REAL ON WANTED

The Democrat has received the following clipping from the Chicago Herald, sent by some one in the east. And hence must be of some importance, a fact that will be appreciated upon reading it:

The Federal Trade Commission is about to start an investigation of the raise in food prices. It will ask the President to approve an appropriation of $400,000 for that purpose. It proposes to cover every side of the food situation.

Good! Let's hope at least we are going to have a real investigation. The country has confidence in the Federal Trade Commission. Now let's have the facts. Let's go to the bottom—to the fundamentals—and really learn all that can be learned about the subject.

The problem is legal and economic. The question of whether there are combinations in restraint of trade must be decided. That has heretofore attracted the main attention. Now it's time to go more into the economic part—and go into it thoroughly. Are the people being compelled to pay too much for what they buy? Nobody can answer that until he can say with reasonable approximation what it costs to produce those things.

In some fields the trade commission will find plenty of data. The packers, for instance, can tell it exactly what it costs them to turn out their products. Government attention has encouraged accurate cost accounting in their case. But these fields are limited. In the biggest fields of all the work will have to be done from the ground up. There isn't a farmer in Illinois who knows what it costs him to put his products on the market today. There isn't one manufacturer in ten who has an accurate idea of what it costs him to run his business.

Let the trade commission start literally "from the ground up." Let it start with the farmer and find what production of everything, from eggs to wheat and cattle, means in terms of money and labor expenditure. He doesn't know and nobody else knows. Then let it follow the product to consumption. Many people assume high prices don't start until they reach some large organization. From the economic standpoint they are just as liable to start at the beginning as anywhere else. Prices cannot be permanently blown the cost of production under any circumstances.

The country is in the mood for an investigation that will be long and deep and thorough. It is tired of these continued flurries about high prices that get nothing except possibly a politician into Congress or some other job or into the newspapers. It has had its fill of half-baked remedies that spring up from attention to only one-half of the great problem. Let's have an investigation that will enable the country to see it steadily and see it whole. It would be cheap at $400,000 or $4,000,000.

MISCELLANEOUS

The captain of an anti-neutral submarine is a gentleman compared to a chicken thief, says the Salem Journal.

If Villa actually goes to Japan it will be all up with that country.

He could not do a greater favor than stay there or somewhere on that side of the unpeaceful Pacific.

It pays to be courteous. A Portland stenographer Ella Pearson, has just been given $40,000 in a will by Charles Clark, an old man who died recently. In the days of the ferry she had crossed many times and spoken to him pleasantly. She had hardly seen him for seven years, and did not dream of the legacy.

The movies will have to hustle to beat that for a nice story.

Umbrellas

We mention umbrellas contritely, for we are addicted to them. We are otherwise normal and sane; but once loose in a crowd with a furled umbrella and human safety is no more to us than one broken leg to a centipede.

We have overcome most of our other bad habits, like rubbers, and ear muffs, and sauerkraut. And we don't insist on making our salad dressing wherever we go any more. But umbrellas are things we can't resist. We are fiendishly adroit with them.

G. M.

Here's to the memory of George Washington, the father of our country.

His word was as good as his bond. He never lied purposefully.

He would be lonesome here now.

Whether true or not the hatchet story is a good one.

A rep. for truthfulness is a good one, while a rep. for being the worst liar in a town, is as bad as an egg that lay under a barn for a year.

A man at The Dalles is accused of not putting up a flag because afraid of offending pro-German sympathizers.

Shy Huntington, who made such a rep. in the Pasadena foot ball game, has received a marriage proposal from a girl in Massachusetts.

"Ben Jensen."

"Yes, suh."

"Accused of being under the influence of liquor on Christmas eve."

"Yes, suh."

"Profanity."

"I might er swo—yas, suh."

ALBANY ASTONISHED BY SIMPLE MIXTURE

Albany people are astonished at the INSTANT action of simple buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adler-ka. ONE SPOONFUL removes such surprising foul matter it relieves almost ANY CASE constipation, sour stomach or gas. Because Adler-ka acts on BOTH lower and upper bowel, a few doses often relieve or prevent appendicitis. A short treatment helps chronic stomach trouble.
