One of the most delightful meetings of the season for the Leisure Hour Club, was the one of Friday afternoon, when Mrs. Dan Johnston was hostess at her home on Ellsworth street. Effective decorations of tulips and narcissus were arranged about the rooms for this occasion. Several guests came in to enjoy the afternoon and later partook of the delicious luncheon served.

The month of June alone does not bring all of the spring brides, but May also has its share. Two weddings took place this week on Tuesday. Mr. and Mrs. John Bassett announced the marriage of their daughter, Winifred, to Mr. Roy W. Nutting, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Nutting. The Bassett home was the scene of this pretty wedding, which took place at 2 o'clock. The rooms were gaily decked with flowers of spring, pink, sweet peas predominated and lilacs and narcissus were attractively used. The bride party stood against an embankment of greenery and flowers. The bride was lovely in an old rose suit and Miss Violet Nutting charming in white attended her. Doc W. P. White officiated, using the double ring ceremony.

The relatives of the young couple and a few friends were present. Choice refreshments were served to the guests later in the afternoon. After a brief visit in Portland Mr. and Mrs. Nutting will be at home in Albany.

Another wedding of Tuesday afternoon was the one at which Miss Inez Louise Curl, daughter of Mayor and Mrs. L. M. Curl, was united in marriage to Mr. Peter J. Lamberty of this city. The wedding took place in the newly furnished apartments on Fourth and Lyon streets, with only a few guests present, these the friends and relatives of the bride couple.

After a short trip to Seattle and other points of interest, the young couple will be at home to their friends in Albany.

Mrs. F. C. Pate was a hostess yesterday afternoon, when the Friday Bridge Club met at her home. Lilacs adorned the rooms where bridge was the diversion of the afternoon, until later when sumptuous refreshments were served. Mrs. A. Austin, Mrs. Walton Worrell, Mrs. G. M. Junkin and Mrs. Grant Pite were complimented guests.

Mrs. Glen M. Junkin entertained the members of the Monday Bridge Club at her home this week. As complimented guests, Mrs. F. C. Pate, Mrs. M. Sanders and Mrs. R. A. B. Veal, came in to play bridge during the afternoon and to partake of the refreshments served later.

A very delightful meeting of the Neos Nurple Club members was presided over yesterday afternoon by Mrs. John Bryant. The pleasant spring atmosphere was increased by quantities of fragrant white flowers hung about the rooms in baskets. Bringing to a close the afternoon spent in fancy work, a delicious repast was served in the dining room, where the dainty pink and white color scheme was used. Baskets of flowers adorned the table and pink place cards marked covers for the club members present and Mrs. Frank Skipton and Miss Maude Bryant, who were additional guests.

Mrs. L. G. Lewelling presided at a very interesting meeting of the Shakespeare Club when it met on Thursday at her home. Mrs. J. V. Pipe ably led in the reading of Act V. of King John and the discussion which followed was very much enjoyed. Mrs. Mary Bilyeu was initiated into the club as a new member.

One of the most enjoyable meetings of the D. P. M. Club was held at the Tillman home on Tuesday evening of this week, when the Misses Claire Tillman, Edna Laubner and Mae Tillman were hostesses. Spring flowers decked the rooms where the evening was passed in a pleasant way. A business meeting took up the earlier part of the evening, in which Mrs. M. D. Wells and Miss Mae Lewis were taken into the club as new members. Following a jolly social time a delicious lunch was served to the guests.

The Acme Bridge Club met on Tuesday at the home of Mrs. S. S. Train. Several additional guests were present for the afternoon. They were Mrs. G. M. Junkin, Mrs. Charles Cusick, Mrs. Taylor of Corvallis, Mrs. G. E. Sanders, and Mrs. U. G. Smith.

On Tuesday afternoon the home of Mrs. Frank Skipton, elaborately decorated, was the occasion of a meeting of the Art-Craft Club. Wild flowers, tulips, narcissus and apple blossoms were used in artistic combination to deck the rooms, where a pleasant afternoon was passed in needlework. Mrs. Skipton, assisted by Mrs. Hoevert served a dainty lunch. Additional guests were Mrs. J. W. Ellison, Mrs. J. Nanny, Mrs. John Bryant.

The members of the Thursday afternoon Study Club called a special meeting this week, which was held at the home of Mrs. Earl C. Brandeberry. Mrs. G. T. Hockensmith wrote an interesting paper on Austria. The afternoon was brought to a close with light refreshments.

On Wednesday afternoon, Mrs. Charles Leonard was hostess to the Coterie Club. A pleasant time was passed at her home by the members present and sewing was the main diversion of the afternoon. A dainty lunch completed this. Mrs. John Bryant was an additional guest.

The guests of the Monday Covered Dish Club will be entertained this evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walton Worrell. Five tables have been arranged for this occasion and they are prettily adorned with lilacs and narcissus. After the delicious feed "500" will be the diversion of the evening.

On Thursday afternoon Mrs. W. E. Everett was hostess to the Needle Craft Club. A short business session was followed by a few social hours and these were brought to a close when refreshments were served by the hostess.

The H. D. W. Club was entertained this week on Thursday by Mrs. Richard Thom. A few invited guests passed the jolly afternoon socially and were served a lunch at the close of the afternoon.

Mrs. W. B. Chance was one of the week's gracious hostesses, when she entertained for the Kum Tux Club on Friday afternoon. A few musical numbers added to the afternoon's pleasures and a delicious lunch was the closing feature. Several complimented guests came in to join with the members in the social time. The personnel of the club includes the Mesdames O. D. Austin, Harvey Bodine, Fred Fortmiller, O. J. Hawtin, G. T. Hockensmith, H. S. Logan, F. E. Livengood, J. A. McKillop, J. H. Robnett, J. D. Summers, George Taylor, E. F. Wiles, H. R. Worth, Mark Montgomery, T. J. Woodcock.

The jolly crowd of girls belonging to the Beta Gamma Club met last night at the home of Miss Ruth Rawlings and enjoyed one of their usual covered-dish feeds. Apple blossoms were the attractive table decorations. The remainder of the evening was passed in a social way.

Invitations have been issued for the Red Cross benefit dance, which will be given at the armory next Wednesday evening. The Albany band will furnish music for this occasion and a large crowd is expected.

The Royal Neighbors met on Wednesday, when they enjoyed a social time, followed by choice refreshments.

On Thursday afternoon Mrs. P. W. Harper presided at a meeting of the S. S. S. Club, when they met at her home. Fancy work and conversation were the afternoon's diversions and later the hostess served a delicious lunch. Mrs. W. E. Baker was a complimented guest.

A number of girls spent an enjoyable social time at the home of Miss Eva Hughes on Thursday evening of this week. An elaborate "spread" was one of the evening's main features. Present were Misses Mable and Zoe Trask, Miss Bessie Morris, Miss Margarette Hayes, Mrs. Clara Clark, Mrs. George Hurley and Miss Eva Hughes.

The Ladies Aid Society of the Methodist church met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. E. Clifford. A program was part of the afternoon's diversions and a lunch was served later.

Taking advantage of the fair evening, a merry crowd of young folk enjoyed a picnic last night along the Willamette river bank. A big camp fire, games and a delicious feed were the chief features of this occasion, that helped to make up the evening's good times. Mrs. Dowlin, Mrs. Junkin, Mrs. Brotherton and Mrs. Bishop chaperoned the party, and the picnicers were the Misses Grace McCally, Thelma Burnett, Vera Brown, Rita Dowlin, Lois Nebergall, Viola Kroschel, Dorothy Walker, Wilma Junkin, and Helen Gibson and the Messrs. Roy Harris, Henry Wessell, Harold Irvine, Vernon Henderson, Earnest Doherty, Robert Mann, Chas. King, Loyd Johnson, Kenneth Burnett.

Miss Nellie Pate was the motif for a surprise party given at her home on Thursday evening. A party of teachers took an elaborate "feed" and spent the evening at her home. Those present were Miss Lee, Miss Morgan, Miss Tracy, Miss Burkhart, Miss McCullah, Miss Bueler, Miss Metcalf, and Miss Patterson.

The McPherron home on East Fourth street was the scene of a very elaborate reception given Thursday evening in honor of the bride couple. Mr. and Mrs. Earl Scott. About 50 guests filled the rooms at the McPherron home and passed the evening in a most delightful social way, rounded out by a choice lunch.

Miss Minnie McCourt was hostess on Friday evening, to the Twilight Club. Music and a jolly time took up the evening's hours during which Mrs. Roy Worley gave several vocal solos.

The Kill Kare Club met on Thursday with Mrs. J. R. Metzgar. Following the afternoon spent in needle work, the hostess assisted by Mrs. Lawrence Metzgar, served a delicious repast. Several additional guests were complimented for the afternoon.

Miss Clare Morgan presided at a social meeting for the T. E. D. E. girls, at her home Monday evening. A delicious pot luck feed was followed by a jolly evening and fancy work was the main diversion.

The final meeting of the Home Economics Club of the high school was the most elaborate one of the year. It met on Thursday afternoon and after a short program enjoyed a talk by Mrs. Miriam Thayer Seeley, physical instructor at O. A. C. Later light refreshments were served in the dining room of the domestic science department.
