The marriage of Miss Helen Caryl Hulbert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Hulbert, and Mr. William Park Stalnaker, was a very quiet affair taking place last Saturday evening at the Hulbert home, with only the relatives of the bride couple present, and Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Fortmiller who were attendants and were to have acted as such had the former plans been carried out. The plans for the wedding, which was to be a large and brilliant affair of last Wednesday evening, were completely rearranged by the severe illness of Mr. Levi Hulbert, grandfather of the bride. Both Mr. and Mrs. Stalnaker are very popular young people and hold places of prominence among the activities of the younger set. The bride is an altogether charming and lovely young woman who has won the hearts of many in Albany with her dainty ways.

Mr. Stalnaker is one of the finest young men Albany has known for some time. He formerly lived in Albany then moved to Portland where he is now engaged as traffic manager for Montgomery Ward & company.

The bridal couple will make their home in the Royal Arm apartments, Portland, after spending a short time at Seaside and other places.

Mrs. H. H. Hewitt was a gracious hostess on Friday afternoon when she received the members of the Leisure Hour Club as guests at her home. A few additional guests also passed the delightful afternoon there, complimented at this time. A choice collation followed an interesting time to make up the day's enjoyment.

With quantities of wild flowers arranged about the rooms, the home of Mrs. Earl Fisher was decked in a gay spring attire, when she was hostess this week to the Monday Bridge Club. A few additional guests came in to make up the tables of bridge, which was the afternoon's enjoyable diversion. Later a delicious repast was served in the dining room at a table on which the color scheme of yellow was prettily carried out with the wild flowers and candle shades.

In a pleasant way the eleventh wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Barrett was celebrated with a surprise party planned and carried out by a number of friends. Meeting at the Barrett home the merry crowd passed Monday evening in bridge, later completed by an elaborate lunch, served at a late hour. Present were the Messrs and Mesdames W. A. Barrett, E. C. Brandeberry, G. E. Sanders, Albert Sanders, J. J. Barrett, O. D. Austin, J. L. White, E. M. Pugh, and Mrs. C. L. Monson, Mrs. E. M. Maxon, Mrs. Alice Cokerline, Mrs. Anne Hunt, Mrs. F. Catherine Barrett at Mr. J. S. Woodworth, Mr. Frank Barrett, Mr. J. S. Woodworth.

Mrs. J. Loren White was one of the week's most charming hostesses when she and Mr. White entertained several friends last night honoring Mr. and Mrs. William H. Hornbrook. Spring blossoms attractively decked the rooms where four tables were arranged for bridge. At a late hour an elaborate lunch was the closing touch of the evening.

Dr. and Mrs. Elmer C. Gipe were dinner hosts on Friday evening when they entertained for the pleasure of Mr. and Mrs. I. E. Briggs of Erie, Pennsylvania. The yellow color scheme was effectively used on the prettily appointed table around which encircled the following guests: Mr. and Mrs. I. E. Briggs, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Fish, Miss Gladys Davis, Mr. Hiram Torbet and Dr. and Mrs. Gipe.

Mrs. Earl McIntosh was hostess this week to the Thursday Afternoon Study Club when it met at her home at 1221 South Ferry Street. About the rooms wild flowers and yellow Johnquills were attractively arranged in decorative effect. Roll call was responded to in the usual way with current events and Mrs. E. C. Brandeberry gave an excellent paper on "Switzerland." A choice collation brought the afternoon to an end. As guests Mrs. E. M. Maxon, Mrs. E. M. Reagan, Mrs. H. W. Barker, Mrs. O. D. Austin, S. S. Train, Mrs. G. E. Sanders, Mrs. L. E. Hamilton and Mrs. J. M. French were invited for the afternoon.

Before returning to her home in Portland, Miss Eda Patterson was the honor guest for an "afternoon" given at the home of Mrs. L. E. Hamilton, on Thursday of this week. About twenty friends called during the afternoon and enjoyed the pleasant social time which was brought to a close with a delicious lunch served by Miss Violet Nutting and Miss Margaret Gibson.

Miss Bonnie Ruth Bailey of Brownsville has been spending the week in Albany as the house guest of Miss Carolyn Wright.

A very charming affair of Thursday afternoon was given in honor of Mrs. Fred B. Newton of Portland, when Mrs. Carl E. Sox, as hostess entertained a number of friends at her home. The rooms contained a profusion of yellow spring flowers leading an atmosphere of spring. The afternoon passed in fancy work was completed with a dainty lunch.

On Monday evening Mr. and Mrs. I. E. Briggs of Erie, Pennsylvania, were honor guests for an elaborate dinner, with Mr. and Mrs. C. H. W. Wiedler as hosts. On the table the red color scheme was carried out through all the appointments, red carnations centering the table. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Briggs, Dr. and Mrs. A. J. Hodges, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Fish, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Wielder, Dr. and Mrs. E. C. Gipe, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Pugh, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Livenood, Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Hockensmith.

Mrs. B. P. Kirk entertained the members of the Artcraft Club at her home on Tuesday afternoon. Potted plants daffodils and narcissus made up the effective decorations in the rooms where a jolly afternoon was passed in needle work and conversation, and a delicious repast was served. Guests complimented for the time were Mrs. F. M. French, Mrs. W. H. Holman, Mrs. J. W. Flu (Minneapolis), Mrs. W. H. Crandall, Mrs. A. Austin, Mrs. E. F. Wiles, Mrs. S. Vierick, Mrs. F. P. Nutting.

Mrs. H. E. Merrill is the hostess this afternoon to the ladies of the Modern Travelers. Roll call was responded to with current events and Miss Mullenbach gave the exceptionally good paper on Modern English Drama and Dramatists. Refreshments will mark the closing of the meeting.

The members of the Twilight Club were guests of Miss Maud Bryant today where they spent the day and enjoyed a sumptuous dinner this noon.

Miss Flora Mison extended the hospitality of her home toward the members of the Young Women's Christian association, on Wednesday afternoon, when they met and passed an enjoyable afternoon at her home. Miss Hutchinson gave an interesting as well as instructive talk and showed pictures representing the life of Christ. After this a choice lunch was served.

The Royal Neighbors entertain in a pleasant manner on Wednesday evening with a banquet and social hour. A large crowd were in attendance at that time.

A farewell party was the occasion of last Saturday night when the girls of the "Mystic Eleven" entertained honoring Mr. Delmer Gildow and Mr. Worin Hunter, who left Monday for Bremerton, Washington, where they joined the navy. The hospitable home of Miss Helen Lee was used at this time, where the evening's hours were quickly passed in music and games, rounded out by refreshments. The party was composed of the Misses Nelson McDonald, Eloine Lighton, Harriet Van Tassel, Vesta Lamb, Katherine Livenood, Marion Stanford, Dena Fromm, Florence Hunter, Violet Lee and the Messrs. Delmer Gildow, Warin Hunter, David Martin, Cleo Jenkins, Bob Stewart, Kenneth Divens, Alva Starr, Robert Boetticher, Kenneth Phillips, Arthur Jones and Prof. Hodge.

A very successful event of Wednesday evening was the annual banquet given by the Cemetery Association in the dining room of the First Presbyterian Church. A large crowd attended this affair and enjoyed the musical program and addresses later. Following the banquet several theater parties were made up and visited the movies.

The members of the Albany Chapter of the P. E. O. Sisterhood were entertained this week by Mrs. L. E. Tracy as hostess on Monday afternoon. A social time, preceded by a business session, made the hours pass pleasantly, a dainty collation rounding out the afternoon.

Mrs. John A. Shaw was hostess on Thursday afternoon to the Shakespeare Study Club. Mrs. Frank Watson lead in the reading of King John and in the discussion that followed. The meeting proved to be a very successful and interesting one.

The members of the Needlecraft Club were the guests of Mrs. Clinton Straney, when they met this week on Thursday, at her home. Profusions of spring flowers made the rooms attractive in their artistic effect. A dainty lunch brought about the close of a jolly afternoon of which music had been the main passtime. Several invited guests were present.

Mrs. William Pfeiffer extended the hospitality of her home on Tuesday afternoon toward the members of the Jolly Acme Bridge Club. This form of cards was the diversion taking up the afternoon's time.

On Thursday afternoon the H. D. W. Club met at the home of Mrs. J. S. Van Winkle, where the afternoon was taken up in a delightful social time, a dainty lunch being the closing feature. Mrs. W. B. Chance and Mrs. C. E. Gibson were complimented guests at that time.

Mr. A. C. Schmitt was host to a farewell dinner party given for the pleasure of the boys who joined the naval reserve. This affair took place at the Hotel Albany on Sunday evening. About 16 guests encircled the table where a sumptuous feed was enjoyed.

One of the most delightful affairs of the week was given Monday evening when Mrs. Ronald Woodruff and Miss Irene Gilchrist entertained for Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Neptune. The party gathered at the home of Mrs. Woodruff, where the evening pleasantly passed in games and music. The rooms were very tastefully decorated with all the dainty spring blossoms. One of the surprises of the evening came when all were asked to the home of Miss Gilchrist. There the guests were seated throughout rooms at small tables, and were served a delicious collation by the little Misses Ora Gilchrist and Elizabeth Young. The color scheme of white and gold was carried out in all the table appointments. Great masses of daffodils made a fitting background for the pretty affair.

Rev. G. H. Young was the efficient toast-master and Prof. Scott ably responded on "Life's Labors." Mr. Alan Banks spoke of "Life's Love." Mrs. Banks on "Life's Laurels." At this time a very handsome picture was presented to Mr. and Mrs. Neptune as a token of esteem. Mr. and Mrs. Neptune, who are leaving Albany for Salem, will be greatly missed by their friends.

Another surprise of the evening came when the announcement was made of the engagement of the popular Prof. Scott to the charming Mary Jane Abel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Abel. A fitting climax to this announcement came in the form of a telegram of congratulation from an old friend of Prof. Scott's.

Those present were Messrs. and Mesdames Neptune, G. H. Young, W. C. Barkhart, Rbht. Burkhardt, Wm. Morgan, Melvin Baltimore, Ronald Woodruff, Alan Banks, Misses Helen Essex, Bernice Hackleman, Mary Irvine, Maude Briggs, Edna Purdy, Irene Gilchrist, Mrs. Dora Flood, Mrs. Kennedy, and Messrs. Ed Taylor, W. A. Scott, Ray McGlain.

The ladies' Aid Society of the Methodist Church met on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. L. A. Kroschel. Mrs. Archie Hammer lead the devotional services for the afternoon. Later a social time followed and refreshments were served. About thirty ladies were present for the occasion.

The banquet given on Sunday by the Knights of Columbus was a large and important event. Members from all over Oregon were present. A program, principally composed of speeches was enjoyed by the large crowd present.

Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Young and son Teddy returned to Albany this week after a visit in California, where they enjoyed an extended vacation. Mrs. Young and Teddy spent the winter in Palo Alto where Mr. Young joined them somewhat later.

The Margaret Catherine Missionary society met at the home of Mrs. W. H. Davis on Tuesday of last week.

After the program, with Miss Laverne Hoffick as leader, the remainder of the evening was devoted to music. A delicious lunch was served by some young men of the Loyal Sons class.

The Loyal Daughters class of the Christian Church entertained the Loyal Sons class at the Church on Wednesday of last week. The evening was spent in playing games after which an elaborate supper was served.

Standing out prominently as the most elaborate affair of the week is the luncheon at the Hotel Albany, for which Mrs. R. A. B. Veal was hostess on Friday afternoon. The table was beautiful in all of its appointments and roses and sweet peas made up the effective floral arrangement for the center piece. Roses and ferns decked the table in a scattered profusion and at the place of each guest was a pretty individual bouquet. The remainder of the afternoon was passed in bridge, Mrs. C. L. Mason receiving a beautiful bouquet of roses for highest score.

An affair looked forward to with pleasure is the dinner party tonight which will be given by the losing side of the Monday Bridge Club, to the winners and their husbands at the home of Mrs. P. R. Kelly. The table decorations have been arranged with the pink color scheme predominant. The personnel of the Club includes Mrs. Earl Fisher, Mrs. Willard Marks, Mrs. Watson Worrell, Mrs. Percy Kelly, Mrs. Fred Ward, Mrs. A. Austin and Mrs. Grant Pirtle, the last four being hostesses tonight. The evening will be spent at 500.

Mr. W. H. Hornbrook was a dinner host Sunday afternoon when the members of the Democrat force were guests of honor at his home. This occasion was in honor of three of the members who left for Bremerton Monday to join the naval recruits. Red carnations and flags decorated the table in artistic effect.

Mrs. William Panek left for Portland yesterday evening and expects to pass a month visiting in that city.

The Beta Gamma girls met last night at the home of Miss Hazel Hall, where a covered dish feed was served. The table was adorned with pretty spring blossoms and places were
