PERSONAL MENTION FROM MILL CITY

Mill City, Dec. 18.—(Special)—Rev. Knotts of Albany preached here Sunday morning and evening at the Presbyterian church during the absence of the pastor. Rev. Fitch is assisting in the meetings at Grace Presbyterian church, Albany.

The jitney supper given on Thursday evening by the Missionary and Aid Society of the Presbyterian church netted them $25.

Mr. Reeder, manager of the Hammond Lumber Yard of Albany, was a business visitor here Friday.

Mrs. H. H. Eastman and Mrs. Leslie Stellmacher of near Albany, mother and sister of George Eastman were guests over the week end, of Mr. and Mrs. George Eastman.

The meeting held by the Parent-Teachers' Association at the public school Friday was well attended.

Mr. and Mrs. James Kennedy and Miss Kennedy left last week for their home in Kansas. They were here several months. Mrs. Kennedy is a sister of Mrs. Letella.

Friday evening, Jan. 19, an entertainment will be given in the Auditorium of the public school building, for the benefit of the school.

The marriage of Miss Bessie Littmire, a high school student, completes a list of three weddings since Christmas, the brides all from the high school. Mrs. James Swan (McDonald), a student, and Mrs. Harry Mason (Sherwood) high school teacher.

Clyde and Delbert Hill returned from San Diego, Calif., Monday, after a several weeks' visit.

The Odd Fellows and Rebekah lodges held joint installation of officers Saturday evening at their hall, after which a splendid supper was served. The Rebekah officers were: Noble Grand, Mrs. F. HIRSUTE AFFAIR

The Kaiser Mustache Club Organized At Barborton, Ohio.

(By United Press)
Barborton, O., Jan. 18.—It seems both fitting and just that the first "Kaiser's Mustache Club" in the United States should be formed here in Barborton. To which the barber of Barborton agrees. Ten Barborton men organized it; and the only qualification for membership in a mustache is a Wilhelm. The club is, one might say, a growing institution.

ANOTHER FINE DOG

Warns Mother of Drowning Boy and He Is Saved

Stayton, Or., Jan. 17.—(Special)—Mrs. Ben Gehlen lived into the mill-race which runs past her home and rescued her two-year-old son, who was being swept down the stream, when the boy's dog, with which he was at play, warned her of the lad's danger.

The mother saw the dog running frantically up and down the bank of the stream and heard him barking. She rushed to the ditch to investigate and found the boy being carried away by the current. The boy suffered little, but the mother has been ill from the shock.

Gentlemen Tramps of America En Route to Buffalo Convention

(By United Press)
Cleveland, Jan. 18.—On Foot, by and, maybe by passenger coach, 200 delegates are heading for Buffalo to attend the national convention of the American Council of Migratory Workers of the World. In other words the gentlemen tramps of America.

Murray Youtz, national secretary, whose office is in Cleveland, explained today that it is impossible to fix the exact time for the convention. Uncertain arrival of delegates will determine the starting time. When they reach Buffalo the convention will begin. This probably will be within the next two weeks.

The council is working for government ownership of railroads, employment of the unemployed by the government on the public improvements; free transportation of workmen to where needed; municipal ownership of food supply and cheap loans by the government.

THE BUSINESS OUTLOOK

(By the W. F. Bank)
The opening of another year finds the whole world trying to solve the problem of returning peace. No one knows when it can be achieved nor just what negotiations must be undertaken in order to cause the nations to substitute construction for destructive pursuits. The developments of peace discussions during the past few weeks have tended to remind the world that, apart from the cessation of bloodshed and of the destruction of treasure, the transition from a state of war to a state of peace must be attended with changes of far-reaching significance.

The American people are still doing an active business which is both voluminous and profitable, but the ratio of what is known as "war business" to the country's general trade is nothing like as large as it was a few months ago. Various industries report such huge volume of domestic business as to make them relatively independent of foreign orders. This is notably the case in steel where domestic orders are sufficient to keep the great plants busy for months to come. Some of the largest manufacturers have been forced to reject all foreign contracts in order to satisfy the demands of their regular customers whose orders in normal times keep their plants going. We can welcome every effort to conciliate rep-ular customers, the demand arising through the ordinary channels of trade as distinguished from the wholly abnormal channels developed during the war period.

Readjustment of prices in the securities markets has been of great benefit in eliminating the weak points of an over-wrought speculative position. The markets have stood this test well. Considering the extent of the previous advance, even the industrial shares (other than those of corporations whose prosperity has been wholly due to war orders) have manifested excellent resistance. In the case of railroad shares the disturbance has been limited and in some issues scarcely discernible. The thoroughgoing reaction that has taken place, therefore, has been of substantial advantage in preparing for whatever readjustment of prices the restoration of peace will finally bring. There has been excellent buying of high grade bonds which are in broad demand at firm prices. Developments in both the stock market and the bond market since the three million share day of December 21—there have been only three occasions in stock exchange history when three million shares have been dealt in on a single day—indicate public confidence in the future of American securities.

IN SOUTHERN WATERS

American Ship "Carolyn" Is Pioneer In New South American Service.

By H. P. Robertson.
United Press Staff Correspondent.
Rio De Janeiro, Jan. 18.—When the good ship "Carolyn," pioneer of the new service established between Philadelphia and ports of Brazil and Argentina, steamed into this harbor just now, Pan-American business prospects sighed a real sigh of relief. The new service will go a long way toward relieving a tense transportation situation, in the opinion of shippers here. Bi-monthly, even weekly steamers are predicted for the future. After discharging her general cargo, about 5,000 tons, in this port the "Carolyn" turned her nose again southward for the ports of Santos and Buenos Aires. She will touch at Montevideo on later trips. The assurance of the immediate success of the new transportation enterprise is not based entirely on the situation created by the European war. Shipper here declare that American export trade with South American countries has grown tremendously in the last three years. It is declared that many Brazilian products are meeting difficulty in finding transportation for the United States, particularly coffee and rubber. The "Carolyn" made the trip from Philadelphia in twenty-three days which is about the average speed of boats of her class. By a curious coincidence the "Carolyn" was the first steamer to go through the Panama Canal after the opening of the "big ditch." Pioneer on the "Canal route," she is now pioneer in the new service to the ports of South America's east coast.

FORESTRY CONFERENCE

Plan to Save $265,000,000 Worth of New England Forests By Quarantine.

(By United Press)
Washington, Jan. 18.—Prepared to fight spread of the white pine blister disease that threatens $265,000,000 worth of timber in New England and other northwestern states, delegates to the International Conference of the American Forestry Association gathered here today. Quarantine to check the dreadful disease were suggested by experts in attendance. By these white pine seedlings and currant and goose berry bushes on which the fungus feeds would not be permitted to be shipped from infected states. This method has met with the approval of the Department of Agriculture, which has urged a quarantine to protect $105,000,000 worth of sugar pines in western states.

MORE ABOUT MEXICO

The Government has appointed a commission to study the feasibility of refining the greater portion of the petroleum product in Mexico, instead of, as at present, exporting it for that purpose. It is believed there is no good reason why this industry should not become a prominent and profitable one.

All the mines in the State of Guerrero are now reported to be in operation, that region being entirely tranquil. These mines are all owned by Mexicans and their product will be sent to the mint in Mexico City for conversion into coin. With the reopening of the mines many who have been in arms have solicited and received amnesty in order that they may resume peaceful pursuits.

The secretary of Fomento, Pastor Rouaix, has sent a special commission to the Gulf of California to study the best methods for the preservation of the pearl oyster deposits in that region. The excessive concessions that were granted under former administrations have been abrogated and means are to be decided upon both to preserve the beds and at the same time permit exploitation to a reasonable degree.

After conferring with the farmers, the Government of the State of Queretaro has agreed to purchase their corn crops at a fair price, the grain to be put on sale at a retail, at lower rates than are demanded by dealers. The farmers will receive more than they have in the past, while consumers will be enabled to purchase at much lower prices. The dealers who are thus frustrated in their exorbitant demands are mostly foreigners.

Notice has been given that until the issuance of a new order upon the subject, the free importation of crude petroleum from the United States will be continued at the ports of Guaymas, Agua Prieta, Naco, Nogales, Los Algodones, Mexicali, Tijuana, Ensenada, Magdalena Bay, San Jose del Cabo, La Paz, Santa Rosalia, Topolobampo, Mazatlan, and San Blas. This privilege has been extended because of the difficulty in transporting Mexican petroleum to those points.

General Federico Chapoy, Governor of the State of San Luis Potosi, reports that conditions in that State are rapidly approaching normal. Many of the largest mines have resumed operations, thereby affording employment for thousands who have been idle; the crops have been large, and extensive importations of food products have been made from other portions of the Republic, there now being an abundance of food obtainable at moderate prices.

The period for the resumption of work in the mines of the country has been extended for three months from the 15th of November. It is believed that by the expiration of that time there will be no valid reason for non-resumption. From all over the Republic news is being received by the Department of Fomento of the reopening of important mines, while the same department is daily in receipt of a constantly increasing number of petitions for permission to exploit the petroleum measures in various localities.

The leading hacendados of the State of Yucatan are conferring with the State officials upon the subject of the best method for inducing immigration to that section. There is abundance of well paid employment for far more than the available supply and it is proposed to devise an adequate plan to meet the situation. A fund for the purpose is to be raised by each hacendado grower contributing one cent (Mexican specie) per kilo of his crop. This is equivalent to a little less than one quarter of a cent per pound in American currency or gold.

Military colonies are being established in the territory of Quintana Roo for the purpose of bringing into cultivation large areas of fertile land that have either been abandoned by their former holders or have never been claimed. It is proposed to establish schools, etc., for the benefit of the colonists and their families, who will be soldiers whose services are no longer required in the army. There is said to be great enthusiasm among the troops over this prospect for relief from military duties, coupled with the certainty of being provided with homes and sufficient lands for self-support.

TIRED OF IMPRISONMENT

Alleged Would-Be Assassin of President Wants To Be Freed.

(By United Press)
Buenos Aires, Jan. 18.—Juan Mandrini, believed to have tried to assassinate Dr. Victorino de la Plaza, shortly before the latter's recent retirement from the Argentine presidency, is trying to get out of prison. For mental observation he has been committed indefinitely to a "prison preventive."

Mandrini contends that, as an anarchist, he meant to flourish his pistol to attract attention but that he did not intend to fire it and would not have done so if bystanders, in seizing him, had not made him pull the trigger involuntarily. He denies that he is insane. He has appealed to the courts to release him.
