The marriage of Miss Gertrude C. Taylor to W. Robert McMurray was solemnized this afternoon at a very pretty and simple church wedding, the First Presbyterian church being the scene of this occasion. Beautiful decorations were made up of quantities of Scotch broom and larkspur giving a gala atmosphere and forming a attractive foil. After the guests had assembled Miss Isabelle Young "Still As The Night" and "At Dawning." Strains of the Wedding march from Mendelssohn and Lohengrin pealed forth from the pipe organ and the bridal party entered. Miss Taylor on the arm of her father, was then given in marriage to Mr. McMurray. Dr. Franklin H. Geselbracht performed the ceremony. The bride was charmingly gowned in a pink georgette crepe model and wore a pretty garden hat, carrying a beautiful bouquet of orchids and cecel bruner roses. She was attended by Mrs. H. M. Hawkins, matron of honor, who was attractively gowned in white dress and hat, and carried an old fashioned bouquet of gold and white. Harry M. Hawkins acted as best man, Andrew Benson, Frank Davis, Percy Brown, all of Portland, and Harry Morten of Salem ushered the guests.

A reception followed the ceremony and Mrs. J. M. Hawkins, Mrs. W. A. Barrett, Mrs. W. H. Hornbrook, Mrs. E. F. Wiles and Mrs. F. H. Geselbracht assisted about the rooms. The Misses Zona Haight, Marion Anderson, Winnie Austin, Anne Dawson, and Louise Wieder were chosen to assist in the serving of a dainty lunch. Presiding at the punch bowl were the Misses Florence Fortmiller, Margaret Cathey, Salome Cusick, and Agnes McMurray.

Among the out-of-town guests who thronged the church were Miss Margaret Hawkins, (Eugene), Miss Louise Adams (Silverton), Mr. and Mrs. William Helden (Portland), Miss Blanche Hammel (Corvallis), Miss Isabelle Garland (Lebanon), Mr. and Mrs. McMurray and mother of Mrs. McMurray, Miss Agnes McMurray. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Taylor, a sweet and charming girl of lovely disposition and a host of friends in Albany and other cities. She attended Albany high school for several years, was a graduate of the University of Oregon, where she belonged to the Kappa Alpha Theta Sorority and taught in Brownsview high school until recently, when she has been teaching in Portland.

Mr. McMurray is a popular young man of Portland with a good position and many friends. He also is a graduate of the University of Oregon, belonging to the Kappa Sigma fraternity.

The young couple will make their home in Portland among a circle of friends.

Preceding the Taylor and McMurray wedding a charming wedding dinner was given at the George Taylor home. The handsomely appointed table was centered with a lovely bouquet of pink sweet peas and lilies of the valley. A sumptuous dinner was served at this time.

A very pretty and informal Al fresco dinner was presided over on Wednesday by Mrs. Rocky E. Mason to the pleasure of several guests and relatives. The charming garden of the Mason home was an attractive setting for this affair. Among the dinner guests were Mr. and Mrs. Anderson, M. Cannon, Miss Carolyn and little Sally Cannon, who motored to Albany from Portland, to spend Decoration Day, and Mrs. G. F. Nevins and little Nancy, who were guests of Miss Flora Mason and Mrs. Maston of Portland.

Honoring Miss Lillian Thordarson, a bride-elect, who will be married next week Miss Winnifred Patterson, Miss Lulu Heist and Miss Bessie Bell entertained at the J. J. Collins home, Thursday night. With a miscellaneous shower, Scotch broom was used in profusion about the rooms and the dining room was appropriately decorated in white for a bride, with dainty white spring flowers used. During the evening the entertainment was carried out in the military idea and many novel and amusing stunts were enjoyed. A dainty repast completed the evening's pleasures. Guests for the shower were Miss Mae Lewis, Miss M. Ethelyn Miller, Miss Birch, Mrs. J. A. Nimmo, Mrs. C. W. Boetticher, Miss Louise Nimmo, Mrs. G. E. Finnerty, Mrs. Pearson of Calgary, Alberta, Miss Patterson, Miss Thordarson, Miss Bell, Mrs. Collins and Miss Heist.

Miss Viola Kroschel will be hostess to the Eternal Questions Club tonight. A covered dish feed will be followed by a jolly social time. The guests will be Miss Beulah Delaney, Miss Thelma Burnett, Miss Rita Dowlin, Miss Helen Gibson, Miss Lois Nebelgall, and Miss Viola Kroschel.

On Tuesday afternoon Mrs. Jack Minton entertained the members of the Kensington Club at her home. The afternoon was spent in a delightful social way and later a delicious repast rounded out this. Two new members were present, they were Mrs. Robert Torbett and Mrs. Sears. Several other guests were also complimented at this time.

Elaborate preparations were made by the Junior class of Albany high school when they entertained the graduating class, on Wednesday, with a picnic which was successful in every detail. The crowd took the three o'clock train to Jefferson and near there found a pretty spot for a picnic where they spent the remaining part of the afternoon and evening. A feed, big camp fires and games made the time enjoyable, until a late hour in the evening when the crowd returned home.

A picnic of Monday evening was enjoyed by the Sunday school class of Miss Flora Mason when they found a suitable spot near the stone quarry and passed the time there, with bon fires and other pleasant ways of entertainment. A picnic feed served and later in the evening the crowd returned home. Those composing the party were Miss Metcalf, Miss Beuler, Miss Helen Lee, Mrs. Gustav Abraham, Miss Louise Wieder, Miss Nelson McDonald, Miss Bertha Lee, Miss Eloine Leighton, Mrs. Edwin Fortmiller, Miss Pauline Birch, Miss Mae Ballack.

Miss Lilla McCoy was hostess last Monday evening to the T. E. D. E. girls, when they met and enjoyed their usual pot-luck supper. The evening's hours were quickly and pleasantly passed in fancy work and a general social time.

A picnic was the occasion of Wednesday evening when a merry crowd of young people spent the evening along the bank of the Willamette. A weinnie roast and bon fire was a main feature of the evening. Mrs. Junkin and Mrs. Castle chaperoned the crowd who were the Misses Viola Kroschel, Rita Dowlin, Thelma Burnett, Wilma Junkin, Lois Nebelgall, Grace McCauley, Iantha Smith, Helen Gibson, Vera Brown, and the Messrs Orman Gildow, Vernon Henderson, Henry Weasell, Loyd Johnson, Royal Archibald, Roy Harris, Clare Hunt, Kenneth Burnett, Herold Irvine.

In honor of Miss Fay King, who will move to Portland in a short time, the Beta Gamma girls gave a farewell party Thursday, at the home of Miss Elda Pettibone. A social time and later refreshments made the afternoon an enjoyable one. The girls present were the Misses Ruth Rawlings, Laverne Hollich, Hazel Hall, Elepha Cummings, Nina Bending, Fay King, Velma Anthony and Elda Pettibone.

Mrs. G. F. Nevins and little daughter, Nancy, of Portland, were guests this week at the home of Miss Flora Mason, where they passed a few days. On Thursday Miss Mason delightfully entertained her guests with a picnic, when they motored to a pretty place and passed a jolly time.

At the Williamson farm near Oakville, the friends of Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Williamson surprised them on their 47th wedding anniversary, which was on that day. The afternoon was spent in social intercourse and a toast was given by Rev. Wilson of Oakville, on "The Guide Posts," referring to this couple as the two posts which had guided their family of four, which are all living; and were all present. Mrs. E. T. Sox wrote a very beautiful and appropriate poem, being unable to attend herself. It was read by Mrs. F. P. Nutting who also favored the guests with several solos, Piano selections were rendered by Mrs. Winnifred Worrell. Mrs. L. E. Hamilton gave a toast on "The Troublesome Four," which was very ably done. The program was concluded by a quartet consisting of the four children, namely Mrs. Eva Patterson and Mrs. R. A. Cale, J. R. Williamson and Melvin R. Williamson. Refreshments were then served and the company disbanded. Those present were Mesdames L. E. Hamilton, L. E. Blain, J. C. Gibson, F. E. Nutting, W. A. McCullough, R. E. Crawford, S. C. Worrell, J. O. Lee, Eva Patterson, R. A. Cale, J. R. Williamson, W. J. Barton, Whalie; Messrs W. J. Barton, W. A. Thrift, Harold Irvine, R. A. Cale, J. R. Williamson, Melvin R. Williamson, and Leslie Patterson. Misses Emma Thrift, Letha McCullough, Dorothy Lee and Milleta Barton.

Mrs. Brownell and Beatrice Brownell of Portland, are week-end guests of Miss Naomi Duncan, and attended the graduation exercises of the Albany high school.

On Thursday afternoon the H. D. W. Club were royally entertained in Lebanon, when Mrs. L. J. Gray was hostess to the members. The patriotic scheme of red, white and blue was used throughout the decorations and also cleverly representing stars and stripes in the delicious lunch which the hostess served at the close of the afternoon. The guests for this occasion were the Mesdames J. S. Van Winkle, S. K. Churchill, William Weaver, Griff King, A. Austin, E. C. Pate, Louis Kroschel, J. W. Warner, R. S. Thom, L. Voss, Walter, M. McAlpin, W. W. Rowell (Portland), D. Bussard, W. H. Hand, and Miss Elva Weaver, Miss Endorah McAlpin, Albert Warner and Miss Juanita Kroschel.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Hiatt and young daughter are here from Lyons attending the graduation exercises of their son Percy J. Hiatt. While here they are the guests of their uncle and aunt, Councilman and Mrs. Henry Lyons.

Fried Lizards.
Some lizards are able to walk on their hind legs, of which the most remarkable example is the fried lizard of Australia, a powerful form, which attains a length of about three feet. Should danger threaten it scuttles off on its hind limbs with considerable speed for as far as thirty or forty feet in a half crutching attitude, with the fore limbs hanging down and the remarkable trail folded up.

Blind Dogs and Rats.
Canines born blind or that become blind by accident are able to smell and paw their way into the most inaccessible and out of the way places. It is practically impossible to starve them, lose them or trap them. Furthermore, blind dogs learn as quickly as those that see. Loss of sight in no way interferes with their ability to learn tricks, acquire habits or find their bed.

Rice Culture.
The culture of rice is alluded to in the Talmud, and there is evidence that it was grown in the valley of the Euphrates and in Syria before 400 B. C. It was taken into Persia from India and later into Spain by the Arabs. Thence its culture was introduced into Italy about 1468 A. D. The Spaniards are also responsible for its introduction into Peru and other sections of Spanish America during the early colonial period, but the exact date has not been definitely determined. The first introduction of rice culture in the Americas seems really to have been in Brazil.

His Worst Book.
In "A Last Memory of Robert Louis Stevenson," by Charlotte Eaton, this curious incident is recorded: "What do you consider your brightest failure?" the novelist was asked. "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde," he replied without a moment's hesitation, adding, "That is the worst thing I ever wrote." Yet in a standard book of brief biographies this is the one book title given under the name of the author.

When Real Acquaintance Begins.
"When did you first become acquainted with your husband?" asked one woman.
"The first time I told him that I had overdrawn my housekeeping account," answered the other.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

The Reason.
"The feminine anti-matrimony clubs generally come to grief."
"Of course they do. Naturally they are mis-managed."—Baltimore American.

Imprisoned in the Wind.
Butterflies may be imprisoned and uninjured in the midst of a whirlwind. Gales in a genuine typhoon are so terrible that the stoutest ships can scarcely hope to weather them, but there is a spot at the very center of the storm where something like a dead calm prevails. From the outer edge of the disturbance, which may be 300 miles across, the wind velocity increases toward the center until within a few miles of that point there comes a sudden lull. There the rain ceases and the sky often clears. In this little calm area, which sailors call "the eye of the storm," a group of butterflies has frequently been imprisoned, and their dainty, delicate forms are as safe in this aerial cage as if hovering in sunny meadows, but as helpless as if in a collector's bottle.

Inhospitable Georgia went "bone dry" just as the 700 interned Germans arrived.—Boston Herald.

A VALUABLE BIRD.

The Rough Legged Hawk is a Helpful Friend on the Farm.

An extremely helpful friend of ours, when bird friends are few, is the rough legged hawk, saws a writer in Farm and Fireside. Unfortunately this bird is little known or valued. It reaches the United States from its northern breeding range in September and October, remaining until April. It may be identified easily by its broad wings, its large size and the broad dark band which crosses its breast and under side of its wings. It is comparatively tame. The name rough legged or bare footed is made appropriate by the bird's full feathered legs and feet.

The coloration of the American rough leg and its more western subspecies, the ferruginous rough leg, varies from the type here described to almost solid black. In this darker phase the rough leg is commonly called the black hawk. On such good authority as that of Dr. A. K. Fisher, under whose direction the United States biological survey made extensive field observations of this bird's feeding habits, it is stated: "The rough leg is one of man's most important allies against meadow mice, feeding on little else during its six months' sojourn in the United States. Other mice, rabbits and grown squirrels are taken occasionally."

Hopes Women Will Adopt This Habit As Well As Men

Glass of hot water each morning helps us look and feel clean, sweet, fresh.

Happy, bright, alert—vigorous and vivacious—a good clear skin; a natural, rosy complexion and freedom from illness are assured only by clean, healthy blood. If only every woman and likewise every man could realize the wonders of the morning inside bath, what a gratifying change would take place.

Instead of the thousands of sickly, anemic-looking men, women and girls with pasty or muddy complexions; instead of the multitudes of "nerve wrecks," "rundowns," "brain fags" and pessimists we should see a virile, optimistic throng of rosy-cheeked people everywhere. An inside bath is had by drinking, each morning before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and ten yards of bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour fermentations and poisons, thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. Those subject to sick headache, biliousness, nasty breath, rheumatism, colds; and particularly those who have a pallid, sallow complexion and who are constipated very often, are urged to obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store which will cost but a trifle but is sufficient to demonstrate the quick and remarkable change in both health and appearance awaiting those who practice internal sanitation. We must remember that inside cleanliness is more important than outside, because the skin does not absorb impurities to contaminate the blood, while the pores in the thirty feet of bowels do.
