

LESSONS OF THRIFT.

Learn to Spend Money Only For Things You Really Need.

There are few persons so rich that they do not need to exercise care and forethought in their expenditure. Human needs, human desires, human sympathies, are so vast, occasions of outlay so beset all of us at every step that unless we are watchful we quickly find great resources reduced to nothing, without our knowing how. The speed with which money departs is one of the first lessons of experience to man, woman and child, but we are slow to apply our own experience in our judgment of others.

Every one should be taught from childhood to watch the needs of expenditure. This I must have, this I can go without, this I greatly want, if other demands still more imperative are not balked by it. By buying this now I can avert the necessity of a double expenditure a year hence. On the other hand, if I refrain from a purchase tempting at the moment I may be glad of my self control, even within a week. Questions like these have to be settled by every human being. Can any training be more important than that which enables us to settle them?

Exactly the same disposition to weigh and to compare must be brought into giving, into charity, if giving is to be discreet and wise and not in the end injurious to giver and receiver both. If we want a useful test for the difficult distinction between avarice and thrift we may say that thrift is more sparing with self than it is with others, whereas avarice pinches others sooner than itself, although it may pinch both.—Youth's Companion.

THE CITY OF QUEENSTOWN.

It is a Seaport, a Watering Place and a British Naval Station.

Queenstown, numbering slightly more than 8000 souls, has a threefold distinction—as a seaport, a watering place and a British naval station. It is a well built and attractive place, with a mild climate, and, being built upon an island, its streets rise in terraces one above the other and offer a superb outlook over the neighboring waters.

Within fifty years the place was only a small fishing village and was known as the Cove of Cork. Its present name was received in 1849 by reason of its having been the first spot in Ireland upon which Queen Victoria set foot. It still serves as the port of the city of Cork, from which it is twelve miles distant. Cork itself is located at the point of entry of the river Lee into the bay.

The harbor of Queenstown is splendidly defended by two forts—Carlisle and Camden—at its entrance and by Fort Westmoreland, which is situated upon Spike Island, one of the group of three isles which make up the government dockyard and constitute the fine natural breakwater of the harbor, wherein a large fleet can find safe anchorage.

Two years before the queen's visit to the town Spike Island was made a convict depot upon the abolishment of the transportation scheme of punishment which had been in vogue, and the convicts sent there were employed upon the fortifications. The island ceased to be a prison in 1885, at which time it was handed over to the military authorities.—National Geographic Society Bulletin.

Positive Jurors.

A prospective juror, being qualified for a murder trial in Illinois, when asked the customary question, "Have you formed or expressed an opinion as to the guilt or innocence of the accused?" rejoined promptly: "Sure. He's as guilty as all get out!" Which resulted in a $10 fine by the outraged court and, of course, the disqualification of that taleman.

There was a murder case that ended right in the middle when counsel, wheeling gently at the jury, remarked: "Of course none of you gentlemen has made up his mind yet as to the guilt or innocence of this defendant." Taking advantage of a rhetorical pause, a lanky juror arose and replied positively: "Well, I have, for one. He ought to be hung!"—Kansas City Star.

Where We Get Nux Vomica.

With the exception of Ceylon, which exports a limited quantity of nux vomica, British India is said to supply the world. Nux vomica seeds and pickings are obtained from the plumlike fruits of the tree. The fruit is collected and the seeds washed out and dried in the sun. In the forests of Nellore, where the tree is common, the seeds are washed out by a forest tribe, the Yanadis, and a good price is obtained for them. Cocina nux vomica is collected in the dry deciduous forests at the foot of the Travancore hills and is sold at a low figure to small native dealers, who send it to the merchants.

READ OUR WANT ADS

Manufacturers and Retailers of Women's Garments

UNUSUAL WINTER COSTS
WHEAT GROWERS HEAVILY

Pendleton, March 30.—Unusual weather of the last winter has cost the wheat growers of the inland empire many thousands of dollars. Seventy-five per cent of the farmers of Eastern Oregon, Washington and Idaho must reseed their wheat fields, owing to the lack of snow during the winter and the high wind of a week ago which actually blew the seed out of the ground.

With wheat selling at more than $1.50 a bushel, the loss to the farmers who must plant their crop a second time is easily seen. In Umatilla county alone thousands of acres are being reseeded now.

The ground in many places is matted and hard. Club varieties of wheat are said to have suffered most.

CITY NEWS

Returns From California—

Miss Orah Harkness returned today from California where she has just completed a successful engagement with the "Oracles."

Red Cross Organization—

W. W. Hush is expected to arrive in Albany next week and while here will organize a Red Cross chapter for Linn county. Mr. Hush is the representative of the Northwest division of the National Red Cross association.

Oregonian Press Comment—

The following appeared on the editorial page of this morning's Oregonian: Fred P. Nutting, editorial warhorse of Albany, has been tucked under the wing of the Internal Revenue Collector and his troubles are over. All he need do now is just work.

The Ax Slipped—

John Rockwell, of near Crabtree, was in town Saturday. He was very lame, caused by a severe cut with an ax near the left knee, which had occurred the day previously. It required four or five stitches to bring the severed parts together. A pair of crutches are necessary for him to navigate.—Scio Tribune.

Phone Out of Commission—

The Oregon Power company's telephone line between Albany and Corvallis was put out of commission Wednesday by an employee of the telephone company who was repairing the public line. The repair work has now been completed and the Power company line is again in operation.

Feature Showing
Spring StylesJACK TAR
MIDDIES

The swing of the Sailor
Collar Carries the wearer into the wave of Patriotism

Come While Our Stock is Complete
M. Sternburg
and Co.

EASTER Is Only One Week
Off So We Have Decided to Have An

Easter Opening

Showing Every New Style
Tendency Fashion Has Set
Her Seal of Approval

Since the first styles of Spring appeared, certain little changes have been made, which add greatly to the appearance of the garments. The styles now are absolutely "OFFICIAL," the display is at its best—prices are attractive—the merchandise is up to the standard expected at this store. Let us help you have semi-fitted coats with a tendency toward shorter lengths, and skirts on modified "barrel" lines. Fabrics and colors remain the same as shown in the first models.

GET READY FOR EASTER

The Latest Suits

Dresses of Most Recent Creation

show a decided leaning toward sport models with lower-than-waistline belts and straight line skirts. Silks and washable fabrics in bright, attractive colors are most favored.

Cash Values Worth While

HAMILTONS'

See Shoe Ad. on Page 5

Printzess

EDGAR FRANK BURIED WITH HONOR IN PORTLAND TODAY

Portland, March 30.—Edgar B. Frank, former national featherweight champion, one of the most prominent amateur athletes in the country and prominent Portland business man, will be laid to rest here this afternoon. He died Monday morning in Chicago, following an operation.

The funeral services will be held from Finley's undertaking parlors, in charge of Rabbi Jonah B. Wise, at 2:30 o'clock, and interment will be in Beth Israel cemetery. Presidents and ex-presidents of the Multnomah Amateur Athletic Club, of which Mr. Frank was a prominent member, are the honorary pallbearers. Members of the club met shortly after noon today to attend the services in a body.

Mrs. David Smith of Portland is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. O. McClain and other relatives and friends in Albany.

Returning to Portland—Mrs. Roy Newton and two children who have been visiting for the past two weeks at the home of W. A. Eastburn, will return tomorrow to their home in Portland.

CHICAGO WINNING FIGHT AGAINST WHITE PLAGUE

(By United Press)

Chicago, Mar. 28.—This city's battle against the Great White Plague will be won within ten years if the present decrease in deaths continues.

This announcement was made today by Dr. John Dill Robertson, city health officer. Decreased consumption of alcoholic liquors, the Sunday closing law, purification of the city's milk supply and a general hygienic educational campaign have made marked inroads against the yearly toll of tuberculosis, Dr. Robertson said.

"We are reaping the reward of persistent propaganda against the disease," said he. Insanitation, communicable methods of disease, public drinking cups, promiscuous spitting, bad housing, too much liquor and not enough out door life have been fought.

STORY OF THE PENNY GIRL.

Likeness on the Old Cent Was That of Sarah Longacre.

In 1835 the government of the United States made an offer of $1,000 for the most acceptable design to be placed upon the new one cent coin soon to be issued. Some Indian chiefs traveled from the northwest to Philadelphia to inspect the mint, whose chief engraver was James Barton Longacre, who invited them to his house.

The engraver's daughter, Sarah, ten years old, greatly enjoyed the visit of her father's guests, and during the evening, to please her, one of the chiefs took his feathered helmet and war bonnet and placed it on her head. In the company was an artist, who immediately sketched her and handed the picture to her father. Mr. Longacre, knowing of the competition for a likeness to go upon the cent, resolved to enter the sketch for the prize offered by the government. To his delight, the officials accepted it, and the face of his daughter appeared upon the coin.

The face of Sarah Longacre has gone into more hands, more pockets, more homes, more stores—yes, more churches—than any other coin in the United States, if not in the world.—Pittsburgh Leader.

Special Communication of St. John's Lodge No. 17 A. F. & A. M. Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Work in the E. A. Degree. Visiting brethren welcome.
JOHN R. PENLAND, W. M.

STUDENTS JOINING ARMY
TO GET COLLEGE CREDIT

O.A.C. Provides Method of Making Up Class Work Lost in Nation's Cause.

O.A.C., Corvallis, Or., Mar. 29.—No scholastic obstacles will be allowed to prevent enlistment for military service at the Oregon Agricultural College. A faculty ruling has been made that will either give credit for work unfinished because of entering the service before the end of the present semester, or provide means of making up the uncompleted work.

Candidates for graduation in June 1917, who withdraw from college for U. S. Military service will receive full credit for the second semester's work in all subjects in which they are maintaining a passing grade. All other students will either receive full credit for the unfinished work of the semester or be given on "incomplete" in subjects necessary to be required subjects.

When students with incompletes return to college they will be provided with special instruction to enable them to remove the incomplete grade.

READ OUR WANT ADS

TODAY

"The Primitive Call"

Tells the fascinating story of how a beautiful girl wins the love of a cultured Indian only to delude him into signing away his land. But he wins out in the end.

This thrilling story is told most elaborately by the strong Wm. Fox cast headed by

Gladys Coburn
and
Fritz Leiber

CUB COMEDY

A laugh a foot

MUTUAL TRAVEL

WEEKLY

SEEING AMERICA FIRST

FRIDAY-SATUR.

Adults 15c Matinees 10c Children 5c

ROLFE

GLADYS COBURN
DIRECTION WILLIAM FOX