THE "DRAFT RIOTS"

Much excitement has been aroused by the news of "draft riots" of men arming themselves to resist military service and marching against towns with hostile intent. Oklahoma within a few days has furnished a rather alarming example. Reports from that state have told of mobs rising to raid ranches, burn bridges and sack villages. In the declared conviction that "this is a rich man's war," the rioters have announced they would rather "fight to the death at home than be killed in the trenches." This is bad—but almost negligible. It has attracted widespread attention for the very reason that it is so unusual. The rebels appear to consist chiefly of Indians and negroes, with a scattering of tenant farmers. They represent not the sober protest of any substantial group of citizens, of any locality or race, but rather the ignorant fears of vagabonds and criminals. There is vast satisfaction to be found in the fact that opposition to selective service, even in comparatively harmless forms of public demonstration, has been so trivial. A few hundreds out of more than a hundred millions! Or at most, a few thousands, if we include all those who, in any section of the country, have held meetings or parades of protest. And before war was declared we used to be told that millions would rise against a draft. If an exception ever proved a rule, these riots may be said to do so. They show, by contrast, the steady loyalty of the overwhelming mass of Americans. It is significant that nearly all the sporadic outbreaks are being suppressed not by military authority, but by voluntary action of private citizens in the localities affected.

When Brodie Bluffed Mitchell. Once when in England Steve Brodie, the famous bridge jumper, was in a party which included Charlie Mitchell, the prizefighter. Mitchell made some remarks derogatory to John L. Sullivan, to which Brodie rejoined with some sarcastic observations on the sprinting ability Mitchell displayed while in the ring with Sullivan. This angered the prizefighter, who knocked Brodie flat. As he scrambled to his feet Mitchell made another rush at him, but by then Brodie had a pistol in his hand and, thrusting it under his assailant's nose, remarked: "You think you're going to make a reputation off lickin' Steve Brodie, don't you? Well, you just hit me once and there'll be a lot in the papers about it, but you won't read it." That closed the incident.

BARRY TRYING TO STRENGTHEN CHAMPIONS

New York, Aug. 10.—The difference between the White Sox and the Red Sox—not to speak of other American League base ball clubs—isn't enough in the Red Sox favor to give Jack Barry any feeling of top-heaviness. For the first time in several years strenuous efforts are being made to strengthen the world's champions. Of course, all managers are always trying to add strength to their clubs, but real efforts to get any certain cog haven't been made in Boston American league circles for several years. At the start of the season Barry kept Agnew, a strong, heavy catcher, on the bench, and worked Cady and Thomas almost exclusively. He now has discovered that Agnew is the best of the three and the former Brownie is getting all the heavy work. Cady has been found to be too slow, and Thomas too much of a machine.

President Frazee recently made Clarke Griffith an offer for Catcher Henry of the Senators, but the Washington club couldn't see it that way at all. Barry is still combing the American League for surplus backstop material, but is having little luck.

Barry, by the way, is finding the life of a manager particularly trying. He has practically given up active play and is spending his time on the bench while Harold Janvrin does the second basing. Few successful playing managers ever have been noted in the majors. Probably the only recent exception was Miller Huggins of the Cardinals, and he has been much more successful since he abandoned the diamond.

Connie Mack is dissatisfied with his schoolboy wonder shortstop, Lawton Witt, and has displaced him in favor of a recruit named Dugan. Witt has not been hitting at the proper gait to suit the man who used to run that marvelous $100,000 infield.

OUR NATIONAL FORESTS.

They Are 153 in Number and Are Scattered Over Nineteen States.

Under authority of an act of congress passed in 1891 the president of the United States is empowered to set apart public lands bearing forests as public reservations. The primary purpose of the national forests are to insure continuous production of timber and favorable conditions as to flow of water. As means to these ends strict supervision is maintained over the sale of mature timber, and the forest areas are guarded against fire.

These areas are much used by campers, hunters and fishermen. "Recreation maps" are issued, which not only present maps of many of the national forests, showing towns, streams, roads and trails, but contain information pertaining to camp sites, fish and game, and campers' registers are kept at the headquarters of the forest supervisors.

The national forests, 153 in number, are scattered over nineteen states, Alaska and Porto Rico. All but two of these states, Florida and Michigan, lie west of the Mississippi. The total area of national forest land, excluding that of other lands within national forest boundaries, is 244,189 square miles. This area is nearly as great as that of the state of Texas, or of New England, New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland, District of Columbia, Virginia and West Virginia combined, or of Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin combined.

EAT ORANGES AT NIGHT.

Then You Will Sleep Soundly and Rise Happy in the Morning.

If you are troubled with sleeplessness or if you are restless at night, eat oranges before retiring. Oranges are the best sedative in the world. A man on the orange diet will never get rheumatism, and he will have no appetite for alcoholic liquors. Both apples and oranges cure the liquor habit.

Oranges, eaten before retiring, will make you sleep so soundly that you arise in the morning invigorated and refreshed, with the notion that you have been drugged with some potion that makes life all the happier and joyous. The acid of the orange will help purge you in case you need purging, and the sugar of the orange will sweeten your breath and your whole body. The coolness of the juice will reduce the fevers of your digestive tract, and you will be 1,000 per cent better off for the orange diet.

Orange buds and orange leaves steeped in hot water and made into a tea are also splendid sedatives. The orange was originally a berry in Asia. It was brought into Europe by Alexander the Great, and it has been greatly improved since Alexander's time, especially by the horticulturists of California.

The oranges are not growing here for nothing. They thrive here because nature intends them to be used by you as a food.—Los Angeles Times.

Well, you just hit me once and there'll be a lot in the papers about it, but you won't read it." That closed the incident.

Watches, Thick and Thin. Although some of the early watches were very small in circumference, they were thick, and the front and back fairly bulged so that they were more the shape of an apple than a cookie, which they really resemble today. The waferlike watch is an invention of very recent times, and the process of thinning it is even now going on. The obvious advantage of the thin watch is that it can be placed in the belt or pocket without making a bulge. If watches had always been worn round the necks they might still be spherical rather than disklike in shape.—Exchange.

SPECIAL FIRE PROTECTION NOTICE

This is to notify the citizens of Albany that there is a strict ordinance providing a fine for anyone burning trash, grass, or anything in the streets of the city or on lots in the restricted districts without a special permit from the Fire Chief, and anyone found violating said ordinance, will be arrested and fined. This is for your protection and must be obeyed.

Also clean up your basements, alleys, backyards, and all places where trash has accumulated, as the State Inspector and his assistants are coming this way to make a survey of the city, as to its cleanliness danger of fire, and fire protection, and your insurance will be based on this report, and even your standing as public citizens will be reported to the State Insurance Commissioner. Get busy, everyone, and work for a good, clean city.
