Many Societies have past since Albany has been the scene of such a gay affair, as was the dance of Monday evening given by Miss Flora Mason. Many interesting and brilliant events have been the afternoon's and evening's pastimes, but this will long remain as a bright spot in the history of Albany's social activities.

The dining room of the Hotel Albany was aglow with red carnations, the color scheme of red predominating. After an elaborate luncheon the afternoon hours were enjoyed at bridge. As complimented guests Mrs. J. D. Summers, Mrs. O. D. Austin, Mrs. W. H. Pfeiffer, Mrs. Mark Montgomery, Mrs. Archie Gould, Mrs. J. J. Barrett, Mrs. C. L. Monson, Mrs. L. L. Swan and Mrs. Willard Marks were bidden.

A jolly affair of Thursday afternoon was the surprise party given in honor of the birthday of Mrs. E. C. Branderberry, by a number of her friends. After assembling at her home at an early hour in the afternoon the remainder of the time was spent in bridge. Mrs. E. M. Pugh received a prize for the highest score. Later refreshments completed the afternoon. The guests present were Mrs. C. L. Monson, Mrs. L. H. Fish, Mrs. G. E. Riggs, Mrs. W. A. Barrett, Mrs. Anne Hunt, Mrs. Albert Sanders, Mrs. G. E. Sanders, Mrs. E. M. Pugh, Mrs. J. J. Barrett, and Mrs. O. D. Austin.

SOCIETY STUFF
Miss Flora Mason was a luncheon hostess on Wednesday of this week, when she entertained Mrs. A. J. Rahn, (Salem); Miss Helen Pierce, (Salem); Miss Leonise Flury, (Portland); Miss Dorothy Pierce, (Salem); Mrs. Thomas Hopkins and Mrs. Robert E. Greene.

Mrs. J. K. Haight was hostess on Friday afternoon to the Twentieth Century Club. A few additional guests came in to enjoy the afternoon which, after a delightful social time, was rounded out with a dainty repast.

On Easter Sunday Mrs. Edward M. Pugh presided at a dinner, the occasion being to celebrate the birthday of Mr. Van Wier and Mrs. Pugh. Pink roses made up the beautiful centerpiece for the attractive table. Encircled around the table were Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Wiedner, Miss Louise Wiedner, and Mr. Van and Edwin Wiedner. Mr. Bill Bowden, Mr. and Mrs. Pugh and daughter, Helen.

Honoring Mrs. I. E. Briggs, of Erie, Pennsylvania, Mrs. L. H. Fish presided at a charming little "afternoon," on Wednesday of this week. Music and fancy work were the afternoon's enjoyable diversions, and these were rounded out with a dainty lunch served by the hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wilkins were delightful dinner hosts on Easter Sunday when they entertained several relatives at an elaborate dinner. The artistically appointed table had for its centerpiece a large bouquet of daffodils, and the candle shades and other appointments carried out the yellow color scheme.

On Thursday afternoon the New Idea Club met at the home of Mrs. Scott Ward, where the members passed a social afternoon. Following this refreshments were served. Mrs. Carrie Veal was asked as a complimented guest.

A very informal and delightful affair took place this week on Tuesday at the home of Mrs. O. D. Austin, when she entertained for the pleasure of Mrs. L. M. Hawtin, Chicago; Mrs. Maxon, Pendleton; Mrs. Briggs, of Erie, Pennsylvania; and Mrs. W. H. Hornbrook. The pretty rooms of the Austin home were profusely decorated, daffodils and hyacinths predominating.

An interesting program was a feature of the afternoon, among the numbers being a vocal solo by Mrs. Frank M. Powell, vocal selection by Mrs. F. P. Nutting, Mrs. William Rhodes sang a song, Mrs. C. L. Monson gave a piano selection and Mrs. Worrell also gave a piano solo.

Closing the afternoon the Misses Dorothy Lee, Lucile Longbottom, Nathaniel Donaca and Marciel Austin served an elaborate collation.

A pretty luncheon was presided over Wednesday at 1 o'clock by Mrs. L. E. Tracy, when she entertained for the Ladies of the American Revolution of Oregon. The Hotel Albany was used for this occasion. The beautifully appointed table was encircled by 16 guests. At a business meeting, Mrs. F. H. Geselbracht resigned her position as vice-president and was succeeded by Mrs. W. H. Hornbrook. Mrs. Geselbracht accepted the position of state recording secretary.

Mrs. Dindinger of Marshfield was chosen organizing regent of the Marshfield region.

A very pleasant time was passed by the guests, who were complimented at this time.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Austin, beautifully decorated in keeping with the spring season and carrying out the pink color scheme, was the scene of a jolly meeting for the members of the Monday night covered dish club.

At the prettily appointed table, a sumptuous feed was served, and later "500" was the evening's diversion. Mr. and Mrs. William T. Panck were complimented guests.

Mrs. Grant Froman was hostess on Thursday afternoon to the Priscilla club, when the members passed a social time at her home. About the rooms pink carnations were effectively used in decorative effect. A solo by Mrs. Willard Marks accompanied by Mrs. Earl Fisher and a musical reading by Mrs. A. Austin gave entertainment during the afternoon, and merriment prevailed. Later refreshments added a delicious touch to the afternoon. Miss Vernita Froman assisted the hostess in serving. The invited guests were Mrs. Ella Hendryson (Hepler), and Miss Lilly Rideout.

The Krowdeelen Club met this week on Thursday at the home of Mrs. John Rutter. Fancy work and prepared games were the afternoon's pastime, with a dainty lunch as the climax. Mrs. Murray Marshall was an invited guest.

The W. C. Burkhardt home was the scene of a gay affair on Monday evening of this week when the girls of the Campfire Club met and gave a shower in honor of Miss Iona Irving. Miss Helen Corl, of Corvallis, was an honor guest. A campfire lunch was enjoyed around the fireplace in a darkened room, along with a jolly social time.

Miss Irving will leave the first of the week for Kansas City, Missouri, where she will be married to Mr. Ferguson of that city. Miss Corl will accompany her on her trip and expects to be wedded to Mr. Irving, a brother of Miss Irving.

A notable event of the week was the musical given Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Percy R. Kelly, by the Ladies' Musical Club, who are under the instruction of Prof. Palmer. About 75 guests were on the invitation list for this occasion.

A great deal of talent was displayed in the following program: The Club Oh, Had I Juba's Lyre — Mrs. Percy Kelly; Irish Lullaby — Three Roses Red — Mrs. H. B. Cusick; Indian Cradle Song — The Club; Love Me If I Live — Mrs. Dora Flood; Ah, 'Tis a Dream — Mrs. Frank Powell; Open Thine Eyes — Miss Eva Miller; Cradle Song — The Club; The Return — Mrs. Frank Powell; Love Note — Mrs. H. B. Cusick; When Phyllis Danced the Minuet — The Club; The Love and the Bird — Mrs. Percy Kelly; Pretty Barbara — The Club.

An affair of last night which was one of the week's jolliest, was the covered dish feed at the home of Miss Anna Hofflich, which was followed later by a dancing party with Miss Marciel Austin as hostess. The rooms of the Hofflich home carried out the color scheme of pink in a very pretty manner.

After the feed their gentleman friends joined them and they repaired to the Austin home, where dancing was the diversion enjoyed until a late hour, when dainty refreshments were served.

The Twilight club will meet tonight with Miss Lottie Morgan, who will be a supper hostess. A social time will follow the supper, and music, fancy work and conversation will make the hours gay.

In a brilliant attire of flags and other pretty decorations, the Armory was the scene of a very successful dance last night, given by Fifth Company, C. A. C. An excellent crowd was in attendance and splendid music was furnished to the dancers by the Albany Band.

On Wednesday evening the members of the Fifth Company, C. A. C., were guests to a banquet given in their honor, and furnished by the business men of Albany, and was served by the Ladies of the Grand Army of the Republic. Rev. C. E. Gibson presided as toastmaster, and several toasts in response were given. A drill followed the banquet, in which the company displayed their talent.

A pretty Easter wedding took place in the chancel last Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Biley, when their daughter, Leola Jane, was given in marriage to Leonard T. Vaughan, of that city. The bride wore a charming gown of white georgette crepe and held a shower bouquet of bride's roses. Mr. and Mrs. John Neely of this city stood up with the couple. Mrs. Neely being a sister of the bride. Rev. G. H. Young officiated at the service.

Spring flowers were the attractive decorations used, with quantities of daffodils giving the needed touch of yellow so appropriate to the Easter season. The yellow color scheme was carried out through the lunch, which followed the ceremony. About 50 guests were present at this time.

The bridal couple left for a short trip and after returning home will live on the farm which Mr. Vaughan owns.

The Sunday school class of Mrs. George Green, of the Baptist church, enjoyed a party at the home of their teacher, on Saturday of last week. Games and an Easter Egg contest made the afternoon's time pass pleasantly. The rooms were prettily decorated with Spring flowers.

Later in the afternoon Mrs. Green served delicious refreshments.

Miss Bertha Lee was hostess Thursday evening to the members of the Teachers' Club. In a delightful way the hours quickly passed and the evening was completed with a lunch.

On Tuesday, April 3d, Mrs. Victor Yates was hostess to a delightful dinner party. The handsomely decked table was centered by a large bouquet of daffodils. Yellow was the color scheme carried out on the table and about the rooms. Place cards marked covers laid for the Messrs. and Mesdames Wilson, Cunningham, Michael, Coon, C. H. Brown, Miss Norah Bigel, Harold Coon and Mr. and Mrs. Victor Yates.

Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Neptune were motifs for a farewell party which was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Gilbert on East Eighth and Main streets. Mrs. Neptune was the honor guest for the afternoon, and Mr. and Mrs. Neptune were entertained in the evening. Nearly 50 guests were present to spend an enjoyable time.

Mr. and Mrs. Neptune will leave next Tuesday for Salem where they will make their home.

Mrs. Chris Bender was hostess this week to the Hazelwood Social Tattling club on Thursday afternoon. The Spring decorations of daffodils were effectively used about the rooms. Music was the main feature of the afternoon with a song and ukelele accompaniment by Miss Genevieve Bender, piano selections from Mrs. Thomas Moores, and other musical numbers.

A lunch was served at a long table around which 15 guests were seated. Mrs. Dale Forbes, a recent bride, was the honor guest.

The Sans Souci Club met last Thursday afternoon with Mrs. L. H. Harris as hostess.

Miss Eda Patterson of Portland is spending the week in Albany with friends. She will be the guest of Mrs. E. Hamilton of this city and Miss Margaret Gibson of North Albany. Miss Patterson formerly lived in Albany and has many friends here who will be glad to hear of her visit.

Mrs. J. A. McKillop entertained a merry little party at the Globe Monday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Okey, who leaves soon for her home in La Grande after a sojourn with her sister, Mrs. J. D. Summers.

At the close of the afternoon the ladies repaired to the New Elite where, in the private dining room, gayly decorated in clusters of golden daffodils, the guests partook of dainty refreshments. The golden color scheme, carried throughout in table decorations and the ices, lent a charming and spring-like effect.

Seated around the table were the following ladies: Mrs. Okey, Mrs. J. D. Summers, Mrs. D. H. Bodine, Mrs. C. V. Littler, Mrs. L. G. Lewelling, Mrs. S. E. Watson, Mrs. B. J. Culp and Mrs. J. A. McKillop.

The B-Sharp Club met on Friday of this week. The members answered to roll call with the name of an American composer having the same initial. The program was as follows: Humming Bird—Ernest Kroeger.

Around the Maypole—Fred Morey by Olza Jackson; When Evening Falls—Weils; Narcissus—Nevin; Nathaniel Donaca; Gondoliera—Nevin; Marciel Austin; Shadow Dance—MacDowell; March Wind—MacDowell; Lural Burggraf; Hexantanz—MacDowell; Florence Ryder.

A descriptive analysis of each number was given by Mrs. Worrell, who also played sketches from MacDowell's "Six Poems After Heim," and "Woodland Sketches."

The program closed with a medley of patriotic airs played by Louise Collins, which was received with great applause.

Refreshments were served by Violet Nutting and Nathaniel Donaca.

Visitors of the club during the past month were: Mrs. W. L. Jackson, Mrs. Herman Schmidt (Grants Pass), Mrs. O. D. Austin, Mrs. F. C. Pate, Mrs. Chas. Burggraf.

The Willing Workers' Band, a Sunday School class of the First Presbyterian church, of which Mrs. E. H. Edgar is teacher, gave a masquerade party last night at the home of Miss Beulah Stover. The merry crowd spent the evening in games and various diversions and later were served a dainty lunch.

Mrs. Edward Holland, who left for Denver, Colo., this week, was pleasantly surprised on Tuesday afternoon when she was the inspiration for a jolly party given at the home of Mrs. Allen Gill at 1633 Santiam Road. Fancy work and conversation made the hours quickly pass and later a choice lunch was served by Mrs. Gill assisted by Mrs. G. W. Schmidt and Mrs. D. B. Adams.

Pretty decorations of dainty white Spring flowers were in evidence through the rooms.

The guests for the afternoon were the Mesdames Edward Holland, D. B. Adams, G. W. Schmidt, J. H. Kauffman, G. W. Canfield, J. A. Willard, Corbett Skelley, Henry Lyons, L. O. Coates, Will Montgomery, Rev. W. McGee, Miss Mary Canfield and Nels Wheeler Gill.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Holland were dinner guests of Mrs. L. O. Coates, on Thursday evening.

Mrs. L. M. Hawtin, who has been the guest of Mrs. O. J. Hawtin for about four weeks, returned this week to her home in Chicago, after a sojourn in California where she spent the winter months.

A very pleasant meeting of the Pythian Sisters Club was held on Tuesday afternoon in the club rooms. Several musical selections added to the afternoon's joys, when Miss Muriel Simpson and Miss Wilma Junkin sang, and Mrs. G. M. Junkin and Mrs. Heister played the piano. Later an elaborate repast was served.

On Saturday of last week several friends of Mrs. Edward Holland gave a surprise party honoring her. The ladies who came to her home for the afternoon were the Mesdames Fred Arnold, Doherty, St. Mary, Frank St. Mary, Roy Suenens, Will Montgomery, Ray St. Mary, and Miss Hazel Montgomery, and Miss Florence St. Mary.

The Industrial Society of the Grace Presbyterian church was entertained Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Hub Bryant. Daffodils composed the house decorations used through the rooms. Mrs. Bryant, Mrs. McGee and Mrs. G. W. Schmidt were hostesses upon this occasion. About 35 guests called for the afternoon and enjoyed the refreshments.

On Thursday evening after the usual business meeting the Macrahees were entertained by the "Red Roses." A musical selection was given by Miss Muriel Simpson, Mrs. Van Winkle gave a reading, and later several ladies appeared in a style show. Mrs. Plotz wore an attractive Kaka Kool suit. Mrs. Archie Gould was charming in a barrel skirt. Miss Ruth Hamilton combined stripes and mustard color in her pretty frock, and Miss Searow becomingly wore a military suit.

This was followed by a comic drill and later a delicious banquet was served in the dining room, which was decked for the occasion with beautiful red roses and red shaded candles.

The North Albany Thursday Club met this week with Mrs. Hiram Parker, where they spent the afternoon in a social way, completed with refreshments.

The Rural Sunshine Club met with Mrs. Alden Hulbert, Thursday afternoon. The time was spent in conversation, music and fancy work.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. R. A. Hulbert and Alrida Blevins.

Visiting at Corvallis.
Miss Lucille DuPee is spending the week end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. Gibbons at Corvallis.
