$100,000,000 DOLLARS—WHY

Oregon, outside Portland, must subscribe $100,000 of the $100,000,000 emergency Red Cross war service fund during the week of June 18-25 in order to meet the expectations of President Wilson who has appealed to the nation for this fund.

Prompting the President's appeal are the thousands of Red Cross ambulances on the firing line that must be maintained. Other thousands of ambulances must be built and sent to the front. Forty-five base hospitals already have been established and their work must be supplemented with that of many more hospitals in order to treat the wounds and save the lives of thousands of soldiers, including our own home boys.

The force of Red Cross physicians and nurses must be greatly increased and kept on duty.

From the front line trenches to the mothers left at home the Universal Service of Mercy must maintain a vast organization and spend tremendous sums in order to meet an almost overwhelming emergency growing out of United States' participation in the world war. Nor can the work be delayed one day. Bullets will not wait on tardy dollars. The man who offers his life on the battlefield for the defense of his country must not be left to bear the burden alone.

Why does the government not finance this relief work? The question is often asked. The American Red Cross is ranked as a neutral, as long as it is maintained by private subscriptions. The administration of the Red Cross can not be carried on as are the national naval and military operations. Relief work, also, must cut red tape, must be promptly ready for every emergency, must be governed by humanitarian principles and must not be hampered by the restrictions of governmental machinery. At the same time the Red Cross is the only relief agency formally authorized by the government. Its head is the President of the United States. Its accounts are audited by the war department. It is chartered by Congress. President Wilson declares:

"A large, well organized and efficient Red Cross is essential. It is both a patriotic and humane service that is rendered by every citizen who becomes a member of the American Red Cross."

Red Cross subscriptions need not be paid all at one time. One-fourth will be due July 1; one-fourth, August 4; one-fourth, September 1, and the balance, October 1.

A task as great as that of getting the subscriptions is to inform every man, woman and child of the purposes and emergency character of the campaign before Red Cross week, as proclaimed by the President, which begins June 18. Community committees are urged to have a forceful speaker present at every gathering whether small or large. Newspapers are called on for liberal space. Ministers are asked to present the subject to their congregations. Let every patriotic citizen speak of the campaign to every other person he or she meets.

In this world war some must give their lives, others their money. No patriot at home could bear to think that a patriot bled to death on the battlefield because he or she failed to contribute his dollar to the Red Cross. You have no right to say you are patriotic unless you give your utmost in service no matter what it may involve in personal sacrifice.

NEGRO MIGRATION DISCUSSED

Pittsburgh, June 13.—(U. P.)—The last day sessions of the Forty-Fourth Annual National Conference of Charities and Correction here were devoted to discussion of problems presented by increasing migration into northern cities.

Speakers at the "round table session" declared the "On to the Cities" movement among negroes has assumed large—perhaps threatening—proportions.

The general "farewell" session tonight will be devoted to "The Organization of Public Welfare Work of a State." Governors Brumbaugh of Pennsylvania, Lowden of Illinois, ### and Manning of South Carolina, will speak.

PORTLAND ROSE FESTIVAL

Portland, Ore., June 13.—(U. P.)—The annual Rose Festival will be formally opened tonight when President Wilson, at the White House in Washington, presses an electric button turning on thousands of electric lights at the festival center in Portland, 4,000 miles distant.

In keeping with the spirit of the times the festival which closes Friday, will be in the form of a huge patriotic demonstration.

Civic, business and patriotic organizations from numerous Northwestern cities are represented by marching clubs for the various parades.

In the Court of Patriotism, surrounded by a lavish display of roses, stands a large replica of the Statue of Liberty, made entirely of flowers.

A patriotic pageant, in which the growth of human liberty from the granting of the magna charta to the present will be symbolized is but one of many interesting features of the festival.

Goes to Iowa—
