STOCK SHOW AT PORTLAND STARTS DECEMBER 4

Portland, Nov. 27.—The Pacific International Livestock Exposition, which holds its Sixth Annual show at the Portland Union Stock Yards, North Portland, December 4-9, has been one of the big factors in the up-building of the livestock industry of this entire western country.

Entries which have just closed in the breeding classes indicate one of the biggest showings of beef breeds ever handled west of the Rocky Mountains, there being something like fifteen herds of shorthorns on the list of entries, including some of the best known herds in the United States. The Holstein people have outdone themselves in their entries, while the Guernseys and Jerseys will be represented by the best known breeders on the Coast. Hogs and sheep will make a fine showing, and for the first time, the four leading breeds of draft horses will be included.

Judges of national reputation will tie the ribbons. Men like Saunders of Iowa on shorthorns; Chas. L. Hill of Wisconsin, Jerseys and Guernseys; Moscrip of Minnesota, Holsteins; Moxley of Kentucky, Herefords; Brunk of Oregon, hogs; with other well known men handling the other classes.

The Granges of Oregon, Washington and Idaho are taking an intense interest in this year's show and strong delegations will come from this western country.

The Governors of the Northwest states have accepted an invitation to be at the Show on Thursday, December 7, and their many friends will have an opportunity to meet them in an informal way. Afterwards they will attend the banquet given in honor of the breeders and feeders at the Multnomah hotel.

Various breed associations are holding their annual meetings during this week and Portland will be thronged with farmers and livestock men.

The action of the State Bankers' Association in appropriating $10,000 for this show is attracting attention all over the United States and at once places them in very high estimation amongst the breeding fraternity of this country; Portland chamber of commerce also included in its budget $6,000, while the state of Oregon provides $5,000.

The railroads have granted a rate of a fare and third on the certificate plan, from all points of this western country. Selling dates will begin November 30, and last until December 5; good returning until December 12.

One of the big features of the show this year will be the fat classes in the stock yards proper. Each year has demonstrated the fact that the west can produce some of the finest cattle, hogs and sheep in the country. Competition will be very keen this year.

G. CO. C. A. C. ALBANY SECOND IN DISTRICT SHOOT

Third or Fourth For Bankers Trophy With Cottage Grove First.

SHOOT—***

G. Co., Coast Artillery, of this city, in its team shoot for the district trophy of the C. A. C., held during the past week or two, closing yesterday, stands second among the ten teams competing, making a splendid record, only surpassed by that of Roseburg. The shooting began Saturday the 18th, and Roseburg had a fine day for shooting, while Albany had the worst day of the week, Saturday, a bad one for good work.

Roseburg made 372 out of a possible 400 Albany 363, as follows: Sergt. Stechfield, 47 at 200 yards, 47 at 300 yards, total 94; Corp. McGhee, 48 at 200, 41 at 300; total 90; Mec. Lau, 44 at 200, 46 at 300; total 90; Lieut. Collins, 48 at 200 yards, 41 at 300, total 89. Grand total 363.

In the shoot for the bankers' trophy the company had to have in the shoot 30 per cent of the membership, which is 50, and hence a number of members who have practically had no practice, and yet their record gives the company third or fourth place for the trophy. Cottage Grove is first. The totals of the members, out of a possible 100, at the two targets, 200 and 300 yards are as follows:

CITY NEWS

Returned to Portland—
Carolyn Cannon, who was here to attend the funeral of Inez Lemke, returned to Portland yesterday, to resume her studies; but will be back Thanksgiving day for turkey at the Mason home.

Soap Man—
H. R. Lowrie, of the L. M. R. Soap Co., Portland, has been in the city. He formerly resided here. He reported a fine business, steadily growing. Many of the sales are in barrel lots. The waterless soap proposition has met with favor.

Oregon's Total Vote—
The total vote in Oregon was 261,614. Of this with a registration in his favor of over 100,000 Hughes has a plurality of only 6844.

That Old List—
The Democrat recently referred to an old Fourth of July subscription list in the possession of F. M. French. It was for the celebration of 1897, a notable one, a feature of which was an athletic platform on the square in front of the court house, now covered, on which some Portland amateurs, including a son of Senator Chamberlain, gave a performance. An analysis of the list is interesting. Of the 149 names on it only 47 are now in Albany; 59 have moved to other places and 43 are known to be dead. The biggest givers were the saloons and brewery.

A Big Load—
Yesterday on one motorcycle passing along the street were a man driving, a child on the handlebars, the wife sitting on the back seat sideways, holding another child; four on one motorcycle, a good load, getting along in fine shape.

A Fatal Fall.
New York, Nov. 27.—Joseph Brooks a noted theatrical producer, fell from the eighth story of an uptown apartment and was instantly killed. It is unknown whether it was accidental. Brooks was aged 65 and handled many famous productions.

Liner Catches Fire.
(By United Press)
Newport, Nov. 25.—The liner Powhattan caught fire off Block Island Coast guard cutters rushed to her assistance. Admiral Knight commanding the destroyer flotilla here, received a wireless saying that the blaze was under control and the danger past.
