DOROTHY DALTON IN
"WILD WINSHIP'S WIDOW"

Dorothy Dalton, Triangle star, appears in "Wild Winship's Widow," a smart comedy written by John Lynch and produced under the supervision of Thomas H. Ince, which will be exhibited at the Globe theatre on Sunday.

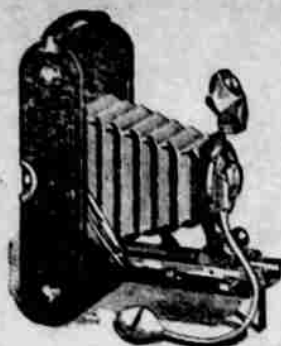

It is a play of gayety, smart clothes and courtships. The settings are of Virginia, including lovely mountain vistas, the imposing southern mansion set among gardens of flowers and tall trees and the spacious ballroom, where Dorothy Dalton as queen of the Hunt club ball presents the silver trophy cups.

The star appears in the first part of the picture as a weeping widow, ever devoted to the shrine of her late husband. Later she is transformed into a very witching widow intent upon enjoying life. The change in her disposition is due to a discovery that her hero had been a libertine, who had married her for her money. So
