CITY NEWS

Five Generations—
Mrs. C. H. Couch, of Harrisburg, has the distinction of being at the head of five generations, something not often acquired. The little son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Vogt, of Eugene, is the other end of the line, Mrs. Couch's great-great-grandson.

Keeps Track of Paving—
W. W. Ashby, of the Warren Construction Co. is in the city while on a trip up the valley looking after the paving of the company, under guarantee for a certain length of time.

War on Lusitania—
Rita Jolivet, the star in the Morosco-Paramount photoplay "An International Marriage" at the Globe theatre tonight, was a passenger on the Lusitania when it made its fatal voyage, and the memory of having stood beside the courageous presence of Charles Frohman during the catastrophe is probably one of the factors of Mlle. Jolivet's great ability to express strong emotion.

Hoboes Are Ill—
John Hutchins and Joe Wilson, two hoboes, are occupying sickbeds in the city jail, and they are being cared for by Chief of Police John Catlin, who also has La Grippe. The two 'boes staggered into town yesterday or day before, and were not long in applying to the police for shelter. They are said to be sick men.

Scio Man Here—
J. I. Shelton, of Scio, is in the city today on business.

Mrs. Pfeiffer Returns—
Mrs. Chas. Pfeiffer will arrive this evening from Lebanon, Penn., where she has been for several months on a visit with relatives. She will now be at her home at Perry and Sixth streets.

From Portland—
Mrs. D. J. McLardy and son Dick, of Portland, are in the city on a visit the guests of J. O. Lee and family. They are former Albany residents. Mr. McLardy being S. P. operator here.

To Attend Memorial—
Judge P. R. Kelly went to Salem this morning to be present at the memorial services of the Marion County Bar Association in honor of the late John A. Carson, prominent Salem lawyer who died a short time ago. Judge Kelly is one of the members of the committee to report on the death of one of their members.

Roy Garland Dead—
Roy Garland, a former resident of this city, died this morning in Astoria. He was 23 years old. He was operated on for appendicitis, but was unable to withstand the ordeal. His brother was at his bedside, and will bring the remains back to Linn county. Burial will be held in the cemetery at Providence.

Last Tax Turnover—
The last tax turnover of the year was made today by Sheriff Bodine. All the moneys on hand, amounting to $10,245.26, were turned over to County Treasurer Francis.

Baby Girl Born—
The birth of a baby girl to Mr. and Mrs. John Shepherd, of Thomas, occurred at that place on December 24. Mrs. Shepherd was formerly Miss Pansy Stewart.

Weather Report—
Yesterday's temperature ranged between 27 and 40 degrees. The rainfall was .09 in., and the river fell to 5.0 feet.

A. M. Ham came down from Mill City yesterday afternoon.

GRANGE OPPOSES LAWS FOR FIXING STATE HIGHWAYS

The following was passed by Sand Ridge Grange No. 57:

WHEREAS, at a meeting in Portland recently of the County Judges and Commissioners in which they recommended some changes in our road laws, one of which was concentrating the work on the State Highways. First, Whereas the roads in our local district accommodate more of our taxpayers than it does our State Highways.

THEREFORE, Be It Resolved, that we, the members of Sand Ridge Grange No. 57 by a unanimous vote do not favor any measures or laws for fixing the State Highways first to the detriment of our Rural Districts.

ALBERT CROSSAN,
Master.
INEZ BENSHOOF,
Sec.

POWER CO. TO

The Byllesby company has holdings in many parts of the country, extending in a loop from Minnesota to Washington, down the coast to California, east to Alabama and up to Colorado, and back again to Chicago. Elmer Dover, who is president of the Oregon Power Co., and vice-president of the H. M. Byllesby Co., was in this city last summer for a short time on an inspection trip. It is thought that some of the plans in the present movement were evolved at that time.
