NOTES

By F. P. Nutting

Pendleton is declared to be the liveliest and most prosperous city in the state outside of Portland, with many metropolitan ways of its own.

Big wheat fields and big prices have made things buzz, and it is full of snap as year-old cider. Former Albany people there are among its best boosters. Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Power are prominent fixtures. Mr. Power was just completing three premium saddles for the Albany Round-Up. "Dandies." E. A. Schiffer of the Boston Store, is a prosperous merchant, as good natured as of old. Dr. Kavanaugh is doing well and his family growing, two fine girls, just two behind his brother-in-law, Neal Murray of Portland. The doctor continues to watch base ball with an eagle eye. Carl Cooley is in a leading grocery. Dick Mayberry is head bookkeeper in one of the banks. Doynes Turner takes things easy and his son, Elmer, an efficient policeman, sometimes helps others to do so. Clarence Ash, one of the owners of the Daily Tribune, was once city editor of the Democrat for a month, a fine fellow. Mrs. Marlow is a sister of Mrs. Will Burkhardt. Albee Anderson is clerk in a cigar store. M. C. Peters, the songster formerly with Churchill, is with the E. O. Ex-Mayor Wennerstein of Lebanon, once an Albany clerk, is manager of the big Golden Rule store.

Met Flossie Simpson, who is traveling for a Walla Walla house.

Fred T. Block, manager of the fine Hotel Pendleton, a metropolitan hostelry, once was head clerk for the St. Francis.

Verily, verily, everywhere in the Northwest, are former Albany people.

Rev. Snyder, who offered Loyd Montgomery's farewell prayer, is pastor of the Presbyterian church.

Pendleton has a fine $35,000 library, or rather Umatilla has, for it is labeled Umatilla County Library. The county gives $5000 a year for its support, giving a good margin for books. Miss Mason, librarian, is very competent, bright and genial. The Dalles library, not nearly as good as Albany's, gets $6000 a year from the city and county. The Albany library should receive at least $5000 a year from the city and county under the popular combination system, giving it needed money for more books. See how others do things.

ARE THE MORMONS MORAL?

Some astonishing ideas are set forth in an article on the Mormons of Salt Lake City by Louis Sherwin in the current issue of The Smart Set Magazine. Mr. Sherwin is a Gentile and he vigorously defends the Saints with all the ardor of a convert. Not only does he argue that they have been grossly libeled by Gentile critics; he even maintains that they are far more moral, truthful and thrifty than any of the Gentiles. The article contains some astonishing revelations and is causing a great deal of gossip and speculation.
