ALBANY INDUSTRY MAKES RAPID STRIDES

Twenty Carloads of Products
Were Shipped Out in Less Than Four Months.

To the Editor:

The growth of manufacturing industries is frequently so gradual that those who come in daily contact fail to realize the proportions to which it has attained until they stand aside and compare the present size with its beginning.

We think it is appropriate at this time to ask you and your readers to pause and contemplate the beginning and present size of the Far West Manufacturing Co.

About three years ago, A. C. Butcher, D. C. White and H. P. White, an idea. This idea, when worked out in iron and wood, received the approval of the United States Commissioner of Patents and accordingly letters patent were issued on a combination ironing board and step ladder. This article found a ready market and presented other ideas which have resulted in the receipt of other letters patent for an extension step ladder and for a folding extension ladder. Other ideas have been and are continually presenting themselves until now the company is having manufactured for it and is disposing of a line of products consisting of patented step ladders, folding extension ladders, and combination ironing boards, and step ladders, also unpatented ladders of every description, folding stairways, wheelbarrows of different types, and about ten different designs of cedar chests.

The first two years were largely devoted to experimental work and in making a preliminary introduction of the company's products to the trade, during which time the Cameron Planing Mill Co., manufactured the Far West Mfg. Co.'s products as a sort of side line. Last December the company was incorporated and a sales organization was perfected which is now covering all territory west of the Rocky Mountains. So rapidly has been the growth of the company's business, that the large Cameron Planing Mill, which now employs twenty-five men, is devoting its entire force and is being taxed to its fullest capacity to handle the company's orders.

Since January 1, 1917, over twenty car loads of the manufactured products of the Far West Manufacturing company have been shipped from Albany and have been distributed thru twenty-two states. These twenty car loads have gone out in lots or from one ladder up to half car shipments, but today a shipment of a full car load is being made to Salt Lake City, and prospects warrant the prophecy that ere long cars of the Far West's products will be leaving Albany every day or so. The cedar chest business is also growing very rapidly and the purchases are continually giving repeat orders. The company's wheelbarrows are winning equal favor wherever shown and it is expected that one branch of the business will soon become quite an industry of itself.

We doubt if any people in Albany know that there is located in this city:

The largest ladder factory west of the Rockies;

The largest cedar chest factory west of the Rockies;

The only wheelbarrow factory of any consequence on the Pacific Coast.

The Far West Manufacturing Co. has developed this industry within the last three years. The patronage and co-operation of this community will help very materially toward its further development, and the Company hopes that the community will show its appreciation of the existence of this growing business by asking for and insisting upon having the Far West Products.

—Yours for a Bigger Albany,
FAR WEST MFG. CO.
