush, lost Mrs. Galloway and had a hard time finding her in that city of two and a half million souls.—Salem Journal.
