Common Ground

By MARION FAIRFAX

Marie Doro, whose delightful personality has endeared her to millions of screen patrons is seen in the role of a young girl of the slums. How through the kind interest of a young judge she is brought into a better environment and how she saves him from ruin by political conspirators is told in this photoplay.

BRILLIANT OPERA STARS OFFER TREAT MONDAY

Marie Doro, at the Globe Monday in "Common Ground."

One of the most brilliant events of the entire season is promised at the Globe Theatre on Monday afternoon when the New York Metropolitan singers, six international artists, will appear in moments from Grand Opera. The company includes Miss Susan Emma Drought, a Canadian soprano. Her flute-like voice and charming stage appearance is bound to make an impression with local music lovers. Miss Mildred Haynes, dramatic soprano, a former member of the Metropolitan Company in New York and last season a principal of the Chicago Grand Opera Company is said to have a voice that compares favorably with Madame Sembrich's. Aubrey N. Engle, a well-known baritone, has a superb voice. He has style and finish and a fine stage appearance and his diction is admirable. Mary Maiben Allen, contralto from the Royal Opera in Vienna, possesses a voice of most unusual depth. Indeed, it has been authoritatively stated that she has the deepest known female voice. Alice McClung-Skovgaard, the pianist, is too well known for comment here. Skovgaard, Denmark's greatest violinist, is the star of the company and his playing has proved a veritable revelation wherever he appears. He is in the front rank of the leading violinists of the world and can be compared to Kubelik, Ysaye and Kreisler. The prices are popular.

MARIE DORO IN "COMMON GROUND," AT GLOBE MON.

Marie Doro, one of the most celebrated dramatic artists on stage or screen, and formerly a Frohman star, will be seen at the Globe on Monday evening in the Jesse L. Lasky production of "Common Ground," a thrilling drama of social conditions. "Common Ground" shows the mental and spiritual awakening through love, of a child of the slums, employed in an artificial flower factory. How she meets, falls in love with, and eventually saves from ruin, at the hands of political grafters, a young judge, is the basis of this most unusual play. The Lasky Company has surrounded Miss Doro with a cast of unusual excellence, consisting of such distinguished artists as Thomas Meighan, as the young judge, Theodore Roberts, Mary Mersch, Horace B. Carpenter and Vera McEvers, and a number of other members of the Lasky all-star organization. The picture has the usual Lasky thoroughness of detail and splendid photography.
