

SOCIAL HYGIENE MEETINGS SUNDAY

Albany People Interested in a Great Cause For Manhood and Womanhood.

SPEAKERS DR. GRIFFITH, MR. McNAUGHTON, DR. STUART

People Urged to Spread Gospel of Clean Lives Among Their Children.

Completing a week's campaign in the interest of social hygiene, two large meetings were held in the city Sunday afternoon, one at the Globe for men only, the other at the First Presbyterian church for women only. It was expected that Gov. Withycombe would preside at the Globe meeting; but he telephoned during the forenoon that it would be impossible to be here. A. C. Schmitt presided. As an introduction the Hammer Quartet was heard in a couple of songs and Harold S. Humbert, the evangelistic singer, in a solo, which were appreciated.

Dr. L. F. Griffith, of the state hospital, spoke plainly on venereal diseases. Going to the asylum when a young physician of 22 he has been connected with it for 31 years.

During the past two years, he said 115 people have been placed in the asylum as a result of these diseases, which in itself means a cost of $50,000. Many who are in the institutes for blind and feeble-minded are there because of such diseases.

The doctor explained the character of the three principal diseases which undermine the health and character of those having them, making the striking statement that some time in life most men have at least one of them, diseases which not only attack themselves but affect in a startling manner the lives of others. Some of the results are blindness, epilepsy, paralysis, locomotor ataxia, paresis, brain softening, etc. An awful price is paid in the world for ignorance. Children early should be taught the problems of life and the secrets of existence.

E. B. McNaughton, a Portland business man, told of the work being done to educate people and for the prevention of disease by clean lives and methods. Worse, if possible than the disease, are the quack nostrums used to cure it, advertised under different fake disguises, now prohibited in Oregon, which took $22,000 a year from one Portland paper alone. Young men need to be taught the truth in reference to the matter.

He emphasized the fact that there should be one standard for both sexes and that the man at marriage should be as clean in his life as he demands of his wife.

Dr. Bertha S. Stuart in her address to women spoke along much the same lines, applying the lesson to women. She urged mothers to instruct their children early that they may be warned against the evils that are so generally contaminating American manhood and womanhood.

Mrs. Geselbracht presided and as an introductory to the address Miss Clement was heard in an organ voluntary.

These meetings deserve the earnest consideration of all. The State Social Hygiene is doing a great work and deserves the continued support of the state government and people.

The proposition may be discussed during the Portland Livestock Expedition.

GEORGE BARTHOLOMEW ARRESTED IN SEATTLE

Man Supposed to Have Murdered John Lind in Albany Year Ago.

The arrest in Seattle of Geo. Bartholomew, on the charge of complicity in the murder of John Lind at Portland in November, 1915, has excited considerable interest in Albany because Bartholomew and Lind were in Albany a few days before the murder, negotiating a big real estate deal, which did not materialize. Bartholomew admits that he is the man wanted, but declares that all he did was to help dispose of the body after the murder, which he declares was committed by Oscar Lund, alias Anderson, a San Francisco garage man. Lind's body was found in a trunk floating in the Willamette. Bartholomew has been brought to Portland, where he will have to stand trial for murder. The circumstances will undoubtedly involve him as a principal instead of an accomplice as he claims.

Portland, Nov. 27.—George Bartholomew, the alleged murderer of John Lind of the "green trunk" mystery, was taken over the scene of the crime. The police made Bartholomew point out the spot where he claims Paul Lund killed Lind with a blackjack. The detectives asserted that Bartholomew is a mythical character.

DOUG. HAMILTON WRITES GREAT LETTER TO SCIO

Promises to Be Good; Wants to Get Home; He Likes Everybody.

(From Scio News)
The State Hospital, Salem, Oregon, Nov. 12, 1916.

Dear friend, L. W. Charles: I thought I would write you a few lines. My health is lots better since I came here. How is Scio getting along since I left? I would like to see all of the people. How do you like it because Hughes got beat. I am sorry he is beat. How would you like to see me? When I come home I will show the people I am a better man. I work most all the time here. I am sorry for what I did; they have made a better man of me. I like the place pretty well, but would rather be home. I have been making kraut the last week. Newt Morrison wrote to me that he would vouch for me if I was put on parole, and if I did not behave to send me back here. I will behave myself. He thought the people would vouch for me there. There is a show every Monday night. How is the horse? I like everybody in Scio and the country. I think it right for the people to forgive me. Tell White I am sorry I could not haul the rest of his wood and to forgive me. I would like to be there and work for the people. Publish this letter in the paper if you wish. Please answer this letter. Write or put it in the paper.
S. A. D. HAMILTON.

AUTOMATIC ADVERTISING BY BLOWING ITS OWN HORN

At 3 o'clock this morning residents in the neighborhood of the block bounded on First street between Ferry and Washington, were suddenly awakened from sound slumbers by the rasping tooting of a horn. After waiting for a reasonable period for the noise to quit investigations were started.

Night Officer Sam Worrell, who had also heard the racket, approached the vicinity and found the noise coming from the salesroom of the Hayes & Rousseau garage. After about three-quarters of an hour Worrell finally secured a ladder from the fire truck and entered the building through the transom at the front door. It was found that the electric horn on an Overland automobile had become connected in some way and was unable to shut itself off. The Overland was blowing its own horn, as it were.

J. Royal Shaw, of Mill City, is in the city today on business.

OREGON EARNS COAST TITLE BY O. A. C.'S DEFEAT

Most Powerful Team on Coast Will Meet Pennsylvania With Good Fighting Chance.

As a result of defeating O. A. C. by the score of 27 to 0 in a field of mud Saturday, the University of Oregon clearly demonstrated that it may justly lay claim to the title of Pacific Coast Champion. Although tied by Washington in a quagmire at Eugene, Oregon clearly outplayed Washington and comparative scores show the ten on yellow players to be the superior. On a dry field Oregon might have added two or three more touchdowns to the score Saturday. Fumbles inside the five yard line kept her from making at least two as it was.

The game was a good one to watch from an Oregon point of view. From the standpoint of O. A. C. followers, unless they also be admirers of Coach Bezzek's machine, it was not so satisfactory. At the beginning of the game it looked like Coach Pipal had indeed instilled the old fight and was going to spring the surprise of the season on Oregon. His men kicked off, then threw Becker for a loss of one yard on the first play. Moist slowness Beckett when he tried the next and fumbled and then Beckett punted to the 25 yard line.

On the first down O. A. C. made five, then six. Newman, Bissett and Lowe reeled off three, six and two. Then made yardage again in four downs. On the next play O. A. C. was penalized for holding and on the fourth down Oregon secured the ball on her 40 yard line.

On the first play Shy Huntington made three, Orville Montieth went through center for three, Shy made two and Beckett made six. Huntington brothers made 12 more. Montieth made one and on the next play Shy Huntington picked up his own fumble and raced 19 yards across the goal. He kicked goal.

From then on the outcome of the game was never in doubt. Oregon made another score early in the second quarter and a mix up prevented another score near the close of the half. Oregon worked the ball down to the 7 yard line at the close of the third quarter and sent it over early in the fourth and added another score soon after when Oregon kicked off and got the ball on a fumble on O. A. C.'s 45 yard line. One yard was gained on first down, then Shy made 15 on a double pass, Oregon made yardage in three downs and Huntington went 20 yards for a touchdown on another double pass. Oregon was going for another touchdown, reeling off big yardage, when they fumbled on O. A. C.'s 35 yard line. O. A. C. widely tried another forward pass, but Oregon intercepted it. The game ended with the ball in Oregon's possession on O. A. C.'s 35 yard line.

Mitchell, Oregon's star end, suffered a broken rib and two others cracked, and muscles torn loose in his back, and Dudley received a broken ankle. It is expected that Mitchell will be in shape in time to enter the Pennsylvania game at Pasadena on New Year's Day.

The best of feeling prevailed at the game. The crowd was not up to standard, but about 5,000 braved the stormy weather to see the contest. All agree that Oregon has a good fighting chance with Pennsylvania, and really should beat the sons of Wm. Penn in the New Year's Day affair. Oregon plays Multnomah again Thursday. On Oct. 14 Oregon beat M. A. A. C. 28 to 0.

ASSOCIATED CHARITIES NOT GIVING THE DANCE

Big Thanksgiving Ball to Be Under Auspices of Special Committee.

The Charity Ball, which will be given in the Armory Thursday night, is not being given by the Associated Charities, as has been reported. President C. H. Burggraf and Secretary W. A. Eastburn, of the Associated Charities, state that the organization has nothing to do with the affair, nor will they promote any entertainment. The business of the organization, says Mr. Burggraf, is to receive money, supplies or clothing and dispense it in the manner and places where it will do the most good. They will accept the receipts of any kind of an entertainment for charity from a boxing contest to a church social, but will put nothing on under their auspices.

The committee which is giving the ball Thursday night is composed of D. O. Woodworth, W. V. Merrill and Willard Marks. The armory is being decorated for the purpose and the Albany Municipal Band will furnish the best of music gratis. There will be no expense to the dance and every cent of the receipts will be used in supplying food, medicine or clothing for the needy. The admission for spectators will be 25 cents in the gallery. Tickets to the main floor for dancing will be $1.00. The committee urges all to attend, either in the gallery or to dance, who can.

The fair will be one of the big events of the season and will draw a big crowd without a doubt. There will be a concert from 8:30 to 9 o'clock the first dance starting promptly at 9.

ANOTHER TRIUMPH FOR PAULINE FREDERICK

Superb in Famous Players Production of "The World's Great Snare"

Love—the all-consuming passion that leads a woman through immeasurable dangers and hardships in search of her lover, not knowing whether or not she will be repulsed when she finds him, the love that makes her smile with joy at the thought of dying for this lord of her heart—that is the theme of E. Phillip Oppenheim's great novel, "The World's Great Snare," in which Pauline Frederick is starred by the Famous Players on the Paramount Program, at the Globe tonight.

Myra, the English woman who has been a dancer in the Montana Cafe at San Francisco and the joy of the rough miners who flock to this big dance hall, is one of the most powerful characters that even Miss Frederick has portrayed on the screen. And when one considers her magnificent work in "Bella Donna," "The Eternal City," "The Moment Before," together with her delightful portrayal of the unsophisticated "Audrey," the breadth of the claims which are made in her behalf will be realized.

"The World's Great Snare" paints with a virile brush the high lights of the big cafe life in a western mining town where men live by the sweat of their brows and guard what they earn by the quickness of their trigger fingers.
