The Only Shade Woven with a VENTILATOR

When mercury climbs and it is sizzling hot you can make your porch and adjacent rooms six to ten degrees cooler if you let us install an equipment of this new and exclusive invention in Porch Shades which is the ONLY PORCH SHADE made with a woven-in VENTILATOR. This illustration will faithfully convey the idea. It shows the only Shade made with a ventilator. It is always adjusted and its position is so arranged as to scientifically supply ventilation without draft. Ventilator experts call it the crowning act in Porch Shade invention. You will find a complete line of sizes on hand.

BESSIE LOVE TONIGHT IN "CHEERFUL GIVERS"

Bessie Love, assisted by the Triangle kiddies, will entertain with "Cheerful Givers," a Triangle picture, at the Globe theatre tonight. Orphans are always interesting and appealing, and when they are as pretty as Bessie Love, and as clever as the Triangle kiddies they are irresistible attractions.

Bessie is Debby, the daughter of Parson Deady, who is superintendent of a bankrupt orphanage. When Mrs. Grey, a wealthy society woman, catches her handsome son, Kenneth Harlan, flirting with "the kitchen vampire" she discharges that dimpled maid and sends to the orphanage for the "oldest boy," whom she intends to employ in the kitchen instead of a girl. But there is no "oldest boy" at the orphanage, so Bessie, to help out during the pecuniary stress, puts on a curly wig, boy's clothes and takes the position. She deceives Mrs. Grey, but not the son.

Humor and human interest fill the play. One of the most delightful situations occurs when a band of tiny orphans comes trooping to the Grey home one night on a rescuing expedition for their "little mother," Bessie. But they are so tired upon reaching their destination that, instead of rescuing her, she is forced to rescue them and tuck them in bed. Later they take an important part in bringing about the climax of the play.

WM. S. HART IN "THE DESERT MAN"

William S. Hart will appear in a somewhat different role than those he has lately portrayed when his new picture "The Desert Man," a Triangle production, supervised by Thos. H. Ince, is shown at Globe theatre, Sunday.

The star has earned the title of "the good bad man," but such characters as those in "The Gun Fighter," "The Aryan," and the "Devil's Double." As the desert man he is just as determined and just as quick with the six-shooter, but his strength and courage is founded on a splendid philosophy, a belief in himself and in the power of right.

Will Visit Relatives—
Miss Helen Plov went to Portland this morning for a couple of weeks visit with relatives.

AGED COUPLE INJURED WHEN AUTO LEAVES ROAD

Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Holmes and son, Fred, of North Albany, escaped serious injury last night when their auto plunged off of a seven-foot embankment two miles west of this city on the Corvallis road. Mrs. Holmes, who is 77 years old, was driving the car on the return of the party from Eugene. At this point in the road where it crosses the railroad track there is a turn at the top of the hill. Mr. Holmes turned too soon and ran the car off the bank. The machine staid upright, but the elderly people were severely bruised and cut by glass from the windshield. Dr. M. H. Ellis in attendance, does not anticipate internal injuries.

SOLDIER BOYS TREATED BY BUSINESS MEN

In appreciation for the courtesies extended to the late Elmer Church by the members of the Coast Artillery Corps, F. K. Church yesterday at 3:30 p. m. served to the members of the local company, ten gallons of ice cream and ten gallons of punch with wafers on the side. He was assisted in serving by Mrs. M. McAlpine and Laura Chambers.

CORVALLIS INTERESTED IN YAQUINA BAY IMPROVEMENT

The Corvallis Commercial Club has been interesting itself in the matter of getting government aid for Yaquina Bay and has received assurances from the Oregon delegation that it will fight the matter thru in every possible way.—Times.

A baby girl was born today to Mr. and Mrs. Roy Gedney at the Hospital.

Perfect Physical Poise.
For the perfect physical poise we don't need to study pictures in the modern magazines. The ideal form is well expressed in sculpture dating back to 500 to 600 B. C., when the Spartans were masters of Greece. These ancients, says Popular Science Monthly, carried themselves in such a way that the muscles, organs, circulation and even the brain and nervous system were braced in harmonious relationship. How can we attain the same poise in walking? Briefly, by setting the shoulders back and squaring them evenly, by carrying the chest high and well arched forward, by keeping the stomach in and the neck perpendicular, like a column, and by forcing the chin in.

Right From the Heart.
A little boy in the city followed the suggestions of his father (who somehow in the midst of "the turmoil" has managed to live for the good things of life and let the banalities which take up the popular attention alone that he keep a diary. The little fellow found it rather difficult to make records, not understanding that the human document must be beautifully simple. But one day he struck the keynote of life with just one bold, unconscious stroke: "This has been a fine day. Mother did not go anywhere all day."—Indianapolis News.

Canes of Rhinoceros Horn.
Probably some of the most expensive canes to manufacture are those from rhinoceros horns. Such a cane, when made of one piece of horn, often costs as high as $500. The high price is due to the expert treatment which the rhinoceros horn requires immediately after the beast has been slain.

Birds Will Come Back.
The strongly developed homing instincts of birds can be relied on to attach them to the neighborhood where they first saw the light, and the identical pairs which nest in the houses provided for them one year will often return the next season to enjoy the same bounty and protection.

Turneric Dye.
The turneric, which yields a yellow powder, grows over a considerable portion of the globe and is fairly abundant. It is used by natives as a dye for the fls. from which hammocks are woven for ribbons, cloths and the like.

Diplomacy.
Mrs. Brown—Those lovely flowers from your husband? Mrs. Jones—Yes, I let him have the last word this morning, and it scared him.—Boston Globe.

Dangers are light if they once seem light, and more dangers have deceived men than forced them.—Bacon.
