Comic Opera at Chautauqua

Boston Company of Twenty-four People With Special Orchestra to Appear In "Chimes of Normandie"

IN offering "The Chimes of Normandie," that prime favorite among the comic operas, to Chautauqua patrons the Ellison-White System has established a new precedent in operatic productions for Chautauquas in the West.

Operatic music has been in high favor in Lyceum and Chautauqua circles for several years. There have been condensations of familiar operas, given with small casts and few accessories, cuttings from operas, giving only particular scenes, and a host of individual and ensemble numbers from that wealthy field of music. Now comes a noteworthy effort to bring to the Chautauqua platform a full and complete production of one of the most popular comic operas ever produced, "The Chimes of Normandie." Not only is the cast large and competent, but the scenic and costume investiture, as well as the special orchestra, are all exceptional.

The Boston Chimes of Normandie Company of singers, direction Ellison-White System, were specially selected and coached for this production by Mr. George V. C. Lord, the Boston art and dramatic critic. Costumes are by Wolf Fordling of Boston, scenery by Martz, noted scenic artist of the Hub. This is a premier musical production of the first rank—as rich in plot and comedy as in melody.

CITY NEWS

Auxiliary at Oakville—

Mrs. Arch. Gould, Mrs. M. D. Wells, Mrs. R. C. Waller, Miss Edna Jones, and Miss Gordan Canfield, went to Oakville last night and organized an auxiliary to the Red Cross chapter. Eighteen members joined and the following officers were elected:

Mrs. H. B. Vickers, chairman; Mrs. E. P. Cunningham, treasurer; and Miss Susie Davis, secretary. An auxiliary was also organized at Harrisburg yesterday. Mrs. Dale was elected chairman and Mrs. Geo. Wilhelm, secretary.

Return to Woodburn—

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Soules of Woodburn, who have been spending a couple of days here, visiting at the home of Mrs. A. A. McClung, returned home last night by auto.

At Summer Home—

Mrs. Summerfield and daughter, Carol, left yesterday for Sunrise Beach, near Tacoma, to spend the summer at their summer home at that place. They will be joined later by Mr. and Mrs. Louie Summerfield.

Conducts Sewing Class—

Mrs. F. E. Livengood went to the Orleans auxiliary to the Red Cross chapter yesterday afternoon and conducted a class in sewing for military relief.

Five Eminent Artists Coming to Chautauqua

Smith-Spring-Holmes Orchestral Quintet to Be Heard

THE Smith-Spring-Holmes Orchestral Quintet has long been known among Chautauqua critics as one of the most talented Companies on the platform. It is a Company of five eminent artists, any one of whom could satisfactorily give a full afternoon or evening's entertainment.

Coyla May Spring is one of the best known readers of the middle West, having for several years headed her own Company. Clay Smith and G. E. Holmes are widely known as composers of band music, as well as brilliant artists on trombone, saxophone, flute and cornet. Miss Lotus Spring, as a cello artist, is of unusual ability, and Alma Forsythe, a violinist of wide experience in concert work.

ACTORS OUT OF A JOB.

No Matter How Discouraged, They Must Smile and Look Prosperous. In the American Magazine Walter Prichard Eaton says:

"Did you ever hunt for a job—any job? It isn't a form of indoor or outdoor sport that you would naturally choose, is it? It doesn't add greatly to your self esteem, your self confidence, the development of your powers, to come home tired and discouraged night after night. And player folk are peculiarly sensitive to such influences, or they would not be players. It is bad enough to rust in idleness, but it is worse to feel that you are not wanted or that you are forgotten or that you have to be judged by ignorant men, even by office boys, your chance even to earn a living depending on the tastes of those you often despise.

"Yet the actor or the actress must show none of this feeling. He or she must keep up a smiling front, must look prosperous and well dressed, youthful and charming, for the shabby actor has no chance at all. Walk along Broadway in July when the casts are being selected for the following season and observe the players on the sidewalks, conversing on the corners, coming out of the office buildings. The men are jaunty; they swing sticks they look just a shade too 'fashionable.' The women wear their prettiest frocks and always silk stockings. But sometimes you catch a worried look on their faces, a look even of apprehension. Alone, and a mask seems to drop. Not all of them go to the Knickerbocker for lunch—far from it. There are little cubbyhole lunchrooms where you will find these same swinging and silk stockings bearers of the banner of romance. They are hunting jobs, and some of them in vain."

A Link With Primitive Times. All ceremonial dances at court, in parliament, of learned societies and municipal bodies, field marshals' batons, gold and silver sticks, etc., are descended from the heavy fighting sticks and clubs of primitive savages. The chiefs always had the best carved clubs, which were the symbols of prowess and authority. The Australian boomerang and the Irish shillelagh are both uncles.—London Standard.

Birds Weigh Themselves.

An ingenious naturalist has been making the tomtits record their weight. In order to obtain the food which he places for them they have to alight upon what appears to be a twig, but is in reality the beam of a tiny scale. As they rest upon it so they register their weight, which averages about one-tenth of an ounce per bird—forty-eight tomtits to the pound.—Little Paper, London.

Fireproof Paper.

Patents have been taken out at various times for paper which is claimed to be proof against fire and therefore particularly suitable for documentary records. Most of these papers contain asbestos or a similar mineral fiber, with or without the addition of clays or metallic salts.—London Standard.

His Idea.

"I never give a letter of recommendation."

"That so? Why?"

"Well, I figure that the fellow who is good enough to be given my hearty endorsement is good enough to keep on the payroll."—Detroit Free Press.

Warned.

Betty—Jack says he will stop drinking if I marry him. Mrs. Wyse—Well, be careful, dear. It's easier for him to begin again than it is for you to get married.—Boston Transcript.
