TIMBER OUTLOOK.

The outlook is good for a great revival of the lumber business of the Northwest. During the next few years there is undoubtedly going to be an enormous demand for lumber, which must be met, and can only be met by the establishment of new institutions. Something speaking for this fact is the move of the Hill people to secure a big mill in Portland, and open up some of their big timber holdings, of which some are located in this county, in a position that will be very accessible, easily reached by a railroad that will require only thirty or forty miles of building.

Some one declares that lumber will be as big a money maker in a few years as steel is now, and there is much to indicate it.

The man with a vision has an opportunity that is great; but with the vision nerve is required.

Just now the big drawback to the business is the shortage of cars. This will no doubt be overcome and the big products of the mills properly handled. To do this will be required an immense car construction. With it there is a call for a better distribution of cars, so that the coast shall receive its share.

The high prices of lumber meets the charge that the tariff is to blame. It is not. Whatever the status in reference to it, when the new tariff commission, out of politics, gets to working this will be thoroughly adjusted.

When working properly the Panama canal will greatly benefit the Pacific Coast, regardless of the fact that the coast did not secure a discrimination in its favor. The United States as a great nation has to stand on a broad basis in reference to this, not one of selfishness. The northwest is undoubtedly on the eve of a great industrial advancement, one in which lumber will play an important part.

PUBLICITY FOR LIBRARIES.

Throughout the country people are using their public libraries more and more. But there are still a great many people who do not realize how much the library has to offer them. To these people and so to widen the field of service of the libraries is the purpose of some interesting publicity work being done in a number of different localities.

Exhibits and lectures are among the more common methods of interesting people in the library. Then there are monthly bulletins giving library news, discussing books and art of the day and pointing out books of special interest to city officials, club women, etc.

Among the more striking publicity schemes is one used in Portland. The circulation department and the different reference departments keep interest files. These are lists of citizens and their various activities. When a book or pamphlet is received which deals with the special interest of some citizen he is notified that the book is there. Only a rarely busy or indifferent person would fail to respond to such courtesy.

Attractive posters are used by some libraries. They are placed in department stores, barber shops, markets, restaurants and all sorts of public places. Sometimes they are inserted in the trolley cars along with regular "ads" for soap and breakfast posters telling of the books in their own language to be had at the library.

The librarian is setting a good example as a public servant awake to his opportunities and duties toward the community.—Ex.

MISFITS

Election bets have been paid as a rule. The result is plain.

But Hughes continues the policy that he has displayed all thru the campaign, and which did much to defeat him, criticism. Now it is fraud or something else. Instead of being game he acts like a school boy. He has shown himself a very poor candidate.

One of his greatest misfortunes was having a man of the calibre of Wilcox for champion of the national committee.

The position is one that calls for a man of judgment and character.

President Wilson was knifed by Tammany, about the rottenest political machine in the U. S. It is a compliment to have Tammany against one.
