SENTIMENT AND ASSASSINATION

It was a beautiful, quiet, bright day, somewhere in Belgium. "The sun seemed to be laughing at the world," said a German aviator, telling about it later. Several German airmen were being addressed by their commander. He spoke a few words, full of feeling, and ended with "God bless you, lads."

Then those lads started on their mission. They took their places in their airplanes, started their motors, rose lightly in the clear air, and were off like swallows toward the West.

A couple of hours later they were dropping bombs on one of the most populous quarters of London, blowing up schoolhouses and homes, blinding old men, tearing women and children to pieces by scores, scattering fire and blood and terror in the most hellish work wrought in the name of warfare.

That was what they were sent for. We seem to gather from the account of the German who told of the adventure that that was what the sun "laughing at the world" for. That was the purpose of the "God bless you" spoken so softly by the commander. It was a beautiful trip!

We have seen similar accounts of U-boat voyages.
 What can we make of such men? No wonder some of our newspaper writers with such exhibitions in mind, call the Prussians "sentimental savages."

MISFITS

By F. P. Nutting
 I had a pleasant visit one day this week with Wirt W. Saunders, a former editor of the Corvallis Gazette. Mr. and Mrs. Saunders have resided in Spokane about twenty years, prospering. They own a fine apartment house, besides a farm, have their car, and Mr. Saunders has done well in his law business. He was greatly interested in old-time Albany and Corvallis people. Mr. and Mrs. Alex Rennie, also former Corvallis people, have apartments in their apartment house. Mrs. Saunders' sister, Mattie, resides with them. Mr. Saunders says he and Mrs. Saunders weigh about five hundred, mostly Mrs. Saunders.

On the same floor, in the Hotel Spokane, the past two days have been Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Beckley and daughter, Alma, former Albany people, and Mrs. Beckley's sister, Mrs. Ott, of Everett, Wash., a visitor in Albany a few weeks ago. Mrs. Ott's daughter, Miss Dorothy, who spent several weeks at Albany a few years ago, is a clerk in the Owl drug store here. The Beckley's and Mrs. Ott left this evening on their return trip to Portland. Travelling through the dust with the thermometer above 100 in the shade in some places, is not the most agreeable thing in the world.

Lyle Bigbee, base ball celebrity, made a home run this evening, by striking me on the street in front of the hotel. He has been playing with Spokane this season, pitching and in the field. In over two hundred times at bat he has a record of 282, high for a pitcher. Included are three home runs, several three-base hits, and numerous two baggers. The Northwest League has run upon the rocks and the clubs have quit for the season. An effort to create a four-league club has also failed.

Seven days with the mercury over 90 degrees in the shade is some heat. It is not only a personal inconvenience; but it is bad on the crops, and, it is said, in some sections has dried things up in a serious manner.

Have met a good many more former Albany people than I anticipated when I came here. I find them like others, having a splendid fellowship for other former Albanians. No one ever leaves Albany without having a warm place in the heart for the people of that city, as well as for the city itself.

Gentle Reader, any time you get tired of these semi-occasional Misfits, let me know.

HOW LONG DOES IT TAKE TO CHARGE A BATTERY?

"The battery man who really knows his business," says Mr. Preston, the local Willard service man, "will never set a definite time for returning a battery he has taken to charge."

"It is impossible to tell how long a recharging job will take. A battery that has been neglected and starved may take from three to seven days of steady charging before it is back in working condition again. It may need a long period of slow-rate charging to bring the plates back again to a condition where even a normal rate of charge can be applied."

"On the other hand a battery that is just run down, that perhaps has been slowly drained by a dash-light for instance, and brought in for charging as soon as it showed of weakness—such a battery can be brought up again to full strength by an overnight charge.

"An old battery takes longer to recharge than a new one very frequently. A starved battery takes longer to recharge than one that has the same specific gravity that has merely become run down through being stored and forgotten."

SALTS IF BACKACHE AND KIDNEYS HURT

Drink lots of water and stop eating meat for a while if your bladder troubles you.

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and loggy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels; removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach sour, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water swells and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then set fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is a life saver for regular meat eaters. It is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful, effervescent little-water drink.
