DOUGLAS FAIRBANKS IN NEW TRIANGLE TONIGHT

The merest hint of the story of "Flirting With Fate," the Triangle release which is to be shown at the Globe theatre, beginning tonight stands it as the latest Douglas Fairbanks picture thus far; and that is establishing a record when one thinks of "His Picture in the Papers," "The Habit of Happiness" and "Reggie Mixes In." Fairbanks in this picture plays Augy Ainsworth, a young artist who is long on art but short on funds. He has fallen in with Gladys Kingsley, a girl of wealth and social position, but her guardian aunt frowns upon his suit because he hasn't money. Because Roland Dabney has money, and for no other reason, she encourages him to court Gladys.

When the propitious time arrives for Augy to propose to Gladys he cannot muster up the courage. In order to get control of himself he is persuaded by Gladys' friend, Phyllis, to practice proposing to her, while he is practicing Gladys sees him, thinks he is faithless and promptly accepts Dabney.

Augy wants to commit suicide when he learns what mischief has been done but when he tries to commit suicide by inhaling gas his quarter-in-the-slot meter run out. He enters a saloon to get change for a quarter, and there meets Automatic Joe, who does all manner of killings, plain and fancy, at nominal rates. He fixes it up with Joe to shoot him at some unexpected moment, and then goes back to his room.

Then a wonderful change takes place in his life. Gladys has learned the truth, broken her engagement to wed Dabney, and sent for Augy to come back to her. Also, a relative has expired and left him a million dollars. In the midst of his elation, Augy remembers his compact with Automatic Joe.

GLADYS BROCKWELL STARS IN "SINS OF HER PARENT"

"Sins of Her Parent" is the new William Fox photoplay which will open at the Rolfe Theatre today for a run of two days. Gladys Brockwell, who has supported William Farnum in several of his biggest features, is the star of this production. Miss Brockwell is really a double star for she portrays the parts of both mother and daughter.

The story tells how Richard Carver goes to Alaska in search of the mother of his promised bride. Adrian Courtney (Gladys Brockwell). He finds that Valerie Marcum, the mother is a worthless woman, and he decides not to tell the girl. But Adrian has come to Alaska and found out for himself.

In the end, Valerie redeems her past life by saving her daughter from disgrace. She is killed in a struggle with the saloon owner who is trying to force his attentions on Adrian and she leaves her daughter and Richard sorrowing by her side.

FINE TRIBUTE

Paid By Corvallis Paper To A Man Whom The People Liked.

Courtesy:

J. M. Nolan is dead. This is a hard one for the people of Corvallis and Benton county to realize. It does not seem it can be true.

It does not seem that this man whom we have seen almost daily for the past 30 years, this man who almost everybody loyally loved and respected would never be with us again.

He died Tuesday afternoon at the Lincoln Hospital, in Rochester, Minn., nine days after a serious stomach operation had been performed by the famous Mayo Brothers. For seven days he rallied and the daily reports received here by wire indicated that he was doing well and his improvement was all the physicians hoped for.

Then came a turn for the worse—and pneumonia set in—and death followed.

Mr. Nolan was a grand old man and his friends were every one. No man could be taken from Benton county who would be more missed.

He was ever an optimist—ever had a cheering word and a happy smile. He was among the first consulted in almost every undertaking, and he was ever a hearty booster for anything for the communities good. He was a worker, a progressive, and a man of splendid judgment and executive ability. And he was always on the GOOD side of everything.

Mr. Nolan will be sadly missed.

MAN CONDEMNED

Will Stand His Regrets to His Own Execution, But Can't Be There

London, Jan. 11.—Professor T. G. Masaryk will have to send his regrets to Vienna when the time comes for his execution. Masaryk is scheduled to be the guest of honor at the killing but doesn't believe he will be able to attend.

The Austrian government conducted a regular orderly trial of Masaryk on charges of high treason. He was sentenced to death following a verdict of guilty. The defendant was in London where he remains today as a lecturer in the University of London.

Masaryk is one of the most interesting figures in the Slav political and scientific world. As leader of the progressives in the Reichsrath he was forever demanding liberation of the Czech nation from Austrian domination.

The outbreak of the war made things very uncomfortable for the professor in Austria so he left.

He had organized and led the opposition to Austria's annexation of Bosnia and Herzegovina.

Masaryk, although theoretically an enemy alien, has found London a friendly haven compared to his home land.

AFTER LIQUOR ADDS

Bill Introduced in Congress Makes It Crime to Run a Liquor Advertiser

Congressman Randall introduced the following bill in the house of representatives, which was referred to the committee on the postoffice and post roads and ordered to be printed: A bill to exclude alcohol liquor advertising from the United States mails.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That no letter, package, postal card, or circular, newspaper, pamphlet, or publication of any kind, containing any advertisement of any spirituous, vinous, malted, fermented, or other intoxicating liquors, shall be deposited in or carried by the mails of the United States, or be delivered by any postmaster or letter carrier when addressed to other than a lawfully licensed manufacturer or dealer in such liquors. Whoever shall knowingly deposit or cause to be deposited, or who shall knowingly send or cause to be sent, anything to be conveyed or delivered by mail in violation of this Act, or shall knowingly deliver or cause to be delivered by mail anything herein forbidden to be carried by mail, shall be fined not more than $1,000, or imprisoned not more than two years, or both, and for any subsequent violation of this Act shall be imprisoned not more than five years. Any person violating this Act may be tried and punished either in the district in which the unlawful matter or publication was mailed, or to which it was carried by mail for delivery according to the direction thereon, or in which it was caused to be delivered by mail to the person to whom it was addressed.

IN SAN DOMINGO

Pitching Horseshoes Hits the Natives Who Prefer It to Baseball

Philadelphia, Jan. 8.—Pitching horseshoes bids fair to rival baseball among the natives of Santo Domingo, who have taken to this oldtime sport with wild enthusiasm, according to United States Marines just returned here from the island republic. Horseshoe flinging is a daily habit and the keenest rivalry exists among the leaders, who, following the custom of Uncle Sam's proteges everywhere, take readily to all American games, introduced by the "Soldiers of the Sea."

Since the American occupation the Dominicans have developed many promising devotees to the national game, but the majority of the natives prefer the more leisurely pastime of making "dead-ringers" beneath the palms to rounding the bases under a tropical sun.

MARGUERITE CLARK AN IRISH LASSIE

Stars in Famous Players Production "Little Lady Eileen"

Do you believe in fairies? When Maude Adams asked that question at the end of her marvelous performance in "Peter Pan" every man, woman and child in the theatre invariably joined in the chorus of affirmatives. Now Marguerite Clark, herself the incarnation of the elf spirit, is being starred by the Famous Players

Film Company in its delightful fairy tale, "Little Lady Eileen," which is the attraction at the Globe Theatre next week. And if, at the end of the performance, little Miss Clark were to step out of the screen upon the stage and ask the audience of the Globe theatre whether they believed in fairies, there's little room for doubt that they would unanimously shout "Yes!"

Strangely enough, it is only the little Lady Eileen herself who believes in the fairies at the beginning of the story. The others about her are entirely too practical, they would tell you, take any stock in such nonsense. But after we have seen the people of Eiland lead the trusting little Irish lassie to her true lover and kill the imposter who attempted to get possession of her fortune, then there can be no shadow of a doubt in any of our minds that it is the fairies who reward our faith in them by their good work.
