Apparently the enemy did not expect as powerful an assault and that it could break it down easily. The Berezany sector is being desperately defended because it is regarded as the key to Lemberg, fifty miles further northwest.

CITY NEWS

Portland People Here—Mrs. A. S. Manassa and children came down from Portland to attend the Round-Up. They are visiting Mrs. Ed Madison.

Sprains Ankle—Mrs. M. E. Bilyeu met with a painful accident Tuesday when she tripped and fell on a rope. Her ankle was sprained and she will be unable to get around much for a few days.

Rooms Scarce—The inability of a large number of visitors to obtain sleeping quarters during the Round-Up suggest the necessity of providing an information bureau for the next event of this kind. A bureau of this kind, it is suggested by one of the Democrat subscribers, could obtain a list of persons having extra rooms for rent and thus better take care of the crowd. Many of those who came to Albany were forced to sleep under the stars last night.

Sergeant Balantine Here—Sergeant Balantine, recruiting officer for the 3rd Oregon, has headquarters at Hotel Albany and will be in the city until Saturday noon. Anyone interested should call on him at that place.

Newspaper Men Visit—While it was not possible to meet all the newspaper men attending the Round-Up yesterday, there were representatives of the press here from all over the state. The success of the Round-Up was largely due to them, who were liberal in giving stories of the event in their home papers. Among those who made themselves known were Leland Gilbert, former city editor of the Democrat and now managing editor of the Morning Astorian, Astoria; E. R. Lockhart, Capital Journal, Salem; Mr. Bennett, Observer, Dallas; G. A. Alexander, Lebanon Express; Ronald Glover, private secretary of Congressman Hawley, representing the Salem Statesman.

Issued Fine Map—The Union Pacific Railroad company has just issued a fine map of the United States in folder form. There is much valuable information in the map which is useful to the travelling public. The company will mail copies on request.

Mrs. M. A. South and daughter, Lena, returned to their home at Independence, this morning after attending the Fourth of July celebration.

FOURTH OF JULY IS A SUCCESS

From Every Standpoint Big Celebration Yesterday Lived Up to Claims.

OVER 30,000 PEOPLE IN THE CITY YESTERDAY

Parade Was Feature and the Biggest Ever Held Here, Doing Credit to All.

It was the biggest Fourth of July that Albany ever saw. Never in the history of the city have so many people been in town. They came from all directions and from every part of the state. There were over 30,000 of them here in all. The Oregon Electric brought in over 1600 of that number on three special trains, two from Corvallis and one from Portland. The S. P. brought in nearly a thousand on one train from Detroit, and every other train arriving in the city was packed to the guards.

The city was literally swept off its feet and was taken by surprise by the invading hosts. No one expected so many people. But there was one little element that was not fully considered in reckoning with the hosts. This element was advertising. The Round-Up and 4th of July was the best advertised event ever held in Albany, and in the same ratio the crowd will be biggest. Next year everyone will know better and be more nearly ready for the occasion.

The parade yesterday morning was the biggest of its kind ever held here. Too much credit cannot be given those in charge.

J. A. Howard, chairman of the parade committee, was marshal of the day, and rode at the head of the procession. Then came the Corvallis Firemen's band, which did fine work all through the Round-Up and was greatly appreciated by the people of Albany and those attending the Round-Up.

Next came the militia boys marching proudly, followed by the G. A. R. in autos, the W. R. C. and the Spanish War Veterans. The Red Cross section was one of the striking features of the parade, a large number of fine looking ladies occupying a long string of cars. The standard bearer on horseback and the Red Cross ambulance added to this section.

The fire department, always a feature, showed up well. In the private floats there were many attractive features. The progress of Liberty from 1776 portrayed by a carefully worked out float, was presented by the Fortmiller company. Hauser Bros.' float was also attractive, as well as Minton-Gilbert's, and there were others that added.

Of course the main float was the car bearing Miss Isabelle Young, who made a beautiful Goddess of Liberty. The car was prettily decorated and the character was well presented. The Honor Guard girls made a fine appearance marching and were applauded along the line. They have learned much about marching and use the regular military formation.

There were so many other features about the parade that a stenographer would have been necessary to have recorded them all, but all were worthy of special notice if space would permit.

The parade ended at the public park where the program was held. Hon. Dan J. Malarky of Portland, made a stirring, patriotic appeal to the people, and was loudly cheered. In the afternoon the crowds divided between the city and the wild west show, and it is said by those who remained down town that there seemed to be more people left in the city than were at the Round-Up. It was a great day and one long to be remembered by Albany.

Fire Alarm—A fire alarm was turned in late yesterday afternoon from Susen's. A leak in an oil stove caused the blaze but it was put out before the fire company arrived.

NIGGER GEORGE
WINS BUCKING

Pendleton Negro Cowboy Gets Honors in Finals of Round-up and Wins Saddle.

JOHN TAYCHE IS BEST
ALL-AROUND COWBOY

Many Thrilling Events on Last Day Witnessed By Over 22,000 People.

With his white teeth gleaming in the sun, waving his hat at the grandstand, and his pink chaps flapping against "Arrah-go-wan," a vicious, twisty, horse from California, "Nigger George" Fletcher yesterday won the cowboy bucking horse championship in the finals of the Albany Round-Up. The crowd was with Fletcher all the way, and it is doubtful if the judges could have rendered a decision against him. The decision was fair in every respect, and Fletcher is the happiest man in town today. It is his first prize saddle, and a worthy one, too, from the shops of Power & Son of Pendleton.

Broncho Bob Hall, of Independence, who was another favorite during the show, was given second place, and Dan Thompson of Montana, was third. Babe Ewing of Prineville, who made the finals, did not get into the money. Arrah-go-wan, High Binder, Ponce Villa and Black Diamond were the horses picked to do the dirty work in the finals. Many good rides were also made in the semi-finals yesterday. A. C. Stannard of Oklahoma, putting a thrill into the proceedings by getting bucked off and the horse knocking over and breaking a motion picture machine and closely missing the operator.

The judges today figured up the totals and awarded the best all-around cowboy prize to Johnnie Tayche of Pendleton. The selection of the man for this honor was a difficult one. At first it looked like Buff Jones or Bob Hall would have it easily, but a final summary of the points showed Tayche to have 110. Fletcher 105; Hall, 100; Saunders, 95; Jones, 95; and Guy Ray, 90. The award is made on the basis of entry and winnings in the most different events.

Winners in the three-day events are: Pony Express—Hank Potts, Los Angeles, first; Chas. Reed, Pendleton, second; Jimmie Taylor, Pendleton, third.

Cowboy Relay Race—Bill McPherson, Pendleton, first; Chas. Reed, second; Jimmie Taylor, third.

Full-dogging—John Tayche, 38 seconds, first; Ed McGilvrey, 39 seconds, second; Art Bivens, North Yakima, third.

Trick Roping—Buff Jones, Lloyd Saunders.

Ladies' Relay Race—Bertha Blancett, first; Adelpia Verneil, second; "Goldie" Campbell, Lon Angeles, third. Goldie or Jimmie, is a boy with natural, long hair, who dresses like a girl and rode in the girls' races.

Ladies' Bucking Contest—Louise Thompson, Toppish, Wash., first; Bertha Blancett, Pendleton, second; Ollie Osburn, Union, third.

Flag Thieves—Two large flags were torn down from Worth's Department store and the real estate office of J. A. Howard last night and carried away. The matter has been reported to the proper authorities and in the event of their capture prosecutions will follow.

Elks, Attention—Only meeting during the month of July will be held tonight. Visiting brothers welcome. W. M. PARKER, Secy.

Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Lundeen of McClay, Oregon, returned home this morning, after attending the Round-Up.

NO ARRESTS, NO ACCIDENTS
DURING THE ROUND-UP

All Had Good Times in Quiet and Orderly Manner; No Booze Flowed.

Considering the fact that the largest crowds that ever filled the city, were here yesterday, the order was the best that could be desired. The special and regular officers handled the situation in splendid shape. There were no arrests for drunkenness during the three days.

The amount of disorderly conduct was nil. The cowboys here were gentlemanly, quiet and sober and the most austere church worker could find no fault in their conduct. The jitney dances were the boon to thousands of people in search of amusement and much pleasure was gained in this manner. The band and military club dance in the armory was crowded during the three days and last night the boys stopped playing from exhaustion with couples still on the floor.

It was an ideal Fourth, and not an accident nor an arrest was made upon the celebration.

SHEDD WOMAN INJURED IN AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT

The worst accident reported yesterday occurred four miles south of the city on the Tangent Road when Mrs. F. E. Morton of Shedd, was severely injured as a result of a collision between a jitney driven by Clayton Springer of Shedd, and a large Oakland auto with trailer from California. All the occupants of the Springer car were thrown out but only Mrs. Springer was hurt. She was taken to Dr. Bridgewater's office for attention.

The accident was plainly the fault of the California car which held to the center of the road and crowded the jitney too far to the right. Springer tried to shoot across to the opposite side of the road when it was too late, resulting in the accident. His car was badly broken and the big car got a radiator stove in. The tourists proceeded on their way and Mrs. Morton was brought to the city in Chas. Pugh's car.

In the Springer car were Mr. and Mrs. Morton and daughter, Ruby, and Tom Madison, all of Shedd, coming to the Round-Up.

CHARLIE CHAPLIN IS HERE AGAIN TONIGHT

Tonight at the Globe theatre two exceptionally strong features will be shown for the last time—Charlie Chaplin in "The Cure", and Sessie Hayakawa, supported by Tsuru Aoki and Vola Vale, in a powerful drama, "Each to His Kind."

Chaplin is said to be even funnier than ever in this picture, which shows him in a drink sanitarium, and the stunts that he pulls are sure cure for dull feelings. "Each to His Kind" is an exceptionally strong photodramatization, which will add to the laurels of this sterling star of the silent stage. The story was especially written for Mr. Hayakawa by the famous author, Paul West.

The action takes place in England and in far away India. Love, friction, disappointments, guile, doubt, jealousy, revenge, duplicity and ultimate triumph alternate in making this unique photoplay a most intensely interesting and entralling story.
