TANGENT
Marvin Calloway and family, former residents of near Tangent, but now living at Waterloo, attended church and visited relatives and friends in Tangent Sunday.

Cooper Turner and wife of Lebanon, visited friends in Tangent Sunday.

Geo. Swank and wife of near Spokane, visited with relatives and friends in and around Tangent last week. They were both former residents of this immediate vicinity, but left here about thirty years ago. They were accompanied by their two daughters and came in their auto. They had a fine trip and will return home soon. Mr. Swank has 800 acres of grain, growing on his place.

M. F. Wood and family of Corvallis, passed through Tangent Thursday on their way to Brownsville to take in the Pioneers' picnic.

Tangent has been a very measly city for the last month or six weeks, as many as fifty cases at once; so far they have all recovered. Tangent is improving quite rapidly of late. On one street there are two new dwellings, a meat market and barber shop, the I. O. O. F. hall, which are all completed, and Mr. Bailey is now constructing a cement building in which he expects to keep a stock of farm implements, and machinery. The crop proposition in this vicinity look fairly good; fall grain is heading out but much of the spring grain is very small, especially for this time of the year. Young grain is making a vigorous growth and if there is rain at the right time there will be good crops.

W. C. Scott, the road boss, has been doing some good road work lately. He has put up some fine grades. Gardens are very late but look quite well, and with good cultivation will produce good results.

A good rain would be of much value to all growing crops, as the ground is beginning to look pretty dry.

Britain is putting its kitchens on a war basis. Food Administrator Hoover says America must do likewise.

Dreaded Two Things.
Nicholas Romanoff, late czar of Russia, dreaded two things—assassination and revolution—and neither was a vain fear. Since 1881, when he was assaulted and wounded by a Japanese named Saigo and escaped death only by the prompt action of Prince George of Greece, up to his abdication, there were thirteen attempts to assassinate him.

Swing Your Arms.
"Keep your hands in your pockets," says Dr. C. E. Page of Boston. "Keep swinging them as you walk. This is necessary to obtain needed and essential exercise when walking. Don't simply walk on your hind legs, but keep all four in some sort of motion, as nature intended you should do."

Trees.
Trees being associated with the best side of human life, none but the short-sighted and stupid will descend to estimate their worth upon a cordwood valuation.
