Here From Spokane—
Mr. and Mrs. John Robinson and daughter Edna arrived this noon from Spokane, Wash., for a holiday visit at the home of J. O. Huntley and family, on West Seventh street.
Military Dance Friday—
The regular dance of the Albany Military Club will be held in the armory Friday evening. Good music has been secured and a fine time is assured. It is expected that a large, pleasure-seeking, jolly holiday crowd will be on hand to step to the lively tunes.
Worrell Has Kraig—
S. C. Worrell, of the night police force, has just received a Krag-Jorgensen rifle from the Springfield, Mass., arsenal. The army is now using a new Springfield model, but has not entirely discarded the Kraig, which is only being sold to rifle clubs. The caliber is .30, and it is a powerful gun. Mr. Worrell bought the weapon for his own use and will keep it as a part of the reserve arsenal of the city police force.

JUNIOR TEAM WINS H. S. CLASS CHAMPIONSHIP

Younger Players Not Equal to Cope With Huskies, Who Win, 26 to 14.

The Junior class team of Albany high school won the championship last night in Junior high school gymnasium by defeating the Freshmen team 26 to 14. The older boys were too much for their opponents and the Juniors walked away with the long end of the score.
The Junior team was composed of Pete Miller and Ellis at center; Nebel and Irvine, forwards; and Hecker and Githens, guards. In the Fresh team were Rainwater and Barnett, center; Moore and Doherty, forwards; Willard and Chandler, guards.

the winter.
Will Make Turnover—
Sheriff D. H. Bodine today made a turnover of the fees for mileage and other items collected during the recent past, amounting to $142.10. The next turnover of fees will be made at the end of the month and will wind up the business for the year.

Carson Memorial Service—
On December 28 Judge P. R. Kelly will go to Salem to attend a meeting of the Marion County Bar Association, which will hold memorial services in honor of the late John A. Carson, who died in Salem this month. Judge Kelly is on the committee with Judges Wm. Galloway and Geo. G. Bingham, which will make the report. Following this will be eulogistic speeches by various members of the bar.
Junior High to Play—
This year the Junior High school will have a basketball team and play a schedule of their own. On Friday they will go to Corvallis where they are to meet the team from the Junior high school of that place. The team will probably be composed of the present freshmen team.
Debate Tomorrow—
Great interest is being taken in the opening debate which will be held in the high school tomorrow night between the teams composed of girls from Albany and Scio high schools. The high school orchestra will play. A big crowd is expected.

County Budget Meeting—
The day on which the County Court will hear objections to county budget for 1917 has been set for Thursday afternoon, Dec. 28. At that time anyone having objections to the items on the budget, or not understanding any items, will be heard and full explanations given.
Vaudeville Next Month—
Manager Conrad Meyer, of the Globe Theatre, yesterday received a telegram from the Kellie-Burns agency in Seattle stating that the Hippodrome Vaudeville service will start in Albany on the evening of Wednesday, Jan. 10. It will continue every Wednesday, giving Albany people the benefit of the full Hippodrome bill and a fine quality of vaudeville. This is not the same circuit that is appearing in Portland and other coast cities on the regular bills, but is the beginning of the return to America of artists who have been playing in Australia. Instead of going straight

ALBANY PEOPLE WILL DINE WITH LADIES AID

Big Dinner to Be Served in Basement of 1st Presbyterian Church.

People from all sections of Albany will assemble in the dining room of the First Presbyterian church to participate in a community dinner on Friday, December 29, as guests of the different Ladies' Aid Societies of the city. The Associated Charities will furnish the meat for the meal and the ladies of the city will supply the menu as well as the preparing and serving.
In order that all who should be in attendance may be present, invitations will be issued and will be presented at the door for admission.
The plans for this dinner were made at a recent meeting of the presidents of the different Ladies' Aid Societies of the city when a city organization was effected and Mrs. Alice Cockerline was elected secretary of the organization.
Delmer, aged 10, and Bernice Conser, aged seven.
