THE GENTLEMAN THIEF

"The Phantom," the new Triangle feature in which Frank Keenan stars with Enid Markey as his leading woman, is to be shown at the Globe Theatre, for an engagement of one day, Sunday only.

It is described as one of the best detective stories written since the famous "Raffles" series. The "Phantom" is the sobriquet of Farrell, the most elusive "gentleman thief" known. Operating in connection with his valet, Crabbe, a rascal of much inferior cleverness, he has escaped detection for many years. Still the detective service is aware that Farrell is responsible for many jewel robberies, even though they have not been able to get any direct evidence. So Inspector James Blaisdell of the Central office calls to notify Farrell that it might be well for him to move on to another city. Farrell readily promises to leave town, but without saying for how long. He is planning to go to the home of James Bereton in the suburbs to rob Bereton's daughter, Avie, of the famous Bereton necklace.

L. L. Law, of Klamath Falls, is an Albany visitor.

ORVILLE MONTIETH HOME FROM PENNSYLVANIA VICTORY

Albany Boy Out-punted Famous
Howard Berry, Penthalon Champion of World.

At last we are able to get some first hand information regarding the great football game at Pasadena New Years Day when the mighty Oregon team defeated the Pennsylvania wonders by the score of 14 to 0.

According to Orville Montieth, halfback on the varsity, this was not the hardest game the Oregon team had during the year. While he gave Penn credit for having a good team, he says that the much-touted Berry, Meinie Miller and other stars were easy meat for Beade's boys, and none of them were able to shine.

Orville, as halfback, was pitted against Miller, who was placed on Camp's All-American team, and said that he has played against harder ends this year. Miller was comparatively easy to turn out of plays, and never did much damage. Berry was not of the shining variety that day, and while he got away for a few yards a time or two, he was never a real menace. Johnnie Parsons showed the penthalon up in speed, outrunning him when Parsons made his 40-yard run to the 2-yard line, which resulted in the second score.

The worst damage done was the habit Miller and Captain Matthews had of falling on the heels of the Oregon players. This is what put Captain Beckett out of the game in the second half and sent him home with a sprained ankle. Teggert went out by the same route. "The dirtiest team we have played against this year," is the way Montieth expressed it. Their tricks are not exactly illegal, but are not exactly up to form. There is nothing to prevent a man from falling on the heels of his opponent when in action, but such work after the whistle blows is poor sportsmanship and against the rules. The Penn players took advantage of this especially on punts when the officials had their attention directed down the field.

"Monty" is of the opinion that Oregon could have made another touchdown in the last quarter if they had worked. Instead of trying to score again Oregon eased up and tried to kill time. They would take the ball for three downs and then punt, using up as much time as possible. Finally Pennsylvania pulled three or four forward passes in succession and got the ball on Oregon's 20-yard line, but stopped there. When Oregon's fighting blood got up at forward progress stopped.

Contrary to the belief that Beade gave the boys a long lecture on what to do before the game, all he told them when they went out was to "mix 'em up." Huntington probably had his instructions, but he used his own good judgment all the way through. And it was conceded to be pretty good judgment.

J. M. Ralston, who saw the game, wrote his son Rolla that Orville played as good a game as anybody on the field and deserved more credit than was given him. This has been the case all season. "Monty" never given the credit in the papers that he earned. But that doesn't bother "Scotty," as the Los Angeles papers called him. Before the game nearly all papers, football experts, and hero worshippers flocked around the Penn team and freely predicted their victory. After the game there was an awful flop, and there was nothing too good for the Oregon boys. One sport, who believed in Oregon, bet $500 on them. Jack Cudaly, Chicago millionaire, had several hundred dollars bet on Penna, but on the morning of the game he got cold feet and had his wife place $700 on Oregon, getting odds of ten to seven.

Speaking of Montieth, the Los Angeles Times said: "Berry, true to his reputation, lifted beautiful 40- and 50-yard spirals and Beckett, out-living his, returned with kind. Scotty Montieth even excelled the All-American fullback." "Montieth spotted many an attempted forward pass."

The Examiner says: "Hollis, Huntington and Montieth were going nicely through the Penn line at the end of the game and had been hard to stop all through."

All Los Angeles papers had words of praise for the work of the Albany boy. One thing that pleased "Monty" after the game, was the receipt of a telegram signed by "The Boys in Albany," congratulating Orville and the team on the victory.

After a short rest in this city Montieth will return to Eugene Sunday night to resume studies at the University.

It is possible that Oregon will go to Chicago next fall to play Notre Dame two weeks after Thanksgiving.

CITY NEWS

Pie Social—

A pie social will be held at Riverside school building next Wednesday, by the Callamette Grange.

Mr. Swank of Tallman—

Phil Swank, of Tallman, was in the city today. He has been taking the Democrat since it started, in fact took the original Democrat published by Delazon Smith in 1839 and following years. Mr. Swank and wife have the distinction of having been married the longest of any Oregon couple, 69 years the 15th of December. The marriage took place in Ohio and the young couple crossed the plains together in 1852, settling near Tallman, where they have since resided, universally respected.

At Harrisburg—

S. H. Davis, of Minneapolis, Minnesota, accompanied by A. L. Fisher, of the Fisher-Braden Co., and Perry Conn, of Albany, registered at the Hotel Halsey Wednesday. Mr. Davis is looking at some farms in this vicinity. Mr. Davis says the thermometer registered 35 degrees below zero when he left Minnesota a few days ago. Mr. Davis is well pleased with what he has seen of the Willamette Valley and we predict he will locate here.—Bulletin.

Jane Wouldn't Stop—

"While 'Love and Hate' which play at the Rolfe tonight, was being filmed at the William Fox studio in Grant wood, N. Y., Jane Lee paid frequent visits to a neighboring farm. One day she chanced along just as one of the helpers was milking the cow. She watched him a long while in silence. Then he stopped and looked at the little actress.

"How would you like to do this?" he asked her.

"Fine," said Jane. "But I wouldn't stop after I'd finished two facets, as you've done."

Edna Gentry to Wed—

Mrs. W. P. Morris went to Portland this morning to attend the wedding of Miss Edna Gentry and Mr. Clarence King, of Corvallis. Miss Gentry was a resident of this city for a short time ago, when her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Gentry, moved to Portland. The wedding will take place at the bride's home, 1184 Forty-ninth street, southeast. Mr. King is a prominent young man of Corvallis, and is assistant postmaster at that place. They will make their home in Corvallis.

Growers' Assn. Meets—

Commercial Club Monday—

The first meeting of the Albany Commercial Club for the year 1917 will be held Monday night at 7 o'clock, and promises to be an interesting one. There are many matters of importance coming up and the action taken may result in good news for this city.

Cleaning Out Rooms—

Manager Charles P. Ohling, of the Albany Commercial Club, is making the best of the poor equipment at his disposal and cleaning out the club rooms and arranging things in better order. Several tons, more or less, of accumulated dirt, dust and trash have been cleaned out, unsightly maps and papers taken from the walls, the south wall decorated with a display of grains and grasses, and other improvements made. A new carpet for the room is very badly needed.

TANGENT WOMAN DIED THIS MORNING, AGED 74

Mrs. Mary Ann Mitchell died at Tangent this morning, aged 74 years. She was born in Pennsylvania Feb. 15, 1843. She came to Oregon about 24 years ago, locating at Tangent and living at that place, one mile west, until her death.

She is survived by three children, Mrs. Lilly Varnell, of Tangent; Ed. A. Mitchell, who lives on the home place, and Herman Mitchell, of Hoxey, Kansas. She also leaves one brother in Rock Springs, Wyoming; one in Hoksom, Colorado, and three sisters in Pennsylvania.

The funeral services will be held Monday from the family home, and interment will take place at Riverside Cemetery, this city.

yesterday was found guilty by the jury selected to try him. He will go to the penitentiary for life. Bartholmew and Lind being in Albany together a few days before the murder the case has been one of especial interest to the people of this city.

Eclipse of Moon—

A total eclipse of the moon will be visible at Albany tomorrow night. Following is the program: The moon will enter the penumbra, or lighter shadow, at 8:35 p. m. It will enter the umbra, or deeper shadow, at 9:50 p. m. The total eclipse will begin at 4:10 of a minute after 11 o'clock. It will be completely over at 2:52 o'clock Monday morning.

Elks' Homecoming—

On Thursday night of next week the Elks are to have a home-coming, when members of the lodge wherever they reside, will be looked for. All will have a chance to respond to the roll call.

Returned to California—

Howard Paine, son of G. M. Paine, returned to California this week after a visit of several days at the home of his father. Mr. Paine is receiver for government lands, with headquarters in San Francisco, handling millions of dollars annually in connection with the work.

Returning to College—

Miss Isabelle Young will leave this evening for Palo Alto, California, where she will resume her studies at Stanford University. Miss Young has been spending the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Young.

Returning to Albany—

Miss Willetta Wright is due to arrive here soon from Drewsey, Ore. Fred Dohmert went to Portland this morning to meet Miss Wright.

Soth Heard From—

Oscar Soth, whose father formerly ran the Mission Parlors in this city, and who now is employed by the General Electric Co. at Erie, Penna., has sent Rolla Ralston a copy of the paper containing an account of the Penn-Oregon game. Needless to say he was pleased to hear of Oregon's winning the game. Mr. Soth has been away from Oregon seven or eight years, but keeps in touch with Albany people through the columns of the Democrat, for which he has long been a subscriber.

Mr. Loncks Returns—

Mr. Bradley, who is to retire from the Hazelwood office here and go to North Yakima, will be succeeded by Mr. Loncks, who formerly had charge of the work here, and has many friends here who will be glad to see him and his family back. They have been at Creswell recently.

Arnold Here—

E. J. Arnold, the show man, has been in the city today.

Off the Battlefield—

The world is full of friendship off the field of battle. This afternoon Orville Montieth, a hero of the great Pasadena game, and Herman Abraham, who put the O. A. C. on the map at Lansing, Mich., who formerly were football enemies on the U. O. and O. A. C. teams, were around town today arm in arm. They started together on the Albany h. s. team.

A Duel—

A couple of women down street this afternoon came near pulling some of the hair on the head of the other off, but were parted in time to prevent such a result.

SOCIAL

One of the enjoyable events for the small girls occurred last Saturday afternoon, when The Truth Seekers S. S. class met at the Baptist church and marched in a body to the home of Miss Helen Phipps for a birthday surprise. This class consists of nine girls, each nine years old, as follows: Lucien Phipps, Esther Hodgkins, Rosa Cohen, Cheslea Lake, Geneva Olin, Florence Looney, Pearl Dodele, Vera Marsh and Lavina Milhollen, with Mrs. Lavina Trachsel as teacher. A very pleasant afternoon was spent in games and popping corn, after which Mrs. Phipps served a bountiful lunch, and the little girls departed at nightfall, declaring they had all enjoyed a very pleasant time.

The North Albany Thimble Club this week met with Mrs. J. D. Medley, on the Corvallis road, spending the afternoon with Mrs. Medley, devoting their time to the pleasant occupation of sewing for Mrs. Medley and as well having a pleasant time socially.

Up From Portland—

Frank J. Devine, of Portland, came up today to visit his friend, J. J. Collins, new exalted ruler of the Elks, who is confined to his home with bronchitis and pleurisy, and whose condition was serious at one time.
