"CLOSE-UP" OF GENERAL J. J. PERSHING

Washington, June 7.—(U. P.)—Someone once said that genius is a matter of detail. If that someone was right then Major General John J. Pershing, who will command America's first expeditionary forces in France is a military genius. He is a regular demon for detail.

An inspection is a military formality not popular in the Army and an inspection by Gen. Pershing is always anticipated with fear and trembling. "Thorough" hardly describes it. Last September Gen. Pershing conducted an inspection of 300 troops stationed at the base of the Mexican punitive expedition in Columbus, N. M.

It occupied five hours and when completed the General knew the fitness for immediate field service of every man in the command.

"Shave off those decorations," was a frequent order to those cultivating beards. Dirty rifles aroused the General's ire. "That's a fine-looking instrument. Been using it for a hoe, have you?" he would ask. Down the line he went, his eyes taking in every detail. "Take off your uniform when you sleep" he would snap. "Don't you ever wash those pants?" Without stopping to eat or for a moment's rest he kept at his task through the infantry, the signal corps, the ambulance and hospital units and along the long line of motors and drivers in the truck companies and the aviation corps.

Pershing knew what he had in men and equipment every minute he was in Mexico. And he saw that his men lacked nothing. And so in France he will know every minute what he has in men and equipment and he will see that they lack nothing to make them efficient soldiers. For Pershing in the phraseology, is "a hound for detail."

TRENCH TALES

London, June 4.—"Our barrage chewed up the running Fritzes like a road sweeper cleaning up rubbish."

Thus did one wounded Tommy describe the attack which ended, as far as he was concerned, when a big hoop-shaped steel splinter was driven into him. He exhibited the splinter with pride.

"The cavalry at some points followed after the barrage," he said. "They came over the ground in a steeple-chase and galloped clean through a screen of whiz bangs. They were great. It was fine to see them sweep the Boches back. We got there in time to gather the prisoners."

BRAZIL STANDS SOLIDLY BEHIND PRESIDENT BRAZ

By H. B. Robertson, United Press Correspondent.

Rio de Janeiro, May 9.—(By Mail)—It is doubtful whether any president of Brazil has been accorded the degree of popular approval that has been manifested toward Wenceslau Braz in the breaking of diplomatic relations and the probabilities of war with Germany. Newspapers print daily lists of telegrams offering support to the government. Flags of Brazil, the United States and the allies are displayed at patriotic meetings. Practically every Brazilian is taking his weekly drill on a rifle range. Mass for early success of the allies is sung in practically every Catholic church in the country.

Columbus, O., June 6.—Ohio's systematic method of tackling the food problem has resulted, it was announced today, in 500,000 backyard gardens being started. This puts 25,000 additional acres under cultivation and assures an extra crop worth at least $1,000,000.
