Call from packers was light, prices on the best grades are steady to 25c higher, while the large end of the run, which was of common quality, sold steady with slow demand.

Beef steers—The best loads of steers sold readily at steady to 25c higher. One load of prime steers brought $7.55 from butchers with other loads at $7.25. The quality of the beef steers as was the case last week was very poor, fair to good grades bringing $6.50 to $6.75.

Cows and Heifers—The supply of good cows and heifers was very light, with a fairly good demand. Best cows sold at $6.25 with a few at $6.00; fair to good ones brought $5.50 at $5.75; with ordinary ones at $5. Prime or best grades were a good ten cents higher while the common grades found slower sale.

Best valley feeder steers brought $5.60 to $5.75; with fair to good ones around $5. Stock cows and heifers brought $3 at $5; while choice feeding heifers and cows ranged from $5 to $5.50.

Bulls and Stags—There was a good supply of bulls Monday and prices were on the same basis as a week ago. Best offerings sold up to $5 while Bologna bulls sold from $3.25 to $4.25.

Hogs—Monday's run was a good deal lighter than a week ago (although it was a good sized total of 4000 head). Prices were on about the same basis as last week, although some sales made in the later trading looked five to ten cents higher. The market was not active at the opening but after the first few loads started through the scales buyers got busy and an active market continued throughout the day. A number of loads brought $9.70 at $9.75; with the bulk again selling at $9.60. Pigs and half finished stock were here in large numbers, bringing $8 at $8.50.

Sheep—Supply of sheep continues very light, the only offerings coming are from small lots of Valley sheep each day, but valley lambs made another ten cents advance, bringing $9.60. No east of the mountain sheep have been received to test the real strength of the market. Valley yearlings sold up to $8.50 with good mutton ewes at $7.

Battery Economy Necessary to Successful Car Operation

When the motorist buys an automobile he goes very carefully into the question of gasoline economy, how many miles per gallon he can get out of his motor, and figures out from that how much per mile for fuel it is going to cost him to operate his car. In driving he uses as rare a mixture as possible to conserve the gasoline. He looks for the most economical speed at which to run his car and makes every effort to run it at that speed. Getting the most out of a gallon of gasoline is part of the successful operation of the car.

Contrast this with the attitude of the average car owner towards his storage battery. Not one in a thousand knows what it costs him to turn over his engine, nor how much it is costing him to burn his lights. Using economy in the matter of electric current is the last thing in the world that enters his head.

Economy in the use of electrical current which the battery supplies is not at all difficult for the motorist. It is a simple matter to prime the engine on cold mornings when vaporization is difficult. It is a small matter to turn off the headlights and other unnecessary lights when the car is standing idle. This is all that economy of current means.

By regular hydrometer tests, the motorist can keep in touch with the condition of his battery. By keeping it filled with pure distilled water, he

Studebaker

Golden Chassis, New Series 17

This car has 350 ounces of pure gold on it, and has attracted national attention

If ever there was any product of man's brains that deserved to be called "GOLDEN," it is the Studebaker Chassis. It is golden—golden in its simplicity—golden in its refinement of finish—golden in its accessible design.

No expense is spared on any Studebaker product. The same care extends to every detail of every car. The Studebaker FOUR, for example, even at its lower price EXACTLY duplicates this Chassis. In design, in materials, in construction, in finish, it is as truly GOLDEN as this Chassis at the Show.

keeps the plates covered so that the greatest possible surface is exposed to the action of the electrolyte. By balancing the ammeter readings of current used by the lights against the ammeter readings of current supplied to the battery by the generator, he is able to tell whether the battery is receiving as much current as it is giving out. By keeping in touch with the Willard Service Stations, he gives the battery experts a chance to correct troubles while they are still small. The local plant is located with the Auto Electric Shop, 118 West Second

St. All these items of care tend to battery economy, and battery economy like fuel or gasoline economy, means money in the motorist's pocket.

$25,000 STUDEBAKER CAR BEING SHOWN IN OREGON

There is being shown in Oregon, and will be here later, perhaps as fine an automobile as there is in the world, the "Golden Chassis," a Studebaker of the series of 17. It is like other Studebaker autos, except that it is finished in gold, more than 350 ounces of pure metal being on it, and the car is valued at $25,000. It has caused a sensation in the big cities, Chicago, New York, and other places, as well as in some coast shows. The gold was put on by Yale & Towne, of Stamford, Conn., taking a special 15-foot vat for the work.

The car was made for advertising purposes, and it certainly is attracting attention. Hockensmith & Templeton of this city have made arrangements to have it here and it will be at the Albany Garage all day Saturday, Dec. 15.

LIVE BILL COLLECTOR

Junction City, Ore., Dec. 12.—Dispute between Dr. E. Ruff, elderly physician of Junction City, and "Jap" Sorensen rose here over settlement of a bill. The amount was disputed and the argument ended by each calling the other a "liar." The doctor armed himself and meeting Sorensen later demanded an apology at the point of a pistol. A warrant sworn out for the doctor's arrest on a charge of assault with a dangerous weapon was served. Justice of the Peace George Young imposed a minimum fine of $100.

Plan to Make Rockies "Switzerland of America" With Winter Sports

(By United Press)

Denver, Colo., Dec. 12.—To make the Rocky Mountain National Park country the winter Switzerland of America as well as this country's choicest summer resort is the big idea that L. C. Way, supervisor of the park, is working on today.

"It is a land of marvelous beauty," Mr. Way declared. "It gets you and holds you. There is room for every kind of winter sport—snowshoeing, tobogganing and hockey—and the air is never too cold. Why, we can play golf all winter in Estes Park. We are putting on two ski courses at Fern Lake now, starting at the very top of the mountain.

"When I get the program of winter sports arranged we expect to make the park the best known winter resort on the continent."

Supervisor Way is building for the future, too. More and better roads for the automobilist, trails and footpaths for the pedestrian—these will be built as fast as appropriations for the work can be secured.

The transportation companies figure there will be 300,000 visitors to the park during next summer.

SOME CAT

San Francisco, Dec. 12.—A cat with a diamond set, gold filled tooth, and other Persians valued at as much as $2,000 each, will be features of the seventh annual show of the Pacific Cat club, to be held here December 16 and 17, it was announced here today. Hundreds of entries from all over the state have been received.

NOT WANTED

England Puts an End to the Gypsy Business "Till War's End."

London, Dec. 12.—The last remnants of a gypsy band that has wandered aimlessly about England for years, was rounded up in Sheffield today, one man being mustered into the army and three others imprisoned for petty thefts. The Scotland Yard men who trailed and finally caught the wanderers believe that they have put an end to the gypsy business at least for the duration of the war.

Before the conscription law became effective there were hordes of gypsies and van dwellers following their peripatetic existence throughout England and Scotland. Practically all of them are now either serving with the army or doing war work.

HARVESTING YET

The following is a fresh item from Shaniko, not an old one of two months ago:

Snow and cold weather has stopped threshing in this locality. The J. W. Brown machine, out near Ridgeway, has nearly two weeks' more run. There are several farmers who have cut a large crop but are unable to get their threshing done. It may mean the ruin of many homesteaders this year. Their last year's crops are now covered by six inches of snow, there are only two threshers in the neighborhood and one is in the hands of the people of the surrounding country. Exceptionally large crops is the cause of the late harvesting.
