

NATIONAL BABY WEEK

We are interested mightily in this great movement is carrying on a great campaign to save the seventh baby, for One out of every seven babies die before they become one year old. If all these babies were saved we would have more from the reason of our interest in this project.

THE DELINEATOR

But we are glad when a new baby comes into a home, for we know it means rejoicing for the parents and their many friends. And we are grieved when one is lost especially if the loss could be avoided by some facts being known and carried out, as The Delineator is striving to bring to the knowledge of all through its pages.

HAMILTON'S

To you happy mothers we are glad however, to be able to call your attention to the many beautiful articles of Dress and covering besides the toys, that we have provided for the babies of this community. (See window 5 for a Display of these Articles)

Many more interesting items like these two.

IRVING S. COBB GERMAN MILITARY REGIME

(Irvine S. Cobb)

By Irving S. Cobb of the Vigilante
(By Courtesy of the Saturday Evening Post.)

We have got to remember that the Germany with which we have broken is not the Germany of Heine and Goethe and Haecel and Beethoven; not the Germany that gave us Stein in the Revolutionary war, and Sigel and Schurz in the Civil war; not the Germany of the sentimental, chivalrous, lovable Saxon, or yet of the music-loving, home-loving Bavarian; not the Germany that was the birthplace of the kindly, honorable, industrious, patriotic German-speaking neighbor round the corner from you—but the fanatical, tyrannical, power-mad, blood-and-iron Prussianized Germany of Bismarck and Von Bernhardi, of the Crown Prince and the Junkers—that passionate Prussianized Germany which for forty years through the instrumentality of its ruling classes—not necessarily its Kaiser, but its real ruling classes—has been jealously striving to pervert every native ounce of its scientific and its inventive and its creative genius out of the paths of progress and civilization and to join it into the grooves of the greatest autocratic machine, the greatest organism for killing off human beings, the greatest engine of misbegotten and misdirected efficiency that was ever created in the world. Because we have an admiration for one of these two Germanys is no more a reason why we should abate our indignation and our detestation for the other Germany than that because a man loves a cheery blaze upon his hearthstone he should refuse to fight a forest fire.

We have got to remember another thing. If our overseas observations of this war abroad have taught us anything, they should have taught us that the German Army—and when I say army, I mean in this case, not its men but its officers, since in the German Army the officers are essentially the brain and the power and the motive force directing the unthinking, blindly obedient mass beneath them—that the German Army is not an army of good sportsmen. And, that, I take it, is an even more important consideration upon the field of battle than it is upon the athletic field. As the saying goes, the Germans don't play the game. It is as inconceivable to imagine German officers going in for base ball or foot ball or cricket as it is to imagine American volunteers marching the goose step.

The Germans are not an out-door race; they are not given to playing outdoor sports and abiding by the rules of those sports, as Englishmen and as Americans are. And in war—that biggest of all outdoor games—it stands proved against them that they do not play according to the rules, except they be rules of their own making. The German is a greedy winner and he is a bad loser. Good sportsmen would not have broken Belgium into bloody bits because Belgium stood between them and their goal; good sportsmen would not have sung the Hymn of Hate, or made "Gott Strafe England!" their battle cry; good sportsmen would not have shot Edith Cavell or sunk the Lusitania. Good sportsmen would not have packed the helpless men and boys of a conquered and a prostrate land off as captives into an enforced servitude worse than African slavery; Pere and Chauny and Ham, and a would not have wantonly wasted La hundred other French towns, as they did last month, for no conceivable reason than that they must surrender these towns back into the hand of the enemy; would not, while ostensibly at peace with us, have plotted to destroy our industrial plants and to plant the seeds of sedition among our foreign-born citizens, and to dismember our country, parceling it out to a brown race in Mexico, and a yellow race in Japan. Good sports do not do these things, and Germany did all of them. That means something.

The Right Way to Care for the Baby

Plenty of sleep, regular hours for feeding, and lots of fresh air! These are the things every baby needs. In doing all you can to help your baby build a healthful body, you will want to consider most carefully the fresh air item. The right carriage is important.

Some of these things you will want in a carriage for your baby will be an adjustable hood, a roomy carriage body, durable upholstery that will not easily soil, light, flexible springs, and rubber-tired wheels that sit solidly on the axles. And these are all features of the Heywood-Wakefield carriage. It is the carriage for the out-of-door baby. We have on exhibition some very attractive new models of these handsome baby carriages which we would like to show you.
